ARBUCKLE TO BE TRIED ON MURDER CHARGE IN DEATH OF FILM ACTRESS

Announcement Made by District Attorney at Police Court Hearing After Conference With Police on Which Charge to Press.

HEARING SET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

40 Quarts Said to Have Been Provided and U. S. May Seize Film Comedian's $25,000 Auto.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—District Attorney Brady announced in the police court of Judge Sylvain Lazarus today that "the people are ready to proceed on the murder charge," against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, who is held responsible by the authorities for the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress.

The announcement came after a conference between Brady and police officials called for the purpose of deciding which of the four charges against Arbuckle would be tried. There are two murder and two manslaughter charges pending against Arbuckle.

The hearing which was set for today was a preliminary trial on the murder charge sworn to by Mrs. Bambina Maud Delmont, one of the guests at the Arbuckle party. Another murder charge was made by the police and manslaughter charges have been made by a Coroner's jury and the grand jury.

Judge Lazarus continued the hearing until next Thursday at 1 p. m.

Charge Can Be Changed.

Court officials explained that the murder charge could be reduced later in the trial court if the evidence does not justify its prosecution. The murder charge itself includes the minor charge of manslaughter and a trial can be had and a verdict returned on either charge even though murder is the only charge showing on the docket, it was explained.

Only those having business were allowed to enter the courtroom. A crowd of approximately 500, mostly men, assembled outside the courtroom before the session started, and a special police detail was stationed in the crowded corridors.

Many in the crowd were women. Among them was a committee from the Women's Vigilant Committee, an organization made up of club women, which has pledged itself to assist the authorities in every way in investigating the case.

Arbuckle entered the court room and surrounded by his attorneys, stood up at the counsel table during the brief session. A crowd of men tried to rush the courtroom door just before the hearing started, but were headed off by the police.

Frank E. Dominguez, chief counsel for Arbuckle, asked for a 10-days' continuance following Brady's statement. The District Attorney objected, saying five days should be sufficient.

"At the inquest into Miss Rappe's death you demanded a speedy hearing," Brady said, addressing the defense. "You also demanded a speedy trial, so why ask for such a long continuance? Why don't you put the defendant on the stand and let him tell his side of the case?"

Want Expert Evidence.

Dominguez explained that the defense found it necessary to obtain considerable expert evidence before going ahead with even the police court examination.

"If the defendant is willing to stay in jail until his counsel prepares his case, the people of the State of California should not mind," Dominguez said.

Prosecution of the murder charge automatically denies the defendant his liberty on bail, court officials explained.

Counsel for both sides conferred between themselves and Dominguez then announced that they would set next Thursday by stipulation for the preliminary hearing on the charge.

After the court session Brady announced that a representative of the District Attorney's office is to wait on the finance committee on the county board of supervisors today and ask that every financial demand on the county for the prosecution of the Arbuckle case be met promptly.

The manslaughter indictment against Arbuckle, voted by the county grand jury, was returned in the Court of the Presiding Superior Judge yesterday and the case assigned to the Court of Judge Harold Lauderback. Bail was set at $5000 cash or $10,000 bonds.

Cash Bond Provided.

A certified check covering Arbuckle's cash bail was deposited with Norman Welker, 2, Carried From Benton Park Lake to Office of Doctor, Who Saves Him.

Norman Welker, 2 years old, son of Joseph Welker, 2018 Salena street, fell into Benton Park lake at 12:40 yesterday, was taken out after being under the water about 3 minutes, and was resuscitated after 45 minutes.

The child was playing near the north end of the lake when he fell in. He was seen by a school girl, who called Carl Mathis of 2722 Henrietta street, who was near by. Mathis waded in and carried the unconscious child to shore and to a drug store at Arsenal street and Illinois avenue. From there the child was carried to the office of Dr. A. E. Turek at 2109 Arsenal street. Dr. Turek employed artificial respiration and other resuscitatory methods for 20 minutes before there was a sign of life. The child then began breathing faintly. At the end of 45 minutes he regained consciousness and was taken home.

MAN AND WOMAN ACCUSED OF RIDING TO WORK ON ONE FARE

United Railways Causes Their Arrest on Charge of Misusing Transfers.

The United Railways Co. today caused the arrest of Mrs. Emilie Temper, 32 years old, a widow, of 2211 Cherokee street, and Louis Zebrack, 28, of 3722A North Market street, on the charge of misusing transfers.

It is alleged that Zebrack for some time has taken a Wellston car every morning on his way to work in a shoe repair shop at 2204 Cherokee street, asking for a double transfer and transferring on the Jefferson car and at Cherokee street handing the second part of the transfer to Mrs. Temper. The arrests were made today after, it is alleged, the transfer was handed by Zebrack to the woman, who was on her way downtown to work.

The receiver of the United Railways has had inspectors at work for some time investigating the reported extensive use of double transfers to avoid payment of fares.

TWO MEN AND A BOY ELECTROCUTED ON FARM

By the Associated Press.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Sept. 16.—Edward Kemper, aged 58, Sidney Cozad, aged 47, a farm hand, and Ernest Hintermeister, aged 12, were electrocuted shortly after noon today at a farm south of this city.

Young Hintermeister was walking along the road when his attention was attracted by a high voltage wire which was burning the grass. He picked it up and instantly his whole body seemed to shoot off electrical sparks. Kemper and Cozad ran to his assistance. Both were shocked to death. K. C. Cozad rushed to free his brother and was knocked 25 feet but escaped serious burns.

BOYS HAVE BIG DAY ON $3600

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 16.—When John Stanula and Stanley Klinek, both 12, found a package under a news stand they decided it contained ice cream. On opening it, however, they found $3600. It was a big task to get rid of the fortune in one day but by being generous to their friends they accomplished the feat after buying two new bicycles, two new suits and all the candy and ice cream they could eat. Today the police had recovered $800 from friends of the boys and were hunting for the rest of the money which was lost by a bank messenger.

MRS. OBENCHAIN DENIED BAIL

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, indicted jointly with Arthur C. Burch for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was denied release on bail in the Superior Court today.

Counsel for Mrs. Obenchain moved that bail be fixed on the ground the prosecution had "no evidence connecting her with the slaying." The Judge ruled he had no right to go behind the grand jury's action in returning an indictment.

MAN WHO KILLED DOCTOR AT HAYTI TELLS HIS STORY

Jimmerson, Charged With Murder, Says Former Football Star Pursued Wife After Family Moved.

DECLARES LARGE BILLS AROUSED SUSPICION

Denies He Demanded $500—Brannon's Widow Asserts He Did Not Break Up Slayer's Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Sept. 16.—An affidavit charging Sherrill Jimmerson with murder in the first degree for the killing of Dr. L. H. Brannon, has been filed in a justice court at Hayti, Mo., and the trial will be set for the November term of the Circuit Court.

Dr. Brannon, formerly widely known as "Bull" Brannon, fullback of the St. Louis University football team about 14 years ago under Coach Eddie Cochems, was shot Wednesday while seated in a barber shop at Hayti, and died yesterday afternoon at a hospital at Memphis, Tenn.

Jimmerson says Brannon broke up his home. Brannon denied this to friends and said Jimmerson had demanded $500 as the price for dropping the matter. Mrs. Brannon says a note was pushed under the doctor's door the night before he was killed, threatening him with death unless he turned over $500 before 9 o'clock the next morning.

Denies Asking for $500.

Jimmerson, who was arrested after the shooting and is locked up here, said today:

"It is not true that I demanded $500 of Dr. Brannon as he claimed but I went to him like a man and asked him to stay away from my home unless I called him there." I had been suspecting something wrong for months. I just saw it from his actions. It was entirely too handy for him to practice on my family and every month I had a big doctor bill to pay and some of it I am sure was sham.

"I had asked him not to go to my home any more and he asked me why. I told him, for friendship, that it would do us both good if he stayed away. My little girl, 16 years old, told me what she saw and it was enough to make me crazy. I had made up my mind to go Caruthersville and have the law on him and he threatened me if I did. Not 15 minutes before the trouble happened, a friend told me that Dr. Brannon had a revolver on him. I had moved my family from Hayti, Mo., to try to break up this matter and he followed my wife to Pascola. All I ask of anybody is to tell the truth and I am not afraid of the consequences. I am satisfied with what I have done and any other man would have done the same when his home was ruined. My wife never denied the story and said she would not tell me a lie about it.

Jimmerson Has Four Children.

Jimmerson, who is 41 years old, is a native of Union City, Tenn., has been married 17 years and has four children. He has followed various occupations in this county for several years and bears a good reputation.

The dying statement of Dr. Brannon was that he was innocent and that he had been blackmailed. His body was sent this morning to Hayti for interment. Mrs. Brannon declares Jimmerson's accusation is false. She denounced the charge as blackmail pure and simple and said she would retain additional counsel to assist the Prosecuting Attorney.

258 MEN OUT OF JOBS SAIL TO HELP SPAIN FIGHT MOORS

150 of Them Are Former American Service Men—Will Join Spanish Foreign Legion.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—To the tune of "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here," blended with a babel of various national airs, 258 youths, including more than 150 former American service men, who have volunteered here for service in the Spanish foreign legion against the Moors, sailed down the harbor yesterday aboard the steamship Cadiz for Barcelona.

Leading the contingent was Sergt. W. J. Ball of Detroit, an American, who served during the war with the Canadian forces and wears four decorations, who goes with the assurance that when he reaches Spain he will receive a Captain's commission.

The men who are leaving home to fight under a foreign flag do not claim to see any glamour of romance in the expedition, but frankly say their inability to get jobs at home and the assurance of 59 cents and three meals a day are the impelling motives behind their action.

CUBAN TAXI DRIVERS WANT TO USE ALCOHOL INSTEAD OF GASOLINE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.

CUBAN taxi drivers have petitioned the municipality of Havana to lower the standard rate as they find they can cut existing charges one-third and still make a profit by substituting alcohol for gasoline, as motive power for automobiles, according to a report to the commerce department yesterday from Philander L. Cable, American Charge d'Affaires at Havana.

"A strong movement is taking place in Cuba," he said, "to replace gasoline as the motive power for self-propelled vehicles by alcohol. The alcohol is produced from the waste of sugar and is a Cuban product. The average cost of gasoline today is 50 cents a gallon, while that of alcohol varies between 30 and 35 cents."

AIR SERVICE CHIEF ASKS FOR TRANSFER TO FIELD COMMAND

Maj.-Gen. Menoher's Differences With Assistant Said to Have No Bearing on His Request.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Major-General C. T. Menoher, chief of the army air service, has formally asked Secretary Weeks for release from that office and transfer to command of troops in the field.

The request of Gen. Menoher, who has been head of the Air Service since late in 1918, is in the hands of Secretary Weeks, who has taken no action on it. The indications, however, are that the request will be granted.

Long existing differences between Gen. Menoher and Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the Air Service, are said to have no relation to the desire of the chief to be relieved. The request, Secretary Weeks said, was based on a desire by Gen. Menoher to be transferred from office duty to active field service. Menoher last spring asked that Mitchell be relieved.

Gen. Menoher, prior to his appointment as head of the Air Service to succeed John D. Ryan, was commander of the Forty-second, or Rainbow, Division.

PRESIDENT HARDING AND PARTY OFF DELAWARE CAPES

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Presidential yacht Mayflower, with President Harding and his vacation party aboard was reported off the Delaware Capes this morning in wireless messages to the Navy Department. The yacht, which left New York last night, should arrive in Hampton Roads early tonight. Plans of the President as given out before leaving New York contemplated a stop at Norfolk.

A moonlight trip down the river last night followed nine holes of golf on the West Point Military Academy parade grounds, a review of the cadets and inspection of the buildings. It had not been decided whether the President would reach Washington Sunday or Monday. A torpedo boat destroyer accompanied the yacht down the Hudson and through New York Harbor. The Mayflower then put out to sea alone, headed for the Virginia Capes.

Following the military review at the academy yesterday the President and his party, including Secretary of War Weeks, inspected the dormitory and mess hall. The chief executive expressed the opinion during the tour that the dormitory rooms, built for two cadets, lacked sufficient ventilation for the three or four youths now assigned to them. Mrs. Harding examined the kitchen where she saw huge kettles and pans filled with cooking food. The party was also entertained in the chapel with a pipe organ recital.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF $40,000 IN BONDS REPORTED

Securities Valued at $25,000 Missing From Bag That Was Handcuffed to Messenger.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Two mysteries involving the disappearance of $40,000 worth of Liberty Bonds are being investigated here by private detectives, it became known today.

Victory Bonds valued at $25,000 carried in a bag handcuffed to one of three bank messengers from the Harris Trust and Savings Bank mysteriously disappeared on Sept. 6, F. R. Elliott, vice president of the institution, announced.

Brokers who yesterday obtained a court order forbidding the transfer of $130,000 in stock certificates issued in the name of Robert Eckhart also asked that notice be posted that Liberty Bonds of $20,000 face value had been "lost or stolen."

10,000 TICKETS IN BASEBALL LOTTERY SEIZED BY POLICE

Discovery of Slips in Auto, Stopped by Detectives, Reveals Gambling Scheme on World Series.

THREE MEN ARRESTED DENY ANY WERE SOLD

Plan Was to Promise Prizes on Last Three Numerals in Gate Receipts Figures Published by Newspapers.

Warrants were issued today against Charles B. Jenkinson, 27 years old, 3325A Park avenue; Joseph Hlavaty, 22, 3729 Upton street, and Louis Tonkin, 22, 3729 Upton street, charging them with establishing a lottery based on the attendance at the world's series of baseball games.

Plans for the lottery were frustrated when Detective Sergeants Keeley and Robbins stopped an automobile at Thirteenth and Locust streets yesterday, in which were the three men and a quantity of lottery tickets. Later, at Hlavaty's home, 10,000 of the tickets were found. They were to have been sold at $1 each, but the men say none had been sold.

At the printing shop of A. W. Schmidt, 409 Walnut street, the form of type from which the tickets were printed was found. Schmidt was told to report today at the Circuit Attorney's office.

Labels on the Tickets.

The tickets were labeled "Five Day World Series Special." Prizes were to be awarded on the total gate receipts each day as reported on the sporting pages of the newspapers, the figures given by the majority of the papers to rule.

For the first three days the principal prize was to have been $300, which would have gone to the holder of the ticket whose last four numbers corresponded with the last four numbers of that day's attendance. For the fourth game the principal prize was to have been $500, and for the fifth game $1000, on the same basis. For each day there were to have been a group of other prizes, as follows: For the last four figures backward, $25; for the first number above and below, $20; for the second number above and below, $15; for the third number above and below, $10; for the last three numbers, $5.

Men Admit Participation.

The detectives say all three men admitted their participation in the plan. They expected, they said, to make some easy money. They said agents were to have been posted in large business concerns over the city. The lottery was to have been run on the same general plan used in the lotteries on clearing-house figures which flourished when the figures were printed daily.

Warships Accompany ZR-2 Victims Into New York

Flags in Harbor at Half Mast on Arrival of the Dauntless—Marines and Sailors Carry 16 Bodies to Chapel.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Escorted into the harbor by six American destroyers and five seaplanes, the British cruiser Dauntless arrived today with the bodies of 16 American officers and men who lost their lives in the ZR-2 disaster in England. The flags of the war vessels were at half-mast. Harbor craft dropped their flags to half-mast as the funeral ship passed.

The Dauntless docked at the navy yard and a guard of honor of marines and sailors received the flag-covered coffins and carried them to a temporary chapel, where services will be held tomorrow.

A memorial service in which high officials of the Federal, State and municipal Governments will have a part, has been arranged, the services to be attended by as many citizens as can be accommodated in the yard's inclosure.

At a near date one of the bodies, that of Lieutenant-Commander Emory W. Coil, will again be taken to sea, this time on an American warship, and somewhere off the coast will be consigned to the deep, in accordance with his wishes.

One American Survived.

The dead brought home today include all but one of the Americans who were on the dirigible when she was destroyed. The exception is Rigger N. Walker, who escaped death, but now is in a British hospital.

ALLEGED HANDBOOK CLEARING HOUSE RAIDED

Five Men Arrested and 10 Telephones and Telegraph Instrument Seized at 5302A Easton.

The police gambling squad this afternoon, in a raid on a flat at 5302A Easton avenue, arrested five men and confiscated a quantity of racing forms, a telegraph instrument and 10 telephones, which, they charge, were used in supplying information to racing handbook men operating in cigar stores and saloons throughout the city. Detective Sergeant Roach declared the place was a clearing house of information for the handbook men.

Those arrested are Walter Stapleton of 4029 Cote Brilliante avenue, Arthur Shader, who lives in the rooms raided; Roman Pfarrer, 3855 Lucky street; John Schaumberg, 3249 North Prairie avenue, and Thomas Bastavle, 5300A Easton avenue.

When the police entered the rooms, they reported, Stapleton was operating the telegraph instrument. There were five telephones in one room and five in another.

According to information obtained by the police, Shader sublets the apartments from a woman living at 5300A Easton avenue. Roach said the police had long known that an information bureau for handbooks was running, but had been unable to find it. Persons living in the neighborhood said it was running in the same place nearly two years.

THREE ARRESTED IN PAYROLL HOLDUP COUSINS OF MAN ROBBED

Police Believe Round Up in $95,000 Robbery at Kincaid, Ill., Is Complete.

By the Associated Press.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Sept. 16.—With three arrests here today police announced their belief that the round-up in the $95,000 Peabody mine payroll robbery at Kincaid, Aug. 13, is complete. Four men now are held as accomplices in the holdup of Frank M. Jones, a bank cashier, and Deputy Sheriff Jerome Lockhard, custodians of the payroll.

The three men arrested today are cousins of Deputy Lockhard. Their names are: Otis "Red" Lockhard of Nokomis; Wilbug ("Peg") Lockhard of Nokomis, and Jess Lockhard of Taylorville.

Suspicion was first cast upon the Lockhards with the appearance of sudden prosperity in Jess Lockhard's family, detectives who made the arrest said.

Jones was knocked down with the butt of a revolver by one of the bandits in the Peabody robbery. Jerome Lockhard, who was guarding the payroll, was uninjured, the detectives said today.

Investigation is being made in Macoupin County of Bert Milliken, held in the Carlinville jail as the alleged robber who held up the postoffice at Dorcester on Aug. 10.

According to Dr. Draper's diagnosis, made immediately upon Roosevelt's arrival yesterday at the Presbyterian Hospital from his summer home at Campobello, New Brunswick, he is slowly nearing recovery after suffering from the malady for four weeks.

Power to control the affected muscles of the lower legs and feet, Dr. Draper said, is beginning to return and Roosevelt's general condition and spirits are good.

"I cannot say how long Mr. Roosevelt will be kept in the hospital," Dr. Draper added, "but you can say definitely that he will not be crippled and that no one need have any fear of permanent injury in any way from this attack."

DE VALERA DEFENDS HIS STAND IN WIRE TO PREMIER

Expresses Surprise That Lloyd George Does Not See "Why Ireland's Cause Would Not Be Prejudiced if She Entered Conference Without Making Position Clear."

SITUATION WHERE IT WAS IN JULY

Lloyd George Has Called Off Inverness Meeting, but Has Left Way Open for Resumption of Negotiations.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Eamonn de Valera telegraphed Premier Lloyd George at Gairloch, Scotland, tonight, expressing surprise that the Premier did not see that Ireland's cause would be irreparably prejudiced if she entered the proposed conference without making her position quite clear.

De Valera's telegram said:

"I received your telegram last night and am surprised that you do not see that, if we on our side accepted a conference on the basis of your letter of Sept. 7 without making our position quite clear, Ireland's representatives would enter the conference with their position misunderstood and the cause of Ireland's right irreparably prejudiced. Throughout the correspondence that has taken place, you have defined your Government's position. We have defined ours.

"If the positions were not so definitely opposed there would indeed be no problem to be discussed. It should be obvious that, in a case like ours, if there is to be any result, the negotiators must meet without prejudice and untrammeled by any conditions whatever except those imposed by the facts as they know them."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Relations between England and Ireland today stand as they did before Eamonn de Valera came to London, on July 14, to discuss with Prime Minister Lloyd George a possible basis for ending the Irish controversy. The Sinn Fein leader yesterday made public his note to the Prime Minister affirming his stand that Irish republican plenipotentiaries could enter a conference only as delegates of an independent power, and Lloyd George quickly announced the cancellation of his invitation of Irish leaders to a parley at Inverness.

The Premier made it plain that he could not meet the Sinn Fein delegates if the claim of Irish independence and sovereignty was insisted upon, but he did not close the door to further exchanges with the Republicans.

There was no indication today that either the British Government or the Sinn Fein will renounce the truce arranged two months ago, and resume the guerilla warfare that cost scores of lives and destroyed property valued high in the millions. Warfare is the last thing either side desires, and no effort, apparently, will be spared to prevent any overt act that will place on either the responsibility for resuming hostilities.

Lloyd George is indisposed, and is confined to his rooms at Gairloch, Scotland, where he has been spending a vacation, and it is expected here that members of the British Parliament will confer with him before the Government takes further steps.

King's Physician Called.

Lord Dawson, physician extraordinary to King George, has been called to attend Lloyd George, who is suffering from a chill and neuralgia. A dentist also has been summoned.

It was announced at the Premier's official residence in Downing street last night, that it would be necessary for him to remain indoors a few days.

This morning the Prime Minister was reported as somewhat better.

When the Cabinet met on Sept. 8 a committee was appointed to deal with any situation which might develop as a result of exchanges with Dublin. It consisted of Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain, Earl Curzon, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Winston Spencer Churchill, Edward Shortt, Robert Munro, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Hamar Greenwood and Sir Robert Stevenson Horne. These Ministers left Inverness for various parts of Scotland and England immediately after the Inverness meeting, and Arrival here today of Champion Charles ("Chick") Evans of Chicago will complete the field of approximately 150 golfers, who will compete in the twenty-fifth annual National Amateur Championship, which will open at the St. Louis Country Club tomorrow morning with a preliminary qualifying round of 18 holes, medal play.

Contestants will be started in pairs at five-minute intervals, the first two players leaving the first tee at 8:10 a. m., and the final pair at 2:35 p. m., which will enable the field to finish the day's play by about 5 p. m.

(Editor's Note—The list of pairings for tomorrow is published on page 8 of today's issue.)

The list of title contenders includes Evans, the present champion, who also won first honors in 1916, five other former American champions, the present British amateur champion, a former champion of Scotland, the present Canadian champion and stars from every section of the United States.

Former Champions to Compete.

The five former United States champions who will compete are H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., who won the title in 1904 and 1905; Jerome Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., 1907, 1908, 1912 and 1913; Robert Gardner of Chicago, 1909 and 1915; Francis Ouimet of Boston, 1914, and S. Davidson Herron of Chicago, 1919. W. C. Fownes of Pittsburg, who was champion in 1910, had to cancel his entry because of an operation.

William I. Hunter, a postal clerk from Deal, England, and present British amateur champion, has been here for ten days practicing and is considered a formidable contender for Evans' title. Thomas D. Armour, former champion of Scotland, also has been here for several days and is considered a dangerous opponent. Frank Thompson of Toronto, Canadian amateur title holder, has been here since Wednesday.

Northwest Contingent Here.

Every section of the United States will be represented by a strong contingent. Ten players from the Pacific Northwest, headed by Chandler Egan and including Seattle, Portland and Northwestern champions and former champions, have been here for a week. Salt Lake City sent George von Elm, youthful Transmississippi champion.

Other notables are Jess Guilford of Boston, considered the longest driver in the East; Biggerstaffe Wilson of Victoria, B. C; Bobby Jones, youthful star from Atlanta, Ga., who ranks with the best in the country, though he is not yet 20 years old; Jesse Sweetser of New York, intercollegiate star, who learned golf when a boy at the Normandie Club here; Rudolph Knepper of Sioux City, Ia., another youthful golfer of national reputation.

The preliminary round tomorrow will reduce the field to 64 players, unless there are ties for the sixty-fourth best score, in which case all ties will qualify for the second qualifying round, which will be played Monday and consist of 36 holes, medal play. The 32 best scores of Monday will qualify for match play, which begins on Tuesday. In case of ties for the thirty-second place, the players will play off the tie Monday afternoon.

16 Matches on Tuesday.

Tuesday there will 16 matches, each 36 holes, which will reduce the field to 16 players. Wednesday there will be eight matches, Thursday four matches, Friday two matches and Saturday the final match for the title. All matches will be 36 holes, 18 in the morning and 18 after lunch.

As has been told, the public will be admitted to the Country Club grounds without charge. Arrangements have been made for the comfort of the public. Lunch and soft drinks will be available. There will be free parking space for automobiles, a large tract west of Price road, within the club grounds, being open to the public.

Only players, officials and guests with proper credentials will be admitted to the clubhouse for members and accredited guests, players and officials.

De Valera's Note to Premier and Latter's Reply Canceling the Conference at Inverness

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 16.

FOLLOWING is the text of De Valera's letter to Lloyd George on the proposed conference at Inverness and that of the British Premier's reply:

DE VALERA'S LETTER.

We are unhesitating in declaring our willingness "to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire can best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations."

Our readiness to contemplate such an association was indicated in our letter of Aug. 24. We have accordingly summoned the Dail, that we may submit to it for ratification the names of the representatives it is our intention to propose. We hope that these representatives will find it possible to be at Inverness on the date you suggest, Sept. 20.

In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our position is and can only be as we have defined it throughout this correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or powers to act on behalf of our people.

As regards the principle of government by consent of the governed, in the very nature of things it must be the basis of any agreement that will achieve the purpose we have at heart—that is, the final reconciliation of our nation with yours.

We have suggested no interpretation of that principle save its every-day interpretation, the sense, for example, in which it was understood by the plain men and women of the world when on Jan. 5, 1918, you said:

"The settlement of Europe must be based on such grounds of reason and justice as will give some promise of stability. Therefore it is that we feel that government with the consent of the governed must be the basis of any territorial settlement in this war."

These words are the true answer to the criticism of our position which your late letter puts forward. The principle was understood then to mean the right of nations that had been annexed to empires against their will, to free themselves from the grappling hook. That is the sense in which we understood it. In reality, it is your Government when it seeks to rend our ancient nation and to partition its territory, that would give to the principle an interpretation that would undermine the fabric of every democratic state and drive the civilized world back into tribalism.

I am, sir, faithfully yours,
EAMONN DE VALERA.

LLOYD GEORGE'S REPLY.

I informed your emissaries who came to me here Tuesday that reiteration of your claim to negotiate with his majesty's Government as the representative of an independent and sovereign state would make a conference between us impossible.

They brought me a letter from you in which you specifically reaffirm that claim, stating that your nation "has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state, and it is only," you added, "as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians, that we have any authority or powers to act on behalf of our people."

I asked them to warn you of the very serious effect of such a paragraph and offered to regard the letter as not delivered to me in order that you might have time to reconsider it. Despite this intimation you have now published the letter in its original form. I must accordingly cancel the arrangements for the conference next week at Inverness, and must consult my colleagues on the course of action this new situation necessitates. I will communicate this to you as soon as possible, but as I am for the moment laid up here a few days' delay is inevitable. Meanwhile, I must make it absolutely clear that his majesty's Government cannot reconsider its position, which I have stated to you.

If we accepted a conference with your delegates on the formal statement of the claim which you have reaffirmed, it would constitute an official recognition by his majesty's government of the severance of Ireland from the Empire and of its existence as an independent Republic.

It would, moreover, entitle you to declare as of right acknowledged by us, that in preference to association with the British Empire you would pursue closer association by a treaty with some other foreign power. There is only one answer possible to such a claim as that.

The great concessions which his Majesty's government made to the feeling of your people in order to secure a lasting settlement deserved, in my opinion, some more generous response, but so far every advance has been made by us.

On your part you have not come to meet us by a single step, but have merely reiterated in phrases of emphatic challenge the letter and spirit of your original claim.

I am, yours faithfully,
LLOYD GEORGE.

LEAGUE ADMISSION FOR ESTHONIA AND LETVIA APPROVED

Political Committee Makes Report on Two Prospective Members—Hungary and Lithuania Are Held Up.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 16.—General debate on the work of the League of Nations was resumed by the assembly of the league today. The political committee decided yesterday to approve of the admission of Letvia and Esthonia to the league. The application of Lithuania is being held in abeyance until after a report is submitted as to the dispute between that country and Poland, relative to Vilna. Hungary's application will be considered next Friday.

The resolution recently proposed by Lord Robert Cecil asking the council of the league to give greater publicity to its proceedings was adopted by the assembly.

Prof. Askenzy, Polish Ambassador to Great Britain, closed the morning session with an expression of his country's sympathy with the work being done to aid the famine sufferers in Russia.

The membership of the League of Nations will be increased to 50 if the assembly adopts the recommendations of the Political Committee, which yesterday decided to approve the admission of Letvia and Esthonia.

Americans on Payroll.

Hungary's application will come up when Count Appony arrives to furnish all necessary information to the commission. The Political Committee also decided to recommend to the Supreme Council the inclusion in the eventual peace treaties with Turkey a clause safeguarding the interests of Armenia.

The Finance Committee, which is scrutinizing the expenditures of the secretariat as well as the Labor Bureau, yesterday asked Albert Thomas, head of the Labor Bureau, how it happened that, although the United States is not a member of the league, he had a number of Americans on his payroll.

"I found some remarkably capable men in the United States," M. Thomas replied, "and if I can find more like them I will take them on, wherever they come from."

The preponderance of British and French on the secretariat and the labor bureau is being severely criticised by the representatives of the smaller states. The committee will probably recommend that in so far as possible all states represented in the assembly shall have proportionate representation in the executive organization.

The assembly and council today approved the choice by the joint conference committee of the two bodies of Judge F. V. N. Beichmann of Norway as the fourth deputy judge of the permanent international court of justice.

President Van Karnebeek of the assembly congratulated the delegates on the final accomplishment of organization of the court. The assembly decided to send telegrams to the heads of all the states announcing the achievement of an event "of such historical and moral importance."

The league has sent cable messages to all the elected members of the court asking them to send their formal acceptances not later than Sunday next. It is expected that all will accept. When the acceptances are received the secretariat will call a meeting of the judges at Geneva for some time in October.

The judges will adopt their rules and make all other arrangements for the inauguration of the court. The secretariat is already busy assembling the material which the judges will want at their preliminary session.

POLICE VIGILANCE MAINTAINED ON ANNIVERSARY OF EXPLOSION

Cause of Wall Street Disaster, in Which 40 Were Killed, Still a Mystery After a Year.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Extraordinary vigilance was maintained by police on duty in the financial district today on the anniversary of the Wall street explosion of 1920, which cost 40 lives and resulted in injury to more than 100 persons and property loss of thousands of dollars. The steps taken were purely precautionary, it was explained.

With the expiration of a year, the cause of the disaster still remains a mystery. The general belief is that the explosion was that of a bomb prepared by radicals, although an accident theory was advanced, as well as a theory that it was an outgrowth of a building trades war.

All the public ever learned was that a dilapidated wagon, loaded with a high explosive and drawn by a decrepit old horse, pulled up in front of the United States Assay office a few minutes before noon and the driver disappeared. At 12:01 o'clock, when the skyscrapers were pouring out their noonday thousands, the explosion let go with a roar that shook all of lower Manhattan.

ASKS THAT $200,000 ESTATE BE DIVIDED AMONG 12 HEIRS

C. M. Readey Sues to Set Aside Trust Formed Under Will of John B. Hogan.

Christopher M. Readey of 1405 Missouri avenue, today filed suit in the Circuit Court, asking that a trust created under the will of his uncle, John B. Hogan, who died in June, 1918, leaving an estate of an estimated value of $200,000, be set aside, and that the estate be distributed among eight nephews and four nieces and other heirs.

The petition recites that the estate was placed in trust with the Mercantile Trust Co., and William B. Readey, for a period of 20 years, after which it was to be distributed. Within the 20 years, the will provided aid to the extent of $1000 should be given to "any relative up to the third generation who was sick or needy." It is alleged there are no relatives who would come within the classification fixed in the trust.

LONDON PAPERS SURPRISED BY DE VALERA NOTE

Disappointment Expressed by Some Organs Over Irish Leader's Insistence on Sovereignty.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Surprise and disappointment are expressed by most of the morning newspapers today over Eamonn de Valera's reply to Premier Lloyd George, but hope generally is expressed that the wiser counsels will prevail to prevent a break in the truce and at the same time give the Irish people a chance to be consulted as to their wishes.

The London Times thinks a situation of the utmost gravity has arisen. "There can be no question," says this newspaper, "of the sincerity of the Government's desire to make an Irish settlement; nor is there reason to doubt that they have gone to the utmost limit which this country would sanction."

The Times adds that Lloyd George's action in the circumstances is not lightly to be questioned. It expresses the hope that "dark though the outlook be, it is not even now necessary to despair."

The Daily Telegraph expresses disappointment over De Valera's letter, "for there seemed to be a chance that the point had been reached at which Mr. de Valera and those acting with him would find it advisable to come down to earth with realities."

Belief is expressed by the Daily Telegraph that the Dail Eireann bases its attitude on the results of the past Irish election, by which the nation declared its independence; but it asserts that a change in the mind of the electorate has occurred and the Irish people are now ready to surrender their demand for an independent republic, but that De Valera and his associates are unable to drop their independence policy without involving themselves in contempt and ridicule.

"The arrangements for the conference are canceled," says the Daily Telegraph. "Meanwhile the Irish people are free to mediate on the results achieved by handing over their political destinies to the keeping of the active spirits of the Sinn Fein."

The Manchester Guardian says the important thing to recognize is that a "breakdown" and not a break-off has occurred in the Irish negotiations. The newspaper expresses regret that Prime Minister Lloyd George adopted a "venerable formula" and did not put "the most favorable construction" on De Valera's words.

"The Sinn Fein position was stated without its acceptance being asked," the newspaper asserts, "but that need not have been taken as a bar to the conference. It is impossible for the moment to admit a claim which would compel the treatment of Irishmen as aliens, but the conference would be for a much more practical purpose — to discover whether we can reconcile the fullest demands of practical liberty for Ireland with the status of a British dominion, closely examined and clearly defined. It would be lamentable if on a point of form and not of substance the opportunity for an agreement should be lost."

Liquor Inquiry in Arbuckle Case at Los Angeles.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 16.—More than 40 quarts of liquor were consumed in the three-day party in Roscoe C. Arbuckle's suites in a San Francisco hotel that ended with the fatal illness of Miss Virginia Rappe, according to information given Federal officials here last night by Frederick Fishbach, a member of the party, it was announced by Robert Camarillo, Assistant United States District Attorney.

Fishbach's statement, which was taken down by a stenographer, was given in the presence of Cam E. Forest Mitchell, Federal Prohi tion Director for California; J. Rob ert O'Connor, United States Distr Attorney for Southern Californ and other Federal officials, acco ing to Camarillo.

Twenty bottles of whisky, Cam rillo stated, Fishbach told were taken in Arbuckle's car Los Angeles to San Francisco, while he was at the hotel a case gin was taken to Arbuckle's suite a "tall, thin man," and other by "a dark stranger."

The officials stated that if Fish bach's declarations were substan tiated, Arbuckle's automobile, said to be valued at $25,000, would b confiscated under the terms of the Volstead act.

Arbuckle in an interview pub lished here yesterday declared had ordered a reservation on a train to Los Angeles for tonight and th he was going back to his home.

Arbuckle, according to the article said he intended to go back in pictures, and that the case would clear up as soon as the public knew about it. He said there were a num ber of people at the party whose names had not been mentioned, some from Los Angeles of considerable prominence. He said he would like to tell about it and would give the full details of the party and all the names at the trial.

This was the first statement made by Arbuckle for publication since his arrest. He said he could not understand why the newspapers printed so much about the case and anxiously inquired what public sen timent was. Explaining the ordered reservation, he said his attorneys were arranging it. Arbuckle had evi dently expected to be released on bail.

Sherman, motion picture actor guest at the Arbuckle hotel party in San Francisco on Labor day, was re leased from a contract with a large motion picture production company here, it was announced yesterday.

it would take several days to gather them for a conference on the present critical situation.

Parliament Subject to Call.

The British Parliament adjourned Aug. 19, until Oct. 18, but Prime Minister Lloyd George announced that if negotiations with the Sinn Fein broke down and the position became hopeless, the Speaker of the House of Commons would be empowered, after consultation with the Government, to summon Parliament on 48 hours' notice.

De Valera's Note Studied.

Two points made by De Valera, in his note to Lloyd George, are examined by those trying to determine what plan the Republicans have in mind. The first is the statement: "Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself a sovereign state, and it is only as representatives of that state and its chosen guardians that we have authority and powers to act in behalf of our people."

It is suggested that the Dail Eireann might intend to go to the Irish people with the question, and seek to determine by a plebiscite what the desires of the people are. The result of such a plebiscite would, it is pointed out, either confirm the stand made by the republican leaders or would give them a mandate to waive the demand for separation and enter a conference with the British Government. There has been a strong party in Ireland that has been urging an election to determine the steps to be taken, there being a number of men in the councils of the Sinn Fein who have believed it would provide a means for accepting the British Government's offer of dominion status.

Reference to Separation.

The other sentence which attracted attention is the one referring apparently to the separation of Ulster and Southern Ireland, and it is considered possible that new efforts will be made to approach the Ulster Government with a view to reaching a working agreement and then approaching the British Government once more.

The Belfast correspondent of the press association says the Irish News of that city printed a message from a well-informed Dublin source to the effect that the Government contemplates an early reassembly of the British Parliament. This step would be taken, it is said, to declare a general election so a new Government might be formed which would be invested with the right to formulate domestic policies and appoint delegates to the conference on limitation of armaments to be held in Washington.

"In this event," the correspondent adds, "the masses of the Irish people may get an opportunity of giving a considered verdict on issues most vitally affecting their own country."

Harry M. Nacey of Chicago declared in his testimony that an absolute monopoly existed in the sprinkler industry, controlled by the Fire Protection Survey Bureau of Chicago, an organization controlled by the Automatic Sprinkler Co., the Globe Automatic Sprinkler Co., H. G. Vogel & Co., the Independent Aetna Co., the Rockwood Sprinkler Co., the Grinnell Fire Extinguisher Co. and the General Fire Extinguisher Co.

Nacey testified that the organization allotted the jobs to its members, controlled the bids and fixed prices. Ninety-seven per cent of the business throughout the country, he said, was apportioned between five of these companies. He also charged that an understanding existed between the combine and the Sprinkler Fitters' Union whereby independent concerns experienced difficulty in getting labor.

C. L. Wagner, secretary and treasurer of the Central Terra Cotta Association, testified that the firms affiliated with that organization do all the business in the country with the exception of the Advance Terra Cotta Co., an independent Eastern concern, and a few independent companies on the Pacific Coast.

SIX MEN ENTOMBED IN MINE

Force of 50 Working in Attempt to Rescue Them.

By the Associated Press.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 16.—A force of 50 men, working in relays, was exerting every effort to rescue six men entombed yesterday in the Wilson Creek mine of the Hudson Coal Co. at Carbondale.

The men were engaged in second mining or pillar robbing in a section of the mine which is said to be very dangerous. When they blew away the pillar, the roof caved in, blocking the exit. Driving a hole through the mass of rock which blocks the passage way is slow work, and officials of the company entertained no hope of reaching the men before this morning.

SUES FOR $100,000 DAMAGES

Floyd E. Deal this afternoon filed suit in the Circuit Court asking $100,000 damages from Maurice Altheimer, whose address was given to the Sheriff as 4107 West Pine boulevard. Deal alleges in the petition that Altheimer associated with his wife, though the petition does not allege alienation of affection. According to Deal, he was married Feb. 28, 1918, and he and his wife separated July 14, 1918.

Altheimer could not be reached for a statement.

SALVATION ARMY SEEKS PERMIT TO MEET AT 6TH AND CHESTNUT

Services at Corner Stopped by Police Because of Objections of Some Property Owners.

The Salvation Army is today seeking to obtain signatures of a majority of the property owners in the neighborhood of Sixth and Chestnut streets, indorsing meetings of the Salvation Army held at that corner, with a view to obtaining a permit for such meetings.

The organization has held meetings at that corner in the evenings for two years, but Wednesday evening were stopped by the police at the instance of certain property owners who complained of the noise caused by the meetings.

One of the objectors was a man said to have represented the Garrick Theater, but the proprietors of that playhouse last night signed the Army's petition, with the understanding that the meetings be held from 7 to 7:45 p. m., so as not to interfere with the theatrical performances which start shortly after 8 o'clock. The Army has been holding services there without a permit, and hopes to have enough signatures of property owners to obtain one today.

$4000 DAMAGES AND INJUNCTION AGAINST ICE PLANT SOUGHT

Owners of Flat Near Factory Allege That It Is Injured by Smoke, Soot and Steam.

James and Mary Myers, owner of a two-family flat at 1217 Palm street, filed suit in the Circuit Court today to enjoin Theodore V. Mertens, owner of an ice plant at 3143 North Thirteenth street, from continuing to operate the plant without such appliances as will keep smoke, soot and steam from flying about the neighborhood.

They say they have trouble to keep their flats tenanted on this account. They ask $4000 damages.

$30,000 BOND FOR TURCHINSKY

Judge Hall Sets Figure for Man Who Killed Pomerantz Couple.

Judge Hall in the Criminal Court yesterday fixed the bond of Frank Turchinsky, charged with first degree murder, at $30,000. The Circuit Attorney's office has been opposing acceptance of bond for Turchinsky, who shot and killed Sam Pomerantz and his wife Sadie Pomerantz in a shoe repair shop at 1115 North Twenty-first street Aug. 28.

In explanation of fixing a bond for Turchinsky, Judge Hall said he did this because several months ago, when he refused bail to Charles Fleischkamp, charged with first degree murder, the State Supreme Court overruled him and fixed Fleischkamp's bond at $5000.

THREE FLIERS KILLED IN FALL

Observation Plane Crashes 150 Feet at Dallas Field.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 16.—Lieut. James F. Armstrong and two enlisted men, Sergts. Gibson and White, from Post Field, Fort Sill, Ok., were killed at Love Field, Dallas, this afternoon when a big army De Haviland observation plane in which they were flying went into a spin at an altitude of about 150 feet and crashed to earth.

The machine burst into flames just as it struck the ground and the bodies of the three men were badly burned.

PROTECTION FOR STRAW HATS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The open season on straw hats was closed abruptly today by Magistrate McQuade. If his warnings have effect New Yorkers may wear them even until Christmas, immune from destruction. He announced that hereafter any smashers of straw headgear would be given the extreme penalty for felonious assault or larceny and sent to the workhouse. As a warning one young man, who kicked a hat around, was fined $5.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The field officers' artillery school was today ordered transferred by the War Department from Camp Knox to Camp Bragg, N. C., where it was previously located. Camp Bragg will be given its old status of operation and supply and orders recently issued placing it under the commanding General of the Fourth Corps area, at Fort McPherson, Ga., were ordered revoked by Secretary Weeks.

"MOTHER GOOSE" STOCKHOLDER SUES BROKER AND HIS FIRM

High School Teacher Asserts W. L. Schachner Promised to Refund Her Money if Desired.

Miss Ida E. Stallings of 5463 Vernon avenue, a teacher in Soldan High School, today filed suit against W. L. Schachner and the W. L. Schachner Brokerage and Investment Co., for $500. She alleges that in November and December of last year she invested $500 in the stock of the Missouri Sweets Distributors, operating the Mother Goose candy store at Seventh and Olive streets.

She shows a letter which she says she received last December from Schachner, containing a promise to take the stock back at the price paid, in six months, if it should not prove satisfactory. The letter says this is an unusual guarantee for a broker to make and is given because of the writer's confidence in the stock.

She says she has found the stock of no apparent value, and that she has asked that her money be returned, but that this has not been done.

350 PARK DEPARTMENT EMPLOYES LAID OFF

Commissioner Says Some May Be Reinstated in Two Months After Deficit Is Made Up.

The city Park Department yesterday served notice to 350 employes, mostly laborers, that their services no longer were required. The notice was described as a "lay-off," not a discharge, and Park Commissioner Pape today said it might be possible to reinstate most of the employes in about two months.

Of those laid off, 150 were employes of the Recreation Division. Employes in this department are always laid off Sept. 15, so that in dropping them now there has been no departure from custom. The net result is that 200 employes usually carried through the winter season have been suspended because of lack of city funds.

Commissioner Pape about three weeks ago called attention to the fact that the Park Department expenditures for the current fiscal year had exceeded the appropriation by about $76,000 and that a curtailment of the payroll account would be necessary to make up this deficit. He estimates that the lay-off announced yesterday will save the city $40,000 a month in wages and that on that basis it will be possible to reinstate the employes in about two months.

BOY ESCAPES FROM JUVENILE COURT UPON BEING SENTENCED

Raymond Tipton, 15, Leaps From First-Floor Window and Disappears in Railroad Yards.

Raymond Tipton, 15 years old, of 1124 Paul street, escaped from the Juvenile Court room in the Municipal Courts Building today by jumping from a first-floor window, just after Judge Calhoun had sentenced him to be confined at the Boonville Reform School until the age of 21. He was charged with incorrigibility.

The window overlooks a grass terrace and is about 10 feet from the ground. The boy had been sitting on a bench near this window. A Deputy Sheriff in the courtroom saw him climb to the sill. When court attaches ran out the boy had disappeared. They were told he ran south toward the railroad yards.

HURRICANE SWEEPS BERMUDAS

Three Hotels Unroofed at Hamilton and Other Damage Done.

By the Associated Press.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Sept. 16.—Much damage has been done to hotels in Hamilton by the hurricane which has been sweeping the Bermuda Islands since Wednesday night, says a cable message from Hamilton today.

The Belmont, Point Pleasant and Colonial Hotels have been unroofed and the Hamilton Hotel grill demolished. Electric light and transportation service has been disorganized and communication disrupted. Many small boats have been sunk or driven ashore.

MAN WHO FELL OFF TRUCK DIES

Painter Went Back to Work After Accident.

Henry Huncke, 43 years old, of 2714 University street, St. Louis, a painter, died at 6 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's Hospital, in East St. Louis, from injuries suffered yesterday morning when he fell from a truck on which he was riding at Edgemont.

At the time of the accident he was taken to the hospital and treated for bruises on his head, but returned to his work. In the afternoon he began suffering and went back to the hospital.

De Molay Members and Candidates in Parade

Gov. Hyde and Mayor Kiel in Procession Marking Opening of Week of Masonic Festivities Here.

A parade of members of the Order of DeMolay and candidates for admission to Perfection and St. Louis Chapters of the Order, through the downtown section this afternoon, marked the beginning of a week of Masonic festivities in St. Louis in connection with the Masonic Centennial Celebration.

The order of DeMolay, while not a Masonic organization, was started in Kansas City two years ago primarily for the sons of Masons and their friends, and to it any boy between the age of 16 and 21 is eligible.

Governor in Parade.

Gov. Hyde, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd, Mayor Kiel, President Victor J. Miller of the Board of Police Commissioners and Alexander G. Cochran, Inspector General of Scottish Rite Masons, occupied an automobile near the head of the parade, being directly back of a squad of mounted police, which led.

There followed in line automobiles in which were officers of the Mother Chapter, officers of other chapters, the Mother Chapter drill team in Zouave uniform, and the Mother Chapter band from Kansas City, while behind these were the candidates for initiation into the new chapters in St. Louis.

The parade started from the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Seventeenth and Locust streets, following a luncheon. The morning had been occupied with a breakfast for the members of the Mother Chapter at the Marquette Hotel, and a visit to the Masonic Home on Delmar boulevard, west of Union, where an address was delivered by Carl Hohengarten, Master Councilor of the St. Louis Chapter.

Downtown Streets Traversed.

Proceeding east on Washington avenue, from Seventeenth street to Twelfth, the parade moved south on Twelfth to Olive, east to Broadway, north to Locust street and west to Moolah Temple by way of the Lindell cut off.

The program at Moolah Temple, scheduled to begin at 3:45, includes an address by Cochran, followed at 4:15 by the initiatory degree of the Order. At 6:15 there will be an address by Frank S. Land of Kansas City, Grand Scribe, and founder of the Order. After dinner at Moolah Temple there will be addresses by Gov. Hyde and Mayor Kiel, followed by the De Molay degree. Later there will be an address by Miller, motion pictures and an address by Ray V. Denslow.

The Order of De Molay has grown in two years from the single chapter in Kansas City, which has been designated the mother chapter, to an order with 210 chapters in the United States, with a membership of more than 100,000.

Masonic Parade Tomorrow.

The Masonic ceremonies proper begin tomorrow with a parade of Blue Lodges, Chapters, Council and Commandaries and Eastern Star chapters, the parade starting at 3 o'clock at King's highway and Lindell boulevard, and moving to the Masonic Temple lot on Lindell west of Grand avenue, where ceremonies of dedication of the site of the proposed new temple will be held.

Opening of the centennial celebration proper will be Tuesday. It will close Thursday. It will include sessions of the Grand Lodge, secret work of the order and public meetings, the largest to be a public patriotic meeting at the Coliseum Wednesday evening.

ONE-CENT FARE FOR LEGION MEN

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 16.—Word has been received here by A. E. Hutchings, general manager and executive chairman of the American Legion National Convention Committee, that a one-cent rate has been granted by members of the Trunk Line Association of Railroads.

Parole for Slayer, 74 Years Old.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 16.—Gov. Hyde today granted a parole to Enos Hostetter, 74 years old, convicted in 1918 of second degree murder in the Circuit Court of Carroll County, for the killing of a brother-in-law. Hostetter was paroled to Mrs. John Manning of Kansas City.

ECONOMIC PENALTIES ON GERMANY TO CONTINUE

France Holds Terms of Agreement to Suspend Them Sept. 15 Were Not Met.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The economic penalties and the customs regime in the occupied portion of the Rhineland, established in March last, which was scheduled to be lifted yesterday, according to decision at the Paris conference of the Allied Supreme Council in August, will be continued, the semiofficial Temps said last evening.

The Supreme Council's decision was conditional upon the acceptance by Germany of the creation of an interallied organization to collaborate with the German authorities for the delivery of licenses for exports and imports. The German Government having failed to bring the promised collaboration, the Temps asserts, the economic penalties will be maintained until the conditions fixed by the Supreme Council have been fulfilled.

Germans Maintain Terms of Agreement Have Not Been Met.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—A semi-official statement says that according to the Supreme Council's communication of Aug. 14, abolition of the economic sanctions (penalties) was contemplated for Sept. 15 if Germany paid a billion gold marks by Aug. 31 and agreed to the creation of an interallied organization for the purpose of preventing discrimination in the granting of import and export licenses for the occupied areas.

"Germany duly paid the billion gold marks," adds the statement, "and on Aug. 26 expressed agreement in principle with the creation of an interallied organization to prevent discrimination, but no answer has yet been received.

"The allied Government, not Germany, must be held responsible for the grave consequences suffered by economic life, not only in the occupied area but in the whole of Germany through non-realization of the hopes awakened by the allies' announcement."

DEPOSITIONS TAKEN IN LONDON ARE READ IN DYE SUIT HERE

Brothers of That City, Who Are Suing St. Louis Firm, Tell of Father's Secret for Curing Process.

Depositions given in London, England, by George M. Rice and Albert Rice, sons of George Rice, discoverer of the Rice process for curing and dyeing sealskins, were read in evidence yesterday at the trial of the suit of George Rice, Ltd., against Philip B. Fouke and Funsten Bros. & Co., to enjoin the use of the Gibbins & Lohn Co., of the process and for an accounting of damages resulting from the alleged use of the process.

The Rice brothers in their testimony describe the secrecy with which the dyeing process was applied by their father and declare that besides themselves, only one man knew all the stages of the process so that he could completely apply it, this man being the dye foreman in the employment of the company.

John Charles Lohn was the dye foreman for the Rice company for many years, they say, and the process was used exclusively by their company until he left their employment in 1914. He was induced to quit his former employers, they said, by Fouke, who persuaded him to come to this country to establish the Gibbins & Lohn plant in St. Louis.

Both brothers decline to answer questions of counsel for the defendants, put in cross-examination, as to the technical details of the dyeing process.

Children of America Loyalty League to Give Fashion Exhibition

Styles in Children's Clothes to Be Shown in the Vandervoort Music Hall Saturday

FASHIONS for youthful St. Louisans will be exhibited on living models in a delightful little fantasy to be given by the Children of America Loyalty League Saturday, at one and three o'clock. The newest modes from Paris, New York and St. Louis will be worn by young folks from 3 to 18 years, in a two-part pageant.

Part 1—The Garden of Youth

The first half of the exhibition, "The Garden of Youth," is to be devoted to the display of school clothing, entertainingly interwoven exhibition with dancing and singing. In the first dance, the "Dance of the Peacock," the costume is made of real peacock feathers from a bird owned by Mr. Busch, and sent by him from his estate in Pasadena. Attractive garments for the tiny kindergartner, for grade school, high school and dancing school wear, will be modeled effectively.

Part 2—Fashions of the Hour

Misses' fashions are to be presented by means of a floral clock, whose flower-covered hand points out the hours during which the young girl may wear appropriately certain costumes. From the negligee donned at seven to the dance frock for evening wear, the pretty little debutantes dimple their way through the daily dress cycle.

The exhibition will be repeated at three o'clock, in order to enable everyone to enjoy it

WOMEN, THREE MEN ARE ARRESTED IN LIQUOR RAIDS

Quantity of Beer and Whisky Found in Rooms Over Saloon at 2600 St. Louis.

A large quantity of liquor, and materials for the manufacture and bottling of liquor, was confiscated by Lieut. Vasey and the police night riders when they raided the second and third floor rooms above Thomas Roache's saloon, 2600 St. Louis avenue, last night. Roache and David Leahy, bartender, were arrested. A dumb waiter was found leading from the barroom to the upper floors.

The police confiscated 30 cases of beer, 200 pounds of hops, 200 pounds of sugar, five gallons of whisky, some whisky mash, 20 gallons of coloring matter, two gallons of wine, a tub of iced pint bottles of whisky, 24 gallons of "bitters" of 21 per cent alcoholic content, and 5000 bottle caps.

In a raid on C. Mandrillo's grocery, 318 South Fourth street, and a basement at No. 320, the police found two vats, 3 by 18 feet, and 12 feet deep, full of corn mash, also five gallons of whisky.

Eugene and Louise Schertzer of 1308 Chouteau avenue were arrested when policemen found four cases of home brew and a bottle-capping apparatus on their premises.

Mabel Rogers, 37 years old, a laundress, living on the third floor at 1019 Market street, was arrested after the discovery of two 12-gallon jars of home brew there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wetlich of 1321 South Ninth street have asked the police to look for their son, Emil, 16 years old, who disappeared Aug. 30. He is described as being 5 feet 4 inches tall, of medium build, with brown hair and blue eyes. Prior to his disappearance he wore a brown suit with short trousers and a cap with two buttons on it. His parents believe he ran away because he was afraid to tell them of his discharge from a job he had obtained the same day.

PARENTS OF YOUTH KILLED BY AIRPLANE SUE FOR $10,000

A suit for $10,000 damages on account of the death of their son, William Hensel, 17 years old, in an airplane accident in the Forest Park flying field last Saturday, was filed yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hensel, 4958 Quincy street. Negligence on the part of the pilot of the plane is alleged to have been the cause of the accident when the machine fell 75 feet to the ground, killing Hensel, who had started on a flight to Golconda, Ill., with the aviator, A. C. Brown, 5144 Page boulevard.

The Robertson Aircraft Corporation is named as defendant in the suit on the allegation that it was the owner of the plane, but the company's lawyer informed a Post-Dispatch reporter that the plane had been sold to Brown and was no longer the property of the Robertson concern.

AMERICAN BALLOONISTS READY FOR CUP RACE

Bernard Von Hoffman and J. S. McKibben of St. Louis to Sail in Contest in Europe.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 16.—The American pilots who are here to compete for the James Gordon Bennett balloon cup are completing their final preparations and are virtually ready to make their jump-off next Sunday. They already have chosen the men who will accompany them in the race.

Ralph Upson will have as a partner C. J. Andrus, chief director of the United States Weather Bureau, while Bernard von Hoffman will be accompanied by John S. McKibben. Wade T. Van Orman, pilot of the City of Akron, will have as his partner William F. Seibling. Von Hoffman and McKibben are from St. Louis.

Seven nations will be represented in the race. The take-off of the competitors, which was determined by the drawing of lots, will be as follows:

Great Britain, two entries, first; France, three entries, second; United States, three entries, third; Italy, three entries, fourth; Spain, one entry, fifth; Switzerland, one entry, sixth, and Belgium, two entries, seventh.

The wind has been steadily westerly to northwesterly during the last 10 days, and weather experts prophesy that it probably will remain in these directions for the race. This would carry the balloons over German Bavaria toward the interior of Europe. The balloonists are taking an extra supply of food, fearing they may land in Russia.

William Hogan, Sidney B. Veit and Dr. A. L. Hipwell have arrived in Brussels from Paris to represent the Foreign Service Committee of the Aero Club of America in the contest.

SECOND EFFORT IS BEGUN TO BRING BACK THE M'DONALDS

Stock Salesmen, Whose Return Was Refused by Texas, Under Arrest in Arizona.

A second effort was begun today to bring Charles H. McDonald and his brother, Thomas B. McDonald, to St. Louis for trial on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses through the sale of stock in the Mac-Tex Producing Co. of Tyler, Tex.

The McDonalds were arrested in Tyler last May but the Governor of Texas refused to honor requisition papers. The only course open to the Circuit Attorney was to wait until they went into another State. Yesterday he received notice that they were under arrest in Phoenix, Ariz.

The specific charge in the indictment is that they obtained $50 from Scott H. Wallace by misrepresentation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The British embassy, it was said yesterday, has received a protest in connection with the recent drug and liquor raid on the steamer King Alexander at New York, and it is expected will request the State Department for an official report covering the facts in the case.

JEWS PLAN SERVICE FOR NOV. 11

By the Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 16. — American rabbis are called upon in a letter made public today by Dr. E. N. Calisch, president of the central conference of American rabbis, to arrange a special service on or about Nov. 11, Armistice day, at which the attention of American Jewry shall be directed to the armament conference.

Rabbis also are requested to preach on the subject of limitation of armament on one of the holy days, preferably Atonement day, and have their congregations adopt resolutions demanding that the armament conference discussions "be something more than mere political parleying or diplomatic jockeying, in behalf of selfish or sinister interests."

FACTORY TO WEARER

Bond's Clothes—For Men Who Seek Style, Quality, Economy

HERE'S one organization, at least, that isn't satisfied to be classed with the ordinary. A few years ago when we opened our first outlet store, we decided to become an institution of national reputation. We started with one idea—to give men the best possible for the least possible. That's why we now number our patrons in the hundreds of thousands.

Suits Topcoats Overcoats

JUST ONE PRICE

$27.50

Many of Bond's Suits have an extra pair of trousers if you want them; that extra pair will double the wear.

Separate Trousers

of fine striped worsteds and all wool, fast color blue serge.

$4 $5 $6

Direct From Bond's Own Factories

We operate our own factories, which supply our twelve busy distributing stations or outlet stores. We can control our price to the consumer in a manner not possible with the ordinary retailer.

Every single item of unnecessary selling expense has been eliminated; recently we found we could cut $1.50 from the price of every garment, by making our alteration departments self sustaining.

We put this and other economies into effect without sacrificing quality — and now we can get back to our original one-price basis.

First Long Pants Suits for "Youngsters"

It takes "the younger generation" to discover real style—and appreciate the new ideas. That's why Bond's Clothes are so popular among the young chaps just getting into their first long-pants Suit—and the high school and college fellows who simply won't be satisfied with anything but the very best.

Charge for Alterations

Most retailers average the cost of alterations (which is around $1.50 per garment) into the price you pay. It's only natural that somebody has to pay this expense. At Bond's, however, we ask you to pay only for what you get. That's why we make a charge for alterations. If your Suit needs alterations, you pay—if it doesn't (and 50% of them don't)—you aren't expected to pay for something you don't get.

The trousers of all Bond Suits come with unfinished bottoms. We finish them to proper length free of charge.

BISHOP QUAYLE GIVES ADVICE TO PREACHERS

Tells Conference Ministers Had Better Stick Closely to Preaching Christ.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BROOKFIELD, Mo., Sept. 16.—"Preachers have little enough money. They would have more, though, if they didn't put so much of the little they do have into fool investments," declared Bishop William A. Quayle of St. Louis, speaking today at the Missouri Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at which he is presiding.

Speaking on the place of the church in the world, Bishop Quayle said:

"The church is the greatest democratic organization. It is for man as man, it stands for the great body of laboring men, for a square deal for every man. The church is in favor of world peace if it may become it honorably; it is in favor of putting up the sword if it is not needed to protect righteousness. It is the great providence of God that the United States is at the head of the disarmament convention of the world. The church is in favor of disarmament, but only when righteousness is no longer threatened.

"I am an American, and I never had so wild a sense of elation over my Americanism as when the great American people got up last year and jumped into the pond of politics with a splash that was heard around the world, as a protest against the League of Nations, not because I am a Republican, although I am, but because it brought into power an administration whose intent it is to get peace by God's will."

Criticises Some Ministers.

The Bishop declared he had no patience with ministers who have parishes of 10 members and complain that they do not have time to get to see them all during the year. With a parish of 22,000, he said, he made personal calls on each of them four times a year, and while it wore out considerable shoe leather he found it paid in the end.

Some of the sayings of Bishop Quayle at the Conference session follow:

"Some people think when they are knocking things down they are doing something. They are only making a racket and a nuisance of themselves.

"There are so many false nostrums in this world that we preachers had better stick closely to preaching Christ. Some preachers would rather run a swimming pool than teach the Christian religion.

"Yes, God loves us all. But that doesn't mean He likes us all and everything we do. A mother spanks her children, but she loves them.

"A man asked me the other day what he could do with his money to make a safe investment. I said, 'Give it to God.'

"Some of us are so hard to get along with on this earth I don't see how the Lord is ever going to get along with us in heaven.

"There are all sorts of devices to make this world palatable these days. Do you want to know the one device to keep the world established? It is the Christian religion.

"Russia hasn't enough money to feed herself. She has enough money, though, to spread propaganda in this country.

Athiests Likened to Wolves.

"A nation of athiests would be a nation of wolves.

"A man who has $200 in the bank and buys a $2000 automobile has gas on the brain.

"I would rather walk 200 miles and pay for my shoes than ride 20,000 and have someone else pay for my gasoline.

"A preacher is a prop to society. Christianity is a roof over the world.

"The church is not against money. It is in favor of money, and money is the fruit of industry. I must have money, for my wife needs toggery, and I want to trick her out. She doesn't really need it, but she likes it, and I want her to have it.

"A minister can always get a cheer when he plays the fool. I could get the biggest kind of a cheer if I'd stand up and say I didn't believe in the doctrine of the church, but I'd be lying when I said it.

"The safest money-making institution is character."

600,0000 VETERANS WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT

Legion Survey Shows Georgia Is Only State Where Former Soldiers Need No Aid.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 16.—A survey conducted by the American Legion through 11,000 posts discloses that between 600,000 and 700,000 veterans of the World War are out of employment.

The Legion announces its investigation shows that Pennsylvania alone reported 150,000 former soldiers out of work. New York has 100,000, Illinois 35,000, Massachusetts 30,000 and Michigan 30,000. Georgia was the only State to report that unemployment was not general enough to require aid from the Legion.

The American Legion Weekly, in its issue today, says that "Figures alone do not tell the plight of the American unemployed veterans, for the greater part of these jobless ex-soldiers and ex-sailors are not only out of work but are engaged at this moment in a struggle for existence with their backs to the wall of circumstance."

Stating that the "plight of the veterans is serious enough today and that winter is just around the corner," the Weekly continues:

"All over the United States the American Legion is working to meet this new emergency. It is not altogether a new problem for most of the posts, for they have long had employment officers and have systematically helped their members obtain jobs. The problem has now become one of volume. Facilities that enabled a post to place three or a dozen men in jobs weekly do not meet the requirements when hundreds of veterans are on the unemployment lists and open jobs have almost vanished. The problem has also become one largely of relief."

$10,500,000 FROM GERMANY

Gold Placed to Account of Allies in Reparations Payment.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Gold imports amounting to $10,500,000 were received here yesterday in connection with Germany's reparations payments. All the gold was placed to the account of the allies at the Federal Reserve Bank.

One consignment of $1,800,000 was listed as originating from banks representing the former Austro-Hungary Government; $4,000,000 shipped from Hamburg was credited to various German financial and commercial interests and another shipment of $4,330,000, was sent by the German Reichsbank to meet obligations to Belgium. German marks yesterday duplicated their recent minimum quotation of 0.905 in the open market.

ATTACK ON WOMAN FRUSTRATED

Auto Lights Scare Away Man Who Had Dragged Her Into Lot.

Miss Anna Neals, 30 years old, of 3131 Kossuth avenue, was saved from an attack at the hands of a white man at 11:15 last night in a vacant lot on the east side of Grand avenue, between Penrose street and Carter avenue, when Frank Simmons of 3903 West Florissant avenue, a passing automobilist, saw the struggle and turned the headlights of his car on the scene.

The man ran away, without having harmed Miss Neals. She was walking south on the sidewalk when he seized her by the throat and pulled her into the lot.

WOMEN VOTERS TO OPPOSE GOLDSTEIN FOR POSTMASTER

Discussions at Recent Meetings of League Indicate That Active Campaign Will Be Conducted.

That the St. Louis League of Women Voters is planning to make an active campaign for a business man for Postmaster to succeed Colin M. Selph, the incumbent, whose term expires Jan. 17 next, and against the appointment of Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, Republican politician, and one of the "$2500 pair" of the Lowden-for-President campaign slush fund, is indicated by the consideration given the subject at recent meetings of the Executive Board of the League.

It was learned today that in the last 10 months the league has sent formal protests to Washington officials against the appointment of Goldstein as Postmaster, and also against John Schmoll, former Director of Public Welfare and former chairman of the Republican City Committee, who has also been mentioned for the office. These protests have been sent to President Harding, Senator Spencer and First Assistant Postmaster-General Work.

President's Order Cited.

Acting on communications from the League, President Harding has referred the matter to the Postmaster-General, who, in turn, has passed it on to the First Assistant Postmaster-General. The latter has written the League a noncommital letter, inclosing a copy of an executive order issued by the President, May 10, dealing with the appointment of postmasters. There are 700 postoffices of the first class, and St. Louis being in this class, the order covers the situation here.

The order sets forth that where there is a vacancy in this class and such vacancy is not filled from the classified Civil Service, the Civil Service Commission shall forthwith hold an open competitive examination to test the fitness of applicants, and that when the papers have been rated and certification of eligibles made, the name of one of the highest three qualified shall be submitted to the President for appointment, unless character or residence of applicant disqualifies him.

"Obviously," the order says in another place, "these offices are business agencies of the Government in legal purposes and should be so in fact," and again, the kind of test to be made shall be to determine an applicant's "business training, experience, fitness, organizing and executive ability and general qualifications for an efficient administration."

View Taken by League.

Officers of the League of Women Voters do not regard Goldstein as a business man of executive ability, and hold that it would not conform to the spirit of the executive order to appoint him solely for political considerations.

It will be remembered that the league conducted a successful campaign last November against three Goldstein candidates for Circuit Judgeships, Kimmel, Krueger and Killoren, the "Three Ks," only one of whom, Killoren, was elected. The campaign was conducted with a slogan to "Clean the Courts," and the arguments used were largely based on Goldstein's leadership in the "Courthouse Ring," of Republican City Committeemen, which he is said to have dominated in the selection of Republican candidates for Judgeships.

The active campaign against the appointment of Goldstein or Schmoll to succeed Postmaster Selph, was started Dec. 21, 1920, in a letter from the Board of Presidents of the league to Senator Spencer, the letter stating that "the political significance of the appointment of either would involve great danger to the common good."

Promised to Consider Protest.

On March 16 Postmaster-General Hays wrote that the protest of the league would be carefully considered when the appointment of a postmaster for St. Louis was taken up, and, when the rumor persisted that Goldstein and Schmoll were being considered for the appointment, the league sent telegrams May 11 to President Harding and Senator Spencer stating that the appointment of either "would evoke a storm of indignation."

Answering the telegram for President Harding, Secretary Christian wrote that the President had referred the matter to the Postmaster-General for consideration.

On May 23 the First Assistant Postmaster-General wrote that the matter had been referred to him and that he would give careful attention to the statement of the league.

The league again wrote to Senator Spencer in June, stating that the St. Louis League of Women Voters looked to him "for the appointment of a man in every way fitted for the important office of Postmaster of St. Louis, which man could be neither Mr. Goldstein nor Mr. Schmoll." Answering this letter June 13, Senator Spencer said that as there was to be no vacancy until next year, he was not then seriously considering the matter. He added that it was a real help to know how the league felt about it.

Goldstein Choice of Spencer.

Goldstein is known to be the choice of Senator Spencer for the office, while he is not being opposed by Republican National Committeeman Babler. The word is out in political circles, also, that Postmaster-General Hays, when in St. Louis recently, announced he would indorse the appointment of Goldstein.

ILLINOIS IDEAS TAKEN TO INDIA FOR ROAD BUILDING

By the Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16.—Illinois, as a road-building Commonwealth, bids fair to be a pacemaker for India and elsewhere in the British empire. British engineers are carrying back to India and to England ideas and facts on road construction gleaned from inspection of Illinois highways.

Most recent visitors representing the United Kingdom included K. G. Mitchell of the Indian Service of Engineers, under whose direction the paving of roads in the Punjab has been placed. Although India is interlaced with a rapidly growing system of macadam roads the British Government has decided to utilize native materials for building cement roads there.

Mitchell accompanied highway officials over miles of Illinois paving. He inspected cement plants and delved into the details of American methods of road building with highway engineers. He summed up his impressions by saying he was surprised and pleased with what he found. Trips to Michigan, Pennsylvania and to Washington, D. C., will conclude his American inspection.

Following Mitchell's explanation, A. Dryland, county engineer and surveyor of Middlesex County, England, arrived on a similar mission. What Mitchell takes to India in the way of information on Illinois' road building Dryland will carry back to England.

Under its present program the British Government plans to pave one-tenth of the mileage of its Indian roads, Mitchell said.

CHAUVINISTS ARE ACCUSED IN THE ERZBERGER PLOT

Chancellor Wirth Confirms Suspicion of Complicity of Secret Societies in Assassination.

EHRHARDT LIVING NEAR MUNICH

Former Member of Kapp Revolution in Hiding Place; Socialist Calls His Followers "Murder Gang."

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Suspicion that the assassination of Mathias Erzberger was plotted in Bavaria by Chauvinist secret societies, which transferred their headquarters there to be less liable to interference, was confirmed yesterday by a statement of Chancellor Wirth before the Reichstag Vigilance Committee.

The Chancellor was answering a question whether it was true that signs pointed to complicity in the murder of Erzberger by the notorious brigade of Capt. Ehrhardt, the moving spirits of which are located at Rosenheim, near Munich.

Dr. Wirth read a long report from State Commissioner Weissman showing that all attempts since the Kapp revolution to arrest Col. Bauer, Maj. Pabst and Capt. Ehrhardt had failed, although it had been discovered they were residing near Munich in an entrenched position under a strong guard comprising their followers, and some members of the Bavarian police force. The report added that it was virtually impossible to penetrate their hiding place, as anyone approaching it was fired upon.

Chancellor Wirth added that the situation could not possibly be improved in Bavaria by postponing action. The aim and object of his policy was to obtain a speedy removal of the state of siege in Bavaria.

The Independent Socialist, Herr Dittmann, bitterly attacked the Bavarian police Chief, Poehner, for alleged connivance in sheltering the "murder gang." He demanded that the Government of the empire put an end to the situation in Bavaria, which, he said, constituted a danger to the state.

The Nationalist Deputy, Dr. Hergt, retorted that the charges against Ehrhardt and his men had not been proven, and offered sworn testimony that they were not connected with the murder of Erzberger.

Dog Catcher Accidentally Shot.

Adam May, 39 years old, a dog catcher, of 4560 Alcott avenue, accidentally shot himself in the right leg yesterday as he was drawing out his revolver in defense against a dog he was trying to catch in the yard of the home of Sam Friesella, 4959 Emerson avenue. He was taken to the city hospital.

FINDS BURGLAR IN HIS ROOM

Man Chases Thief Who Drops Trousers After Getting Penny.

Joseph Stobrame, 2116 North Ninth street, awoke just before daylight today to see a burglar going through his trousers pockets. He pursued the man, who dropped the trousers in the rear yard as he escaped. He had taken just one penny out.

Burglars got clothing worth $165 from the residence of William Stroud, 4033A Finney avenue. Some one took tools worth $150, belonging to Harry Rappell, a machinist, from the plant of the Ball Ice Machine Co., 126 Chouteau avenue, yesterday. Two men, armed with revolvers, took $30 from Floyd Sowers, a street car conductor, of 3739 Cora avenue, at Cora and Margaretta avenues, at 3 a. m. A negro snatched a purse containing $3 from Mrs. Mary Schonwand of 1530 North Fifteenth street, on St. Charles street, near Broadway, last evening.

Falls Back Into Water at End of Act After Telling Partner of Feeling Ill.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Miss Warrel, who performed as one of the Sisters Billington, at a theater in Bathgate, recently had finished her turn in a water tank and was ascending a ladder when she remarked to her partner, Miss Ruth Billington: "I am not feeling well."

Miss Warrel then fell back in the tank. It was thought that she was giving an extra act to amuse the audience, but her partner immediately went to her assistance and with the manager pulled her out. Miss Warrel died without regaining consciousness.

NEGRO PASTOR EARNS 'SALARY' BY DANCING AT STATION

Performer-Preacher Is Said to Have Collected $2000 in Coins Thrown by Passengers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KINGFISHER, Ok., Sept. 16.—Paul Sykes, a negro, is beginning his twenty-eighth year as pastor of the Straight Gate Church. And for 19 of those 28 years Sykes has earned his "salary" by dancing and singing at the railroad station here for the entertainment of passengers on trains passing through the town. Passengers throw small coins to him, which he banks in his left pocket as he dances. It is estimated that he has danced more than 30,000 times and has collected $2000 in this manner.

Sykes founded the Straight Gate Church in 1893 and has occupied the pulpit since that time. He has built a small edifice by means of the funds he collected at the station and preaches in it Sunday mornings and evenings.

The big event of the year at his church—and the one day it is full—is when he holds the passover. He collects chickens and other food from the residents of Kingfisher and provides a feast which attracts all negroes of the town—believers and unbelievers.

HAS BEEN TEACHER 53 YEARS

By the Associated Press.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill., Sept. 16.—Mount Carmel has a school teacher who, it is believed, has a record for continuous service possibly exceeded by only one other teacher in the State. Miss Kate Marsh has just started on her fifty-fourth year as a teacher. Of this long period of public service, 40 years have been taught here, 13 years in Indiana.

Miss Marsh is principal of Seminary Hill, one of the grade schools of Mount Carmel. For many years she has been grade school principal in Mount Carmel. There is one teacher in the State, a woman, living in Peoria, who is said to have a longer record for continuous service than Miss Marsh. She is said to have retired after completing 55 years in the school room.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU WASH YOUR HAIR WITH

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

Something more than mere wear—

A man is surely entitled to something more than mere wear from a suit of clothes.

There's gratification in having it made to your fancy. There's satisfaction in having it tailored to your figure.

And there is no extravagance if it is a Losse custom tailored suit—there's just a sensible investment in good clothes.

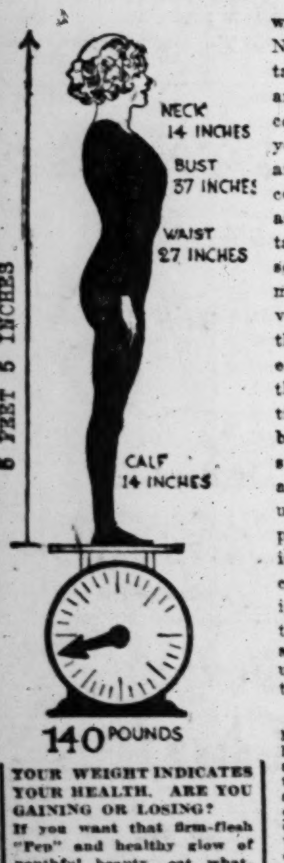
How Yeast Vitamon Tablets Put On Firm Flesh

Increase Your Energy and Beautify the Complexion—Easy and Economical to Take—Results Quick.



Of What Use Are Beautiful Features If You Have an Ugly Skin, Flabby Flesh, Hollow Cheeks, or a Scrawny Neck? MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS are Positively Guaranteed to Give You New Health, Beauty and a Well-Rounded Face and Figure Whether You Are Young or Old, or Money Back. Try Them Yourself and See.

Thin or run-down folks will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamines as well as the two other still more important vitamines (Fat soluble A and Water soluble C) all of which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed. They are now being used by thousands who appreciate their convenience, economy and quick results. By increasing the nourishing power of what you eat, Mastin's VITAMON supplies just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stomach or causing gas. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic and the complexion becomes radiantly clear and beautiful. But it is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. A two weeks' test will surprise you.

YOUR WEIGHT INDICATES YOUR HEALTH. ARE YOU GAINING OR LOSING? If you want that firm-flesh "Pep" and healthy glow of youthful beauty, eat whatever you like, but be sure to take two yeast VITAMON Tablets with every meal to supply the precious vitamines your foods lack. Then watch the truly amazing results.

IMPORTANT: While the amazing health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON tablets have been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anaemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, they should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VI-TA-MON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists such as Enderle's six stores, Johnson Bros., Judge & Dolph, E. A. Medler, A. W. Pauley's, Wolff-Wilson, Huger's two stores.

MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS
THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE
YEAST VITAMINE TABLET

ARE POSITIVELY GUARANTEED to Put On Firm Flesh, Clear the Skin and Increase Energy when taken with Every Meal, or Money Back.

City News in Brief

POLICE ITEMS

ABOUT 20 POLICEMEN FROM THE Central and Carr Street Districts, including Acting Night Chief Nally and the Lieutenants in charge of the districts, rushed to the Leonhard Roos Fur Co., 809 Washington avenue, at 2:30 this morning, when a company operating electric burglar alarms notified police headquarters that the fur company's alarm had indicated an interference. No burglars were found and the police went back after Roos arrived and found his stock intact. The trouble is thought to have resulted from crossed wires.

JOHN GILDY, 39 YEARS OLD, OF 2328 Biddle street, and Louis Stotts, 27, of 2317 Carr street, teamsters, were arrested last night on the river bank at Rutger street after a struggle in which they were reported to have tried to throw each other in the river. Gildy was hit over the head with a small rock and suffered an injury to the skull, so he was taken to the city hospital, where physicians found him under the influence of liquor. Stotts said the argument was about rent for a wagon alleged to be owed him by Gildy.

DETECTIVES YESTERDAY ARRESTED J. Kraupa, 18 years old, a clerk, of 2415 South Tenth street, on complaint of Miss Evelyn Nelson of 1922 North Forty-fourth street, East St. Louis, that he had taken a $250 diamond ring from her on Sept. 1 and declined to return it.

THE FOLLOWING BURGLARIES WERE reported to the police today: Harry T. Miller, 5738 De Giverville avenue, $100 worth of jewelry, two jars of jam and a loaf of bread taken; Charles T. Hays, 1115 North King's highway, $200 worth of jewelry and several foreign coins; Mrs. Bernard Reilly, 3132 Lafayette avenue, $100 worth of jewelry and $21 in cash; Mrs. Louise Engle, 4323 Forest Park boulevard, $300 worth of jewelry.

TWO TEACHERS INSTRUCTING 30 CHILDREN AT CITY SANITARIUM

Board of Education to Supply More Teachers When More Room Is Provided There.

Thirty children, inmates of the city sanitarium, are receiving instructions from two teachers, the work having begun last Monday, with two rooms of the sanitarium building in use as classrooms.

Last year, a request was made that the Board of Education furnish teachers for the sanitarium children, but as no room was provided in the building, the teachers were not sent. When more room is made available for school work at the sanitarium, more children will be instructed, and the teaching force may be increased.

TROOPS TO PATROL BORDER

By the Associated Press.

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 16.—Pursuant to orders from Secretary of War Weeks at Washington, a detachment of Federal troops left Camp Stephens D. Little early yesterday morning for Arivaca, 14 miles from Ruby, Ariz. The detachment consists of one officer and 17 men and will be used for border patrol duty between Arivaca and Ruby and about the two towns to prevent raids across the border. The detail is to be relieved at frequent intervals, it was announced at the camp here yesterday.

Sending of the troops followed a petition by Santa Cruz County residents to the War Department calling attention of the killing of Postmaster and Mrs. Frank J. Pearson by bandits at Ruby Aug. 26 last.

JUDGE MIX SAYS TRAFFIC VIOLATORS MUST READ LAW

Says He Is Doing Them Favor in Compelling Them to Peruse Statutes in Court.

Police Judge Mix, commenting today on a letter sent to the Post-Dispatch complaining about his practice of threatening to increase fines of traffic law violators if they look up while reading the traffic law at his direction, said he had a right to inflict fines up to $500 and he felt that he was doing violators a favor in fining them only $25 and ordering them to read the law.

He wanted them, he said, to read it carefully and learn its provisions, so he threatened to fine them $100 additional if they looked up while reading it.

HOMICIDE SQUAD INVESTIGATING DEATH OF JACOB SILVERMAN

Lieut. Walton Says He Is Proceeding on Theory Youth Found After 7 Years' Search, Was Murdered.

Lieut. Walton of the homicide squad, who had been ordered to make an investigation of the death of Jacob Silverman, 14 years old, Laclede avenue, who disappeared from home Sept. 5, 1914, and whose body was found in Pittsburg Lake, southeast of East St. Louis, and recovered 10 days ago after seven years in the Potter's Field of St. Clair County, said today he had begun an investigation on the assumption that the boy had been murdered, but had nothing to report.

Walton said he interviewed Mrs. Silverman and her daughter, Dr. Dora Silverman and son, Isadore, and still had the facts as he found them under consideration, but that he has not had much time to devote to the case owing to the press of more urgent investigations.

ATTACK ON GIRL BY MEXICANS IMAGINARY, OFFICIALS BELIEVE

Story Regarded Invention of Disordered Mind as Result of Injuries Sustained When Horse Fell on Her.

By the Associated Press.

BISBEE, Ariz., Sept. 16.—The story of a supposed brutal attack on Miss Sadi Champion by cattle rustlers, believed to be Mexicans, as related by her last night, was the result of a disordered mind caused by injuries sustained when her horse fell on her, officers investigating the case declared here yesterday.

The horse became tangled in a barbed wire fence which scratched the girl's face and otherwise injured her as she fell, they said.

No cattle are missing from the ranch, officers said.

Deputy Sheriff Baumfolk at Lowell said he had liberated Chris Mitor, a Serbian, accused by the girl in a former statement as one of her attackers.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN DEATH OF WATCHMAN IN COLLISION

Witnesses Say Crash in Which James Evans, Was Killed When on Bicycle Was Unavoidable.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today by a jury investigating the death yesterday of James Evans, 64 years old, of 1816 Morgan street, a private watchman, who was injured Sept. 11 while riding a bicycle at Ewing and Washington avenues in a collision with a motor cycle ridden by William C. Barry, 29, of 823 North Twentieth street, a machinist.

Witnesses testified the accident appeared to have been unavoidable, due to both men turning in the same direction to avoid hitting each other.

CITATION SOUGHT FOR PICKET

Attorneys for the Con P. Curran Printing Co. today applied at the Federal Court for a citation for contempt of court against Margaret Miller, a union picket in the strike of printers and pressmen and member of the Franklin Association, who is already under an order to show cause Monday why she should not be held in contempt of court on a charge of following and threatening a woman nonunion employe of one of the printing companies.

It was alleged that the woman yesterday told a former employe of the Con P. Curran Co. not to pay any attention to a court order on the building, which he was reading, stating that it meant nothing and was only waste paper. Judge Faris declined to issue the citation, but allowed the petition to be filed and said he would consider the application in connection with the order returnable Monday.

VERDICT IN DEATH OF NEGRESS

A Coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness was returned today in the death Wednesday of Rachel Adams, 50 years old, 4216A West Garfield avenue, a negress, from injuries received Aug. 31 when she was struck by a truck of the Kinloch Telephone Co., driven by Charles Quinlan, 22, of 4590 Lucky street, in front of 4252 Easton avenue.

The principal witness was Frank Casey of the Blue Grass Hotel, who testified that Quinlan was driving 20 miles an hour with no lights.

BANKER, 84, COMES HERE FROM LA SALLE BY RIVER, AS IN 1858

C. Diesterweg, president of a bank and trust company at La Salle, Ill., who is visiting his son, C. Louis Diesterweg, at the Buckingham Hotel, is 84 years old and made the trip to St. Louis down the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers by steamboat, the same way he traveled in 1858 and 1859, when he made frequent visits to this city to purchase supplies for a general store he conducted at Mendota, Ill., 16 miles north of La Salle.

In those days, Diesterweg says, the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers swarmed with steamboats. Freight brought up the rivers from New Orleans and St. Louis was transferred at La Salle to canal boats and towed through the Michigan Canal to Chicago.

St. Louis, he says, has made great progress since his first visit, when the business sections were on Second and Third streets.

By the Associated Press.

ZION, Ill., Sept. 16.—Found guilty by a ujry on a charge of smoking a pipe, Muir Anderson, a lace worker, was fined $10 and costs, amounting in all to $30.70, yesterday. He said that President Harding, Edison and Lincoln used tobacco, but the plea failed to move the jury. Smoking on the streets is prohibited by a Zion ordinance.

EXHIBITION OF AMERICAN ARTS IN PARIS BEING PLANNED

Display Will Include Paintings, Sculpture, Furnishings and Architecture.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Arrangements are being made to hold in Paris next spring an exhibition of all-American art activity, including not only the fine arts, such as paintings and sculpture, but also the arts as applied to industry and the decorative arts, such as furnishings and architecture.

It is understood that this will be the first time in which such a comprehensive demonstration of the work of American artists, designers and architects will be given to the people of France.

The project is to be undertaken at the request of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and the announcement is made by Julian Clarence Levi of New York, who recently returned here after a conference with the French authorities on that subject. Levi was for a long time in Paris as an agent of the Red Cross and of the French-American Union for Open-Air Schools. He was secretary of the committee which arranged the recent exhibit of American architecture at the Paris Salon.

An American committee to arrange for the exhibition next spring has been organized with the following members: William Anderson of Boston, Paul Cret of Philadelphia and Charles Butler and Mr. Levi of New York. It is intended to hold the exhibit in rooms of the Museum of the Louvre. The space to be given to it and the date have not yet been determined, but Mr. Levi said that when this had been done the committee would call upon American artists to submit the exhibits from all over the country so that the exhibition may be truly national.

The French people, he said, are interested in obtaining a better knowledge of artistic effort in America, and this exhibition is intended to fulfill that need.

Award in Suit Over Property.

A judgment for $550 was awarded yesterday by a jury in the Belleville Circuit Court in the $50,000 damage suit brought by J. B. Swaney testified that two years ago he placed a brickette machine in storage at the home of Mrs. Belle Mann in East St. Louis. Later she is alleged to have sold the machine to the defendant company.

U. S. MILITARY ADVISORS FAVOR USING POISON GAS

Insist That When Used Only Against Combatants It Is as Humane as the Torpedo.

OPPOSE USE AGAINST NON-COMBATANTS

Chemical Warfare Held to Be as Desirable as Any Other Means of Killing Enemy Troops.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1921.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Poison gas as a means of warfare has come to stay. America's military experts join with those of other countries in insisting that the gas bomb is just as humane as the torpedo or the 1000-pound shell. Any idea that the United States Army experts will advise the American delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments to propose the abolition of poison gases can be dismissed as out of the question.

President Harding in his invitation to the Powers pointed out that "it may be found advisable to formulate proposals by which in the interest of humanity the use of new agencies of warfare may be suitably controlled."

A canvass by this correspondent of military authorities develops the fact that the American Army holds chemical warfare to be a recognized and desirable means of warfare—that is, just as desirable as any other means of killing the troops of the enemy.

The experts say they hope the time will never come when war is necessary to settle disputes between nations. They are just as anxious for permanent peace as any other Americans. But Mr. Harding himself, in his speech to the Army War College, spoke his doubts about permanent peace and indicated that armies and navies would always be necessary. Inasmuch as the commander in chief of the army and navy feels that way, the experts declare it is their solemn duty to advise upon the use of such agencies of warfare as will bring a conflict to an abrupt ending.

Prejudice Against Gas.

The prejudice against the use of poison gas is of course universal. When the Germans first introduced it, the same outcry was raised as against the submarine torpedo. Yet, before the war was over, both sides used the gas bomb and America invented such destructive gas bombs as might have ultimately annihilated the German army if the armistice had not interfered.

The public has little idea of the awfulness of the new agencies of war. But the experts declare that the more destructive an agency is, the more unlikely is there to be war.

The American military authorities, however, are a unit in expressing the opinion that, while gas may be used against soldiers and sailors, it should not be employed against noncombatants or any areas in which noncombatants and troops may be mixed. The use of poison gases should be reserved for attack on strictly military or naval areas.

When the agenda for the coming conference on limitation of armament is completed, rules of warfare will be found to have been included. It can't be excluded gracefully for the American Government has expressed itself on the subject and the other Powers have agreed to it without exception. But when it comes to framing rules of warfare, the conference will find itself absorbed for months in a phase of the problem entirely apart from that which is involved in reducing military or naval expenditures.

The cost of gas warfare is relatively small. Armies and navies may be scrapped, but means of chemical warfare can be duplicated by any nation, however small. That's why, before the Washington conference is over, it may be found necessary to consult the other nations of the world. They will want to have a voice in any agreement that is reached.

It took several months for the famous conference of 1909 at London to draw up rules of warfare. The Hague conference of 1907 had not sufficiently clarified the rules of war. But both the declaration of London and the Hague conventions of 1907 went by the boards when the European war began in 1914, largely because the 1909 rules had not been unanimously adopted.

Whether or not limitation of new armament is agreed upon at the Washington conference, the control of old agencies of warfare is bound to develop more and more importance as the military and naval experts of all the Powers get together here.

The opinions of the American military experts that poison gas shall not be abolished are significant. It means that the naval experts also will not wish the use or the torpedo by submarines to be held illegal, except, of course, as against ships carrying noncombatants.

The right to torpedo naval vessels without warning, however, is a moot point. Some contend that an opportunity to surrender should be given. Others argue that in a naval battle no such chance is given when a vessel is fatally hit. During the war our naval authorities were careful not to commit themselves against the use of the submarine. They are not yet ready to give up that new means of warfare.

Germany may have to be denounced for introducing the new agencies of war, but military and naval opinion here indicates that the new agencies have come to stay and that America at least will take the lead in urging that the wars of the future be fought more humanely in the sense that noncombatants shall not be attacked, as the German army and navy insisted upon doing throughout the war on land, sea and air.

WILD ANIMAL ACTS TO FEATURE CIRCUS

Ringling-Barnum & Bailey Show Will Open Tomorrow for Three Days' Engagement.

Trained wild animal acts will be one of the features of the Ringling-Barnum & Bailey circus, which comes to St. Louis tomorrow for a three-day engagement at Vandeventer and Laclede avenues. There will be performances at 2 and 8 p. m tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

Under the big top will be three rings, five stages, three steel cages and a hippodrome tract, besides the large array of lofty apparatus for the aerial performers.

The wild animals which will be exhibited are from the famous Hagenbeck collection. They include tigers, lions, leopards and polar bears. These ferocious beasts will not be the only four-footed entertainers. Adolph Hess will be seen with his 36 trained Barbary horses. Other animal acts will include trained elephants, seals, pigs, geese, dogs, camels, bears, pigeons, ponies and monkeys.

Of the human performers the outstanding star will be Miss Lillian Leitzel, whose performances on the rings and swinging rope have made her famous on the vaudeville stage and under the circus tent. It is said the personnel includes many other performers of great skill and daring, including several remarkable high trapeze performers. There will be no street parade.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Klan and Ford.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

UNQUESTIONABLY, the Post-Dispatch is earning the thanks and good will of true-blue American citizens by its expose of Ku Klux Klan, Inc. Knocking 'em cold is a P.-D. habit.

But will you allow me to ask a serious question? How many of Henry Ford's 800,000 readers are among the 500,000 members of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc.?

The Ku Klux Klan, Inc., started five years ago but got nowhere until within the last 12 months, and this is precisely the period of Henry Ford's ascendancy as chief of the anti-Semites.

"Imperial Wizard" Simmons is merely cashing in on Henry Ford's Jew-baiting campaign. His organization is the logical answer to Henry Ford's questionings about the alleged "Jewish Peril," which exists in the imagination of the flivver maker and his nameless and shameless hirelings. Henry Ford has planted the wind, but Col. Simmons is reaping the whirlwind.

Surely Ford must see that he is being played "for a sucker" now as he was on his Peace Ship venture during the war. If he don't, then he ought to be made to see how dangerous his anti-Jewish propaganda can become when exploited by men like the "imperial wizard." Run it down, P.-D., and you will discover that some of Simmons' salesmen have been using Henry Ford's anti-Jewish dope to scare up those $10 "donations" from the simple-minded, who are more to be pitied than punctured.

Personally, while 26 years ago I forsook the faith of my fathers to become a follower of the Man of Galilee, I make this plea on behalf of my race, whose perfect flower was none other than Him Who is not only "the glory of Israel but a light to lighten the Gentiles."

"Here's to Him."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

"HURRAH for the man who says "Here's to her." I should like very much to meet a man who is broad-minded enough to see the good in the criticised girls of today, who are as good as their mothers. Here's to him.

Eight-Hour Day for Chauffeurs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTE "Ex-Service Man's" question as to why the police department does not restore the eight-hour day to the chauffeurs of the department. In justice, this should be done. All other employes of the city have the eight-hour day, including the ambulance chauffeurs, who get 20 per cent more salary than the police drivers. In the police department the drivers start in at $85 a month, and after 18 months' service reaches the maximum of $99 a month, this despite the fact that he must be a first-class driver when he starts, while the ambulance driver gets full pay from the start. The police chauffeur works 12 hours a day, seven days a week, two days off a month; but, note this, he works 18 hours on the day he shifts from day to night duty or vice versa; also no time off for a meal, meaning a sandwich if he can get it in the neighborhood of the patrol house. Mr. Brockman may say he can get lots of men to take these jobs. Very true, just now. But when the citizens and employers of labor are being asked to stretch points to give men work, and particularly ex-service men, I think the Police Board would be killing two birds with one stone by authorizing this change from 12 hours to eight hours for the chauffeurs in justice to the men now employed, and employment for the heads of a dozen or more families. The money paid these extra chauffeurs will be spent in St. Louis and to good purpose.

"JUSTICE."

Was Not Murdered.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTICED in a Sunday morning paper an article headed "World's Unhappy Woman," by F. G. Talla, Brussels, Belgium. He speaks of the Empress Charlotte (Carlotta), wife of Maximilian, as being the widow of the "murdered" Emperor Maximilian of Mexico.

Mr. Talla ought to post himself regarding Mexican history. Benito Juarez, a full-blooded Zapotec Indian, at the age of 12, could neither read nor write; later attended school, became a practicing lawyer. In 1858 was recognized by the United States as constitutional ruler of the Mexican republic. In 1861-2 civil war between the North and South, England, France and Germany expected the South to win. All through the war Washington had made known to France its disapproval of the intervention business. Napoleon III, who sent Maximilian to Mexico to become their ruler, withdrew his troops and left Maximilian to his fate.

Maximilian issued a decree Oct. 3, 1865, condemning to death all officers above rank of First Lieutenant who did not, within 30 days, acknowledge his authority, and all those who supplied arms or material. The tables turned, the French troops left for home at Querétaro, Maximilian, Miramon and Tomas Mejia were captured, tried and executed. He was not "murdered or assassinated," but tried and executed—shot. He met the same fate he intended for others.

IRELAND'S NEXT STEP.

In canceling the Inverness conference to which the Irish delegates insisted upon coming as representatives of "a sovereign state," Lloyd George has done the only thing he could do. It is beyond the authority of the British Premier to recognize the sovereignty of Ireland. It is even doubtful if Parliament would undertake to make such a grant unless directed to do so by the mandate of a popular election. Were the question submitted to such a test there can be no honest doubt as to the verdict. It would be rejected overwhelmingly.

The Premier, however, has given further proof, in these circumstances, of the British Government's sincere determination to effect an honorable peace with Ireland on terms of real liberty. He has not summarily ended the negotiations, as he might have done had he been maneuvering to put De Valera in the hole. Instead he intends to consult with his colleagues as to the next step. It is a wise, commendable decision. But the fact must be faced by Mr. de Valera and his associates that, sooner or later, there will be no next step to take, either for London or Dublin. Discussion cannot go on interminably. There must be an agreement. The demand of the Irish leaders for absolute separation from the empire will not be conceded by the British Government.

How to recede is a question for the Irish leaders to decide. Apparently the happiest way out of the difficulty, and the most authentic way, would be to refer the proposition to the people of Ireland. Such an election, of course, would have to be a free, untrammeled and thoroughly informed decision. The Irish people would have to know exactly what Great Britain was offering. They should have to understand what the result would be should they vote down the proposal, and, in such event, what their position would be in the opinion of the world.

In a way that information has been given to them, and by a most competent authority. Gen. Smuts' warning that such a choice would alienate the world's sympathy, which has been such a potent factor in bringing about the generous offer that has been made, ought not to be disregarded.

It is manifest, too, that the Irish leaders, including De Valera, do not expect absolute separation. The "final note" recognizes the membership of Ireland in the British empire and is ready to discuss the question of reconciling such status with Irish aspirations. The two positions are incompatible. The letter warrants an earlier criticism by Lloyd George that De Valera is "playing with phrases." The substance of freedom is in Ireland's grasp. If Irish leadership spurns it, it will risk losing the support of the enlightened, liberty-loving opinion of the world.

THAT LINCOLN LAND DEAL.

An investigator for Attorney-General Barrett recommends upon the strength of his findings that action be brought against the perpetrators of the Lincoln University land deal. The amount involved is small, but the amount involved is of less importance than the principle. Twenty-seven thousand dollars was paid for a piece of ground which, Gov. Hyde says, is not worth more than $10,000. A special agent in Jefferson City took a rakeoff of $9000.

That the great State of Missouri could be victimized by such a scheme is humiliating. This precedent of profiteering in connection with a State institution of learning has been set, and should be wiped out if legally possible.

We assume that Attorney-General Barrett will be sure of the legal ground before abandoning an attempt to set aside the deal. Certainly the whole truth about the deal should be brought to light.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

The sordid Arbuckle case is not without one ray of sunshine. The girl who, at 17, started life with the defendant at 21 was then, as she says, his "inspiration." They lived together until five years ago, when they agreed, as friends, to separate.

It matters not now that the man with whom, as wife, she once lived is accused of a sex crime with a shocking aftermath. He is in trouble, she remembers the good there is in him and speeds without a moment's hesitation across the continent to his assistance.

She is uncommunicative, naturally, on the subject of a reconciliation. "All I know now," she says, "is that I am going to a friend who needs every bit of help he can get."

Our guess is that a recently popular idol languishing in jail and in disgrace, will be glad to see his old "inspiration," whom he abandoned, to his undoing, for the lure of wine, women and song.

INTERNATIONAL INFECTIONS.

The Chile-Bolivian dispute which caused the League Assembly some anxious moments last week has temporarily been disposed of. Chile has agreed to submit the question to a commission of three jurists. Bolivia has conditionally accepted. She has withdrawn her demand that the League pass upon the question, but stipulates that the commission shall first determine the League's competency to amend treaties.

It may be objected that this is a Fabian disposition of the question, but very likely there is some progress in the postponement. The commission will approach its task with a certain special authority, and while its judgment will not necessarily be binding it will be more morally difficult for either of the parties in interest to repudiate the judgment of a tribunal created, with their approval, to adjudicate the case.

Further, the episode has another value—that of exemplifying the need of just such institutions as the League covenant has undertaken to establish. Outside of the foreign offices it is pretty safe to say that the difference between Chile and Bolivia, which also involves Peru, was hardly known. Certainly it does not bulk big enough in the huge equation of international affairs to intrigue popular interest. Yet the acrimony displayed in the Assembly debates shows how deeply the matter is regarded in those countries and how quickly, under provocation, accidental or designed, it could plunge those peoples into war.

Just how many misunderstandings of this character vex the relations of the nations can only be surmised. They are numerous, and the most inconsequential of them are incipient Alsace-Lorraines. They all contain the germs of war. They are all infections, more or less virulent, that undermine good will and friendship.

Getting rid of those poison sources is not a simple task. Yet they must be gotten rid of, fairly and justly, if the peace of the world is ever to rest upon a sure foundation. Whether the instrumentalities fashioned by the League covenant can compose those differences, leaving national pride unruffled and national interest secure, may be debatable, but there is no debate about the fact that these instrumentalities are the best equipped for the purpose that human ingenuity has as yet erected.

JOHN KENNISH'S CAREER.

That a man may be conspicuously active in politics, unusually successful as an office holder, and yet never be designated a politician in the unpleasant sense of that term, was finely exemplified in the career of John Kennish, whose sudden death at Kansas City is a great loss to the State.

Senator in the Missouri Assembly, assistant to the Attorney-General, Insurance Commissioner, a Judge of the State's Supreme Court, first by appointment and afterwards by election—those were the public honors Judge Kennish won as a Republican. In addition he served twice as a member of the Public Service Commission, being appointed in each instance by a Democratic Governor. And in each instance the choice was ratified by marked public approval.

It is a matter of record that John Kennish filled all those places with sound distinction. It is equally of record that brilliancy never attached to the man, either in style or accomplishment. Tireless industry, integrity and courage were the qualities by which he came to his renown.

His career, it seems to us, embodies more real inspiration than that of many a more gifted man. It was the triumph of hard work, honesty and that essential courtesy which recognizes the other man's point of view. It strikingly demonstrates that, under our institutions, success is not necessarily a matter of endowment, heritage or chance, but is attainable by practicing the common sensible virtues that make character.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
By Clark McAdams

THE TIME WILL COME.

THE time will come, the time will come,
When right shall rectify each wrong,
When peace shall find on earth its home,
And justice triumph o'er the strong.

Too long hath error ruled the earth;
Too long hath reason been dethroned—
Man recognized alone through birth
And merit's efforts been disowned.

Oft hath a good man come to ill—
Some worthy soul gone to disgrace—
That treason, lifted up, might fill
With arrogance, a patriot's place.

But justice, crushed to earth again
Shall rise with fast-increasing might;
And, in the eyes of honest men,
Set every form of error right.

So do not weep, ye struggling few,
Nor pause in fear to count the cost;
God's sunlight falls alone on you;
If thou dost falter, all is lost.

Then struggle on. Remember well
This lesson that is lost on some:
In spite of all the powers of hell,
The time will come. Truth's day shall come!

Sir: That story in the Post-Dispatch relating to the rent profiteer who hides his identity behind a straw woman in the office of a local real estate agent reminds us that Just a Minute recently paraded Judge Gary in the Judge's own clothing. Such a merciless exposition of hypocrisy it has rarely been our good fortune to enjoy.

May God pity the young woman and the devil take the Judge—as one doubtless does and the other doubtless will.

Verbal Barrage.

"Shall I go over the top?" asked the talkative barber, poising his shears.

"Yes, as soon as your gas-attack is over," answered the weary customer.—The American Legion Weekly.

Some of our movie stars who are unable to stand prosperity ought to afford considerable comfort to people of slender means. Until we have had money we do not know how it would affect our lives. The average man or woman thinks of it only in the terms of things he or she would like to have and do. That the gratification of all these desires might render one a trial to society never enters any poor man or woman's mind, yet that is so often the consequence that most of us are perhaps better off as we are. Certainly that is true of a high percentage of humankind. The materialism of our age is demonstrable by giving almost anyone money in some quantity. There are riches of another and better sort, but there is no struggle to possess them. Other times have enjoyed a better valuation of life, and they have left the world better than our time possibly can leave it. We want a million where men who have lived before us wanted to enjoy culture and those refinements of thought and feeling which are indeed the real wealth of this life. The Greeks of Pericles' time were not tempted by everything that tempts us, which was probably fortunate, since we would otherwise never have heard of them and would live undreaming of anything better than the use we make of life today. It is not quite fair to be too critical of people who achieve comparative wealth. That most of us would not go to pieces under the same test remains to be proved.

BEATS WAR NEWS, ANYWAY.

(News Dispatch in Boston Herald.)

PITTSFIELD, Aug. 11.—Curator Harlan H. Ballard of the Berkshire Museum, well-known author and scholar, is trying to catch a bullfrog at Nichewang lake, near Petersham, Mass., that smokes. While on his vacation there he threw a part of a lighted cigar in the water. A giant "jug-a-rum" promptly nabbed it, swam to a rock and smoked it for 15 minutes.

Mr. Ballard says the amphibian showed no signs of illness afterwards. His story is vouched for by his son, Atty. Harlan H. Ballard Jr. of Boston, with whom he was in camp.

THE SONG OF THE K. K. K.

I AM the Big Wis of the Ku Klux Klan,
I am the terrible bogie man.
Better watch out, don't make me frown,
Or I'll take you in tow and trot you out of town.

I am the law, and my own word
Must be obeyed wherever it is heard;
Better be careful, don't step on my toes,
Or I'll dress you up in tar and feather clothes.

I am the terror of gamblers and crooks;
Loafers and drunkards, I don't like your looks,
Unless you belong to one of our clans,
Then, of course, you are good Americans.

Catholics and negroes, together with Jews,
To me are obnoxious—I don't like their views;
We'll drive them from office in nation and state,
For they have incurred our eternal hate.

CHORUS.

For we are the celebrated Ku Klux Klan,
Our sentiments alone are American;
So just keep quiet, and do as we say,
Or you'll find out there's the deuce to pay

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

THE KU KLUX KLAN.

From the Boston Transcript.

THE attempted organization of the "Ku Klux Klan" on a national basis, as an order directed not only against "negro equality," but against Catholics and Jews, is a piece of such farcical charlatanry that it needs only to be proposed to be repudiated. It is an attempt to revive and expand dead and gone know-nothingism into a national secret order, to galvanize into a baleful underground life some of the worst infamies of the past. So far as the influence of the attempted revival goes in the South, where the Ku Klux Klan had its original brief existence, it is enough to say that the proposition, so far as we have observed, has been repudiated, denounced or ridiculed by every Southern newspaper, and that no public man except the extraordinary Senator Watson of Georgia has exhibited even a latent sympathy with it. Certainly the South at this day needs no secret and violent agency to protect it against "negro supremacy," and the hurtfulness and futility of such an agitation would condemn an attempt even if other fanaticisms and prejudices were not linked up with it. The thing is essentially ridiculous, but it seems that fools of the malignant type are numerous enough, if banded together, to require occasional castigation at the hands of the sensible and well regulated members of the community.

NEED OF A RAILROAD POLICY.

From the New Republic.

IN little more than a year the American railroads have passed from public to private control. The change is not being accomplished without friction. The railroad workers resent the loss of advantages they gained under the Railroad Administration. The status of the Railroad Labor Board is in process of definition. The administration in Washington is engaged in determining the limits and conditions of public control. In each of these questions organized labor has a direct and immediate concern. The terms of a refunding bill are of as direct an interest to organized labor as a decision of the Railroad Labor Board. Why is it not the duty of the spokesmen of American labor to draft the terms of an exhaustive railroad policy and to lay it before the country with their indorsement?

THE LABOR PROBLEM IN ENGLAND.

A. SHADWELL in Atlantic Monthly.

IT is not so much profit-sharing as product-sharing, which has always seemed to me the true idea; and the ascertainment of the amount by a joint audit of the books is a recognition of partnership rights. It is in this direction that the solution of our most difficult industrial problem is to be found—the problem of output or working efficiency. The worst effect of war-conditions and governmental control has been to foster and fix the habit of restricted output and slack work. The blame for it rests primarily on the employers, and it was bad enough before the war, but it is far worse now, and more responsible for the excessive cost of production, which has ruined our market, than high wage-rates. It is up to employers to cure it by a large-minded—in effect a revolutionary—change of attitude, which will give wage-earners a new status, a new interest and a new responsibility. There are serious obstacles. The first is the old evil tradition. A typical discontented but not revolutionary workman said to me lately: "The employers are changing their attitude, but it is too late." No, it is not too late, if the old tradition is sincerely, consistently, and purposefully abandoned. Here lies the danger of reactionary employers, who are the second obstacle. They will play into the hands of the theoretical system-mongers, who will seek to undermine and break up good relations and promote strife by every means in their power. These are the third obstacle. But they will have little power, if the enlightened employers are sincere and steadfast, and if they deal firmly with their reactionary colleagues.

FORMER KLEAGLE'S LETTER EXPOSING KLAN CONDITIONS

C. Anderson Wright Charges Imperial Staff Kept Bootleg Whisky at Palace and Lived in Drunken Orgy.

SAYS SIMMONS BROKE ALL OATHS OF ORDER

A Wonderful Patriotic Organization on Paper, but a Group Scheming and Unscrupulous in Practice, He Declares.

WHAT is the Ku Klux Klan?

How has it grown from a nucleus of 34 charter members to a membership of more than 500,000 within five years?

How have its "domains" and "realms" and "klans" been extended till they embrace every State in the Union but Montana, Utah and New Hampshire?

What are the possibilities of a secret organization that practices censorship of private conduct behind the midnight anonymity of mask and robe and with the weapons of whips and tar and feather?

At the end of months of inquiry throughout the United States the Post-Dispatch and the New York World today continue the publication of a series of articles in which answers to these questions will be offered.

C. Anderson Wright, president of the Mississippi Valley Aviation Club, and a reserve officer in the United States aviation service, has resigned his membership in the headquarters staff of the Invisible Empire of the Ku Klux Klan, in which he was a King KlEagle. He has written a letter to Imperial Wizard Simmons of the Klan, setting forth his reasons for withdrawing from the organization.

Wright is an honorary member of the aero clubs of 30 foreign countries, and has received citations and diplomas from 16 countries for his work in aviation both before and during the war. He was at one time publisher of "Talespins," national aircraft magazine.

Wright's letter to Wizard Simmons, exposing conditions in the Klan as he came to know of them, is as follows:

"New York, Sept. 13, 1921.
"Mr. William Joseph Simmons,
"Imperial Wizard and Emperor, Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan,
"Haynes Building, Atlanta, Ga.
"My Dear Sir:

"Confirming my telegraphic resignation of this date, withdrawing from membership in the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and my rank as King KlEagle, headquarters staff, with the assignment as chief of staff of the Invisible Planet, Knights of the Air; refusing from this date to further live up to the oaths of a Klansman or to obey your so-called Imperial instructions, permit me to state my reasons:

"A—First and of most importance that by and with Imperial authority every oath of a Klansman was broken by yourself and staff, which, without question of doubt, relieved me of any binding oaths upon the order.

"B—For reasons of your using my rank and name as a reserve officer of the United States Air Service in furthering the cause of the Ku Klux Klan in soliciting memberships from names which were furnished by the confidential lists of reserve officers and the subscribers of the publication, "Talespins," of which I was publisher and chief owner, which lists you obtained from me on the representation that they were for exclusive use of the Knights of the Air, an organization then in no way associated with the Ku Klux Klan.

"C—For reasons of the deplorable conditions existing on the Imperial staff, of continuous drinking of intoxicating liquors in the Imperial palace and elsewhere.

"I intend to expose the real internal conditions of the Invisible Empire, which secrets have only reached a selected few, even though my life has been threatened as a penalty for doing so, as I do not intend longer to let decent men and women be dragged into the mire of your corrupt and disreputable so-called imperial blessed few.

"And I defy you to attempt to carry out your death threat, even though I have already been subjected through your machinations to loss of business prestige through my unwarranted arrest and court proceedings and being forced personally to assume the debts of the Invisible Empire and of your propagation department known as the Southern Publicity Association; these indignities because of your refusal to honor drafts and expenses incurred in all good faith by me by authority conferred upon me by you in organizing the Knights of the Air in Philadelphia.

"Elaborating my reason (A) that by the imperial decree I was instructed to take over an office in Philadelphia formerly used by me in my publication business, for the purpose of sending out the original petitions to persuade Col. William Joseph Simmons (yourself) to head a new secret order of aeronautical people to be known as the Invisible Planet, Knights of the Air.

"That your chief of staff, and you, personally, kept postponing the time of settlement when these bills were presented, and that your final default in payment caused the creditors to collect from me by setting the machinery of the criminal courts of the State of Pennsylvania in operation as a means of obtaining immediate settlement.

"This settlement has been made at great sacrifice. My public exposure of your default is made for the purpose of saving other innocent victims from falling into the error of being deceived by your beautiful ritual and hidden oaths, preaching as they do clannishness, brotherly love, Christianity and morality.

"Supplementing my reason (B) that knowing of my devotion to the OFFICIAL BAN ON KU KLUX MEETING IN LOUISVILLE, KY.

Mayor and Board of Public Safety Forbid Gathering Advertised for Saturday Night.

ACTION TAKEN AFTER CONFERENCE

Announcement in Newspaper Yesterday Invited Citizens to Bring Wives and Hear Principles Stated

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—Louisville officials went on record yesterday as forbidding a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan organization here. An order to this effect was issued by the Board of Public Safety following a conference in the office of Mayor Smith attended by Chairman Paul Burlingame and Lewis Y. Johnson of the board, City Attorney Joseph S. Lawton and Chief of Police Ludlow Petty.

The action of the Mayor and Board of Safety was the result of a full-page advertisement in a morning paper, signed by William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard of the K. K. K., announcing that "Reverend Ridley will address the citizens of Louisville Saturday evening on the subject "what I know about the Ku Klux Klan." The advertisement said that the location of the meeting would be announced in Saturday morning's paper and invited citizens to bring their wives and friends. It was followed by a statement of principles of the organization over the name of Simmons.

Meetings Forbidden.

Some weeks ago the Mayor, noticing an advertisinment in the same newspaper announcing the organization of a local branch of the order, issued a statement in which he said he would not permit the organization to operate here.

Yesterday's announcement says: "Several weeks ago the Mayor announced that he would employ every lawful means to prevent the organization of a Ku Klux Klan in Louisville. Announcement is made in a newspaper this morning of a proposed meeting of this klan somewhere in Louisville on Saturday night, the place of meeting to be given out later.

The Board of Public Safety, acting in accord with the Mayor, hereby serves notice on the persons in Louisville promoting this organization that the meeting advertised for Saturday night will not be permitted.

Hall Owners Warned.

"The board also says to all owners and lessors of public halls in Louisville that it is their duty as patriotic citizens to refuse to rent a hall to this organization, and it serves notice on all citizens to remain away from this meeting or the vicinity of this meeting.

"Should any attempt be made to hold it in defiance of this order, any person who attempts to attend this meeting will be regarded as an unpatriotic citizen and a law violator and will be dealt with accordingly."

House to Get Motion for Investigation of Ku Klux Klan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Investigation by Congress of the Ku Klux Klan will be proposed in a resolution which Representative Tague, Democrat, Massachusetts, announced yesterday he was having drafted for introduction when the House reassembles next week. The proposed inquiry would be made either by a special committee or by the House Judiciary Committee.

Negro Organization Urges Federal Law Restricting Secret Societies.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—President Harding was asked to send a special message to Congress recommending a law prohibiting any secret organization "whose principles are contrary to the principle and the spirit of law and of the Constitution," in a telegram from the National Equal Rights League, a negro organization, today. The League concluded a week's sessions by condemning the Ku Klux Klan.

It was also announced the league would call upon the Department of Justice to investigate the Klan to determine if any Federal laws had been violated.

Officers elected for the coming year included J. T. Moppins, St. Louis, vice president.

HOW 26 NATIONS REPLIED ON ARMS BUDGET QUESTION

Only Seven Declined to Keep Appropriations in Next Two Years Within This Year's Total.

22 HAVE YET TO REPLY TO LEAGUE

Reservations Accompany Affirmative Answers, All Hesitating to Lead Way in Matter.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Only seven of the 26 nations that have answered the appeal of the League of Nations for an agreement to keep the military and naval expenditures budgets for the next two years within the appropriations for the current year have replied in the negative, says an official report from Geneva received and made public here last night by the League of Nations News Bureau. They were South Africa, Brazil, France, Finland, Poland, Greece and Jugo-Slavia.

These seven states, the report explains, all agree heartily to the general principle of limiting armaments.

Reservations accompany almost every one of the affirmative answers, it adds, declaring that the main reservation, which occurs in almost every answer, emphasizes the impossibility for any one nation to lead the way to disarmament without regard to what is done by other nations.

14 Governments Accept.

Two governments, Austria and Bulgaria, answer that the question has been settled for them by the peace treaties, which regulate the extent of their defensive establishments.

"Fourteen governments," the report continues, "accept the proposition with only such conditions as have been indicated above. These are: Bolivia, China, Guatemala, Australia, Canada, Belgium, Great Britain, New Zealand, India, Italy, Holland, Chile, Denmark and Norway.

"Spain, Japan and Rumania have given evasive answers, the spirit of which, however, indicates unmistakable agreement with the purpose of the appeal. Rumania agrees in practice, but points to the precariousness of its present situation in regard to Russia."

Japan and Brazil.

Japan, while expressing a desire that there should be an agreement on limitation of armaments, pointed out, the report says, that in view of the fact that the council of the league was studying disarmament plans, it did not believe it advisable to take any action on the recommendation of the assembly until these plans had been completed.

Brazil reported that, while the war enabled most other Governments to perfect their national defense, financial conditions forced Brazil to let its defensive measures fall so far behind that they have become inadequate to meet the requirements of the country.

Greece Points Out It Is at War.

Twenty-two Governments had not yet answered by Aug. 22. The three most important of these were Czecho-Slovakia, Sweden and Switzerland, all of which, the report asserts, are known to be in thorough sympathy with the disarmament idea. Most of the others are small South American states.

Finland, Poland and Jugo-Slavia declared that uncertain conditions in neighboring territories prevent them from giving any definite promise for the immediate future, while Greece called attention to its actual engagement in war with Turkey.

HYDE RELEASES $144,000 OF BEVERAGE INSPECTOR'S FUNDS

Action Insures Payment of Expenses of Department Controlled by Democrats.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 16.—Gov. Hyde yesterday released $144,000 of the apropriation for the support of the State Beverage Inspection Department, which is the remainder of the appropriation made by the regular session of the Legislature for this department. Funds for this department, which is still in the hands of Democrats, were not sufficient at the beginning of this month to pay the expenses of the department, but the Governor recently made a release to cover the expenses for August. Thomas "speed" Mosby is the State Inspector.

The State Bureau of Labor, likewise, is still in the hands of Democrats, and its funds have not been released, so that unless the Governor acts in this regard, September salaries and expenses of the department will not be paid.

HOW OTHER NATIONS ARE MEETING THE WORLD-WIDE UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION

State Aid and Shorter Working Shifts Provided in Some Countries While Private Funds Are Raised in Others to Aid Idle.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—That unemployment is not confined to the United States but is practically universal throughout the civilized world is shown by an article on "The Industrial Depression," printed in the March issue of "Labor Overseas," an official journal of the Ministry of Labor of Great Britain, and given out here by the Department of Labor.

"The article gives a concise statement of what various countries are doing to meet the unemployment situation.

It follows in part:

"During the winter and spring of 1920-1, millions of work people throughout the world have been without employment, although many urgent human needs were demanding satisfaction through productive labor. The fact illustrates the smallness of the progress that has been made in man's understanding and mastery of natural economic forces, as well as the extent to which economic well-being is liable to suffer disaster through the overriding exigencies of noneconomic 'political' forces—such as war.

Stagnation in Trade.

"The chief causes of stagnation in trade are easy to trace: The loss of the incomings from five years' reproductive investment and the waste of five years' destruction of capital; the reaction, too long delayed and therefore the more violent, from the inflation and extravagance natural in time of war; the accumulation of stocks with a view to the reopening of foreign markets followed by the realization that in many of these markets there is for the present no effective demand; the chaotic condition of the foreign exchanges—due not solely to economic causes; the confusion of money values and real values, which causes producers of all grades to demand a continuance of a high level of nominal remuneration, whether as profits or as wages.

"Such maladies of world-economics cannot be cured by simple remedies within any one country; and the record of remedial measures is with few exceptions that of the traditional palliatives and, primarily, of State subventions or doles. It is not proposed in this article to deal in detail with such measures as have become a common rule in all industrial countries—donations and insurance, benefits, the provision of emergency relief works, and the 'spreading-out' of work by short time or rotations of employment—but to note only novel devices or promising developments of the older schemes.

Measures Proposed.

"The salient features of the situation in various countries and particulars of the measures proposed for dealing with the crisis are indicated in the following paragraphs:

"Canada—Relief is given by the municipalities. The Government is investigating insurance systems. The Trades and Labor Congress proposes short-time relief work and advisory councils at employment exchanges.

"South Africa—It was reported in February that a bonus of £100 was being offered to men who would voluntarily 'sign off" at the Kimberley diamond mines. By January the Government had found occupation for over 1000 men on public works. The South African Industrial Federation proposes the creation of an unemployment fund by a levy on wages, a progressive tax on profits and a state subsidy.

"Latin America—In January the Chilean Government decided provisionally on a scheme of public works involving an expenditure of 30,000,000 pesetas; this includes the preparation in national factories of material for making locomotive engines.

"France—Short time is common in textile, metal and other factories. Local funds are being created and local public works promoted for the relief of unemployment. An endeavor is being made to induce former rural workers to return to the land, and the admission of foreign labor is now severely restricted.

"Germany—In answer to a memorandum submitted by the (Social Democratic) General Federation of Trade Unions, the Federal Chancellor declared that the feasibility of introducing a system of short shifts would be considered by a special committee of the Joint Industrial League, and that the winter rates of unemployment benefit would continue to be paid till May; large sums were being appropriated for public works, especially in districts where unemployment was serious; the Government recognized the necessity of limiting the profits which might accrue from public contracts.

Conditions in Italy.

"Italy—The expedients most generally adopted are short-time and public works. The Central Industrial Committee (of employers' associations) on March 25 resolved that costs, prices and profits must be reduced, and that former agricultural workers should be induced to return to the land.

"Belgium—With a view to providing employment in Belgium, extensive programs of public works have been prepared not only for the home country but also for the Congo Colony. A bill providing for compulsory unemployment insurance is being drafted. The Labor party and the Trade Union Commission propose that the Government should requisition at a fair price stocks of raw material (including coal), should distribute these to manufacturers who would pay a wage commensurate with the cost of living, and should arrange for the disposal of the product through sales commissions. The manufacture of standard suite of furniture was mentioned as one useful enterprise in which the state might co-operate.

"Switzerland.—A commission, including representatives of employers and workpeople, has been appointed to consider a scheme of compulsory unemployment insurance. Training courses for unemployed workers have been established in certain localities—metal and wood work and building for men; hygiene, domestic economy, etc., for women. Some opposition has been aroused by the proposal to make the payment of relief dependent on attendance at a course; local plebiscites are to be taken before the scheme is enforced. The courses are to be managed mainly by the workers' organizations. House-building subsidies are being granted by the Government in cantons where the local authorities contribute.

"Austria.—At the beginning of March many factories were reported by the Prager Tagblatt to be engaged on commission work for foreign customers who provided their own raw material, generally textiles or leather. Trade unionists at work in the metal trades have raised a fund for their unemployed comrades by contributing one hour's wages a head. By an order of Dec. 31, 1920, directions were given for systematizing employment exchange statistics.

State Relief in Denmark.

"Denmark.—The act passed in December for the provision of state grants for the relief of the unemployed was due to expire on April 1, but in March the Government introduced a bill to prolong the act till Nov. 30. The Government has rejected a policy of protective tariffs; duties on raw materials are to be reduced, railway freights lowered and state aid given to overcome credit difficulties. Schemes of training unemployed workers are being extended; metal workers are to be trained as riveters, for which class there is a considerable demand in the shipbuilding yards. Former rural workers who had been attracted to industrial employment are tending to return from the towns to the country.

"Norway.—In the budget a sum of about 5,000,000 kroner is appropriated for unemployment relief—mainly as subsidies to local authorities for the promotion of public works. Training classes for skilled workers have been started at Christiania, and a scheme of training for unemployed women has been approved by the Department of Social Affairs.

"Sweden.—On April 29 an act was passed providing 11,000,000 kroner for relief work. It is proposed to allocate a further sum of about 9,000,000 kroner for developments of the state railways, water power and telegraph services.

"Czecho-Slovakia.—The bill for state aid to trade union unemployment funds was passed by the Chamber of Deputies on March 11, and by the Senate at the beginning of April. The Government is arranging to carry out in 1921 works originally intended to be executed in 1922.

"Hungary.—At a conference of employers' organizations convened by the Minister of Commerce, greater protection for home industry was demanded. The Social Democrats are protesting against the closing of factories, as they consider that wages are so low that goods could profitably be exported. State aid has not been granted to the unemployed since August, 1919.

"Japan.—The unemployment crisis in the islands has been aggravated by the immigration of workers from Korea, which has been severely affected by trade depression and by a fall in the price of rice. Even in industries which show signs of revival, Japanese capitalists are tending to amalgamate businesses in order to reduce costs, and the number of workers employed is diminished rather than increased.

"International.—The International Federation of Trade Unions has issued a manifesto to affiliated organizations protesting against the view that unemployment can be cured by the limitation of output or by wage-reductions and calling for international action, e. g., in the distribution of raw materials."

CHINA'S ATTITUDE MAY ALTER JAPAN'S CONFERENCE PLANS

Intimated in Tokio That, if China Rejects Japan's Shantung Proposal, Japan May Refuse to Discuss It.

PROTESTS MADE BY PEOPLE OF CHINA

Plan Means Virtual Confirmation of Japan's Economic Position, Declare Students of the Subject.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Sept. 16.—It was intimated in responsible circles here yesterday that, if China declines the recent proposal of Japan with regard to the turning of Shantung over to China, which the Government considers eminently reasonable in nature, Japan might refuse to discuss the Shantung question at the coming Washington conference.

View in Pekin of the Japanese Proposals.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, Sept. 16.—Acceptance of the proposals of Japan with regard to the restoration of Shantung would mean virtual confirmation of Japan's economic position in Tsing-Tao and Kiao-Chau Bay, while returning to China normal jurisdiction, is the view of foreign students of China of the Shantung problem, after having analyzed Japan's note, which was made public yesterday at the Foreign Office.

It was pointed out that the lease of Kiao-Chau Bay includes the shore to the high water line, including the islands. This area comprises immense salt fields which are in the hands of private Japanese.

The same applies to the extensive former German fiscal lands and buildings acquired under treaty, the former at their value as agricultural lands, now greatly enhanced.

These holdings would be confirmed with clear title, which they do not have at present. The agriculture industry amounts to little, it is stated, but the loss of the salt industry would be serious.

Chambers of commerce and guilds of student bodies in various cities are bombarding the Government with protests against acceptance of the Japanese proposals.

MAN AT 72 ERECTS HOUSES COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

Well-to-Do Brooklyn Citizen Has No Assistance in Any Phase of Building.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Although entering his seventy-second year with enough money to retire and take up golf, Frank D. Johnson of Brooklyn continues to erect houses all by himself and sell them.

For the last 50 years he has worked 10 to 12 hours a day at this pursuit and now is putting up a one-man house on Gravesend avenue. No hands but his own have touched the structure since he started it.

Last July, while he was working on the house, it was struck by lightning. Digging himself out of the debris, Johnson rubbed some arnica on his bruises and was back on the job the next day.

Born in Boston, of Revolutionary War stock, Johnson expects to live to 100. He has all but two of his original teeth and scarcely a hair has fallen from his head.

"I could have knocked off and taken it easy, but if I had done so I would now be reposing in some graveyard," was the way Johnson put it.

Besides being a stonemason, bricklayer, carpenter, plasterer, plumber, tinsmith, painter, paperhanger, decorator, glazier, electrician, wood carver and cabinetmaker, Johnson studied all the ins and outs of laws governing real estate, so as to save all title searching and allied fees.

SAYS BIG PACKERS ARE REACTING TO STONE AGE

A. F. L. Secretary Attacks New System of Shop Representation Put Into Effect.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The new system of shop representation put into effect today by four of the big packing plants was attacked in a statement issued by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, as a "reaction to the stone age."

Secretary Morrison paid special attention to the provision of the new system which prohibits representation of employes by other than workers in the plants.

"This practically means that the right to counsel is denied to employes in reaching decision of the greatest importance in the life of the workers," said Morrison. "Besides at times of unemployment it places a tremendous economic power in the hands of employers. Controlling the jobs of the representatives of the workers, controlling their very lives, with the advantages which this control exercises upon the minds of the workers, employe representation is a tragic farce.

"Why should not employes have the right of engaging the best counsel that can be had to discuss their economic state with employers? The employers themselves exercise this right in everything they do. Why deny it to the workers? The reason is plain. These packers know that this denial of the natural rights of the workers means eventually that they shall control not only the jobs of the workers, but the life of the workers and everything to which such control contributes. The education of the workers' children, the character of house they shall live in, their very mode of life in every particular. The purpose, in short, is to isolate the workers from their fellows and make of them 'company' men instead of family men."

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate, is a constitutional treatment, and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

To Keep Hair Curly, Wavy and Beautiful

Here is how your hair can be curled, nicely, easily and harmlessly, to "stay curled." Before doing it up, apply a little liquid silmerine with a clean toothbrush. In three hours you will have just the prettiest curls and waves—and they will look and feel so natural you'll never think of doing without silmerine thereafter. You won't be troubled any more with hair stringing around your face—with burnt, uneven ends, nor with that dull, dead appearance. The hair will remain in curl ever so long.

Any druggist can of course supply you with liquid silmerine, and a few ounces will last you a long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and is really a delightful thing to use. It is doubly useful because of also serving as a beneficial dressing for the hair.

THREE GIRLS AMONG 5 PERSONS HURT IN MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Two of the Children Are Knocked Down by Auto, the Other by a Motor Cycle.

Catherine Hagen, 4 years old, of 1448 North Twenty-second street, suffered a fracture of the right shoulder last evening at Twenty-second street and Cass avenue, when struck by an automobile driven by Edward Kelley of 2314 Cass avenue, as she ran from behind a street car. Her condition is serious. Bernice Diamond, 6, of 2118 Cass avenue, who was with her, suffered several cuts.

Ida Miller, 7, of 1480 Shawmut place, was knocked down in front of 5723 Easton avenue by a motor cycle driven by Harry Freese of 5727 North Market street, as she ran across the street. She suffered cuts. Freese, who was thrown off, had an injury to his right leg.

Frank Wostington, 49, of 408A Morgan street, was hit by a machine driven by Robert W. Brown of Rock Hill road and Warder avenue, St. Louis County, at Newstead avenue and West Pine boulevard, when he hesitated in front of it. He suffered cuts and a sprained thumb.

ESCAPED PRISONER FOUND HERE

Edward F. Vollmer, 26 years old, who has been working as an automobile mechanic, was arrested in his room, 3216 Washington avenue, last night, to be taken to Sedalia, where he escaped from jail recently. He had been sent to jail for the theft of an electric fan. Vollmer said he stole the fan, which he sold for $5, because his baby was sick and he could not get work.

He said he climbed through the jail roof, at a place where it needed repairs, and that after getting away from the jail he walked 20 miles to Windsor and boarded a freight train on which he came to St. Louis. This was on Aug. 19, and his wife and child came here later. When the wife wrote to relatives in Sedalia for her clothing, the police learned where Vollmer was.

As Good as a $100 Bill and It Earns $1.75 for Its Owner Four Times a Year

Each $100 share of Union Electric Light & Power Company 7% preferred stock IS as good as a $100 bill—because it can always be sold for $100 in cash by any shareholder who bought it from the Company.

It is BETTER than a $100 bill— because it earns $7 a year of cash income for its owner, payable $1.75 January 1, $1.75 April 1, $1.75 July 1 and $1.75 October 1. These dividends are paid by check, cashable at any bank.

Twenty months ago, when Union Electric announced its purpose to maintain a constant par cash market for these shares in the hands of all who bought them from the Company, some folks said it couldn't be done.

It has been done. During these twenty months our Securities Department has resold over 10,200 shares for approximately 1200 shareholders. Every share was sold at par for cash, and without a penny of expense to our shareholders. for the service.

During the same twenty months, in addition to reselling the 10,200 shares for stockholders, the Company has sold over 17,500 new shares to more than 2700 home investors.

Most of our shareholders whose shares we resold were reluctant to let them go; but they needed the money to tide them over the hard times. Some others are mighty sorry they did let go, because they have since lost their money in other investments.

You can buy these shares at $100 each for cash, or $101 on a ten-monthly payment plan. Your monthly payments earn 7% interest until you make the final payment, get your stock and begin drawing 7% dividends.

There is no reason for any man or woman in the St. Louis district to let money lie idle, or earn less than 7%, when it can be invested with perfect safety, under these conditions, in the preferred shares of St. Louis' permanent and prosperous central station electric service institution.

GREEK CROWN PRINCE FIRED ON

By the Associated Press.

BRUSA, Asia Minor, Sept. 16.—Crown Prince George of Greece narrowly escaped capture by a band of mounted Turkish irregulars while enroute to this city from the battle front early this week. The motor car in which the Crown Prince, Gen. Stratigos and other officers were coming toward Eski-Shehr, was attacked by a band of Turks who opened fire from a hillside. The bullets came close to the Prince, but the driver speeded up the car and the party escaped.

HAREM IS DEFENDED BY TURKISH WOMAN

Nationalist Novelist Says That It Is Best for the Social Order.

By the Associated Press.

AUGORA, Sept. 16.—"The seclusion of the harem is best adapted to woman's nature and it is best for the social order that she should be there," declared Mufide Ferid Hanem, the Nationalist novelist and beautiful wife of Ahmed Ferid Bey, ex-Minister of Finances, to the correspondent in an interview. "The harem grew out of the intelligent understanding of the marriage relation. It represents the wisdom of the East."

"I am a reformed woman's rights advocate," she continued. "I used to yearn for the independence of the American and European woman, but now I believe the mistress of the harem is a superior product to the spendthrift Russian woman, the sentimental Austrian, the nagging English woman and the calculating, self-cultured American woman.

"To these women, woman's rights means the right to spend money on foolish finery, to marry late, and be childless. They live for the store and the theater. They are responsible for a good deal of factory labor expended in useless directions. They won't work with their hands to make their clothes, their minds are filled with fashions, novels and candies.

"Men have become their slaves, and you call this Western civilization. We Turkish women have had our heads turned by the effort to become like these civilized women, and in doing so some of us have lost our sterling old-fashioned qualities and become a costly, vain, destructive creature like our sisters of the West.

"We Nationalists are in favor of abolishing the theory of polygamy, though in fact it has long since ceased as an institution. But we are sure woman's place is the home, and the best way to keep her there is the harem, which gives her much liberty but not license. We are good housewives, we wear more or less a uniform gown and veil, in the streets, which prevents us being victims to fashion, and at home, if we do not wish to see our husbands we are not obliged to do so. Surely that is liberty enough."

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 16.—The Reconnaisance Francoise, a bronze medal, has been awarded by the French Government to Dr. Harriet A. Rice, a negress, for her services in French military hospitals during the war. The medal reached her today through the French embassy at Washington. FRANCE'S WHEAT AND RYE CROPS TO ABOUT REACH PRE-WAR LEVEL

Wheat Production Estimated at 359,497,000 Bushels, or 136 Per Cent of Last Year's Output.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The wheat and rye crops of France this year are about equal to the pre-war averages, the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates announced last night upon the basis of a radiogram from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome. The production of wheat is given as 359,497,000 bushels, or 136 per cent of the 1920 production, and 163 per cent of the average for the preceding five years; and of rye, 44,564,000 bushels, or 129 per cent of the 1920 production and 142 per cent of the average for the preceding five years.

The 1921 production of wheat in Egypt is given as 41,410,000 bushels, or 110 per cent of the 1920 production.

The production of corn in Spain is given as 28,030,000 bushels, or 101.2 per cent of the 1920 production, and 102.5 per cent of the average for the preceding five years; and in Hungary, as 24,487,000 bushels, or 49.6 per cent of the 1920 production.

The area of wheat sown for 1922 in Australia is given as 9,445,000 acres, and in South Africa, as 839,000 acres. The stock of wheat in Australia on Aug. 29 is given as 36,743,000 bushels.

FORMER KLEAGLE'S LETTER EXPOSING KLAN CONDITIONS

cause of aeronautics and my patriotic impulses in carrying forward the work of army aeronautics, and of my prestige with army officers both in the active and reserve service, you persuaded me to "dress up" in the regalia of a reserve flying officer, and in official capacity as such, to address audiences advocating the need of a secret organization to promote the waning science of commercial and war aeronautics; and instead of devoting my efforts to the cause of aviation, you deliberately schemed to divert them to the promotion of the Ku Klux Klan and yourself personally.

List of Reserve Officers Used.

"That the lists of the reserve officers of the army and marine corps and the subscribers of "Talaspine" were scientifically canvassed, with a questionnaire of the Ku Klux Klan, and after the process of elimination had been applied those eligible for membership in the Invisible Empire were canvassed for membership by your KlEagles from coast to coast.

"Detailing my reason (C) that while not being a temperance man myself, I was amazed on my first visit to the Imperial Palace, to be initiated into the use of Georgia corn whisky which was kept in quantities in the Imperial safe and under the Imperial bed of the Imperial Wizard, and constantly replenished by imperial bootleggers as the supply ran low.

"I further charge, and will prove, that under the disguise of sickness and supposed sojourn in Florida you continuously absented yourself "officially" from audiences, the real reason being that through over indulgence of whisky you were unfit to grant interviews or appear in public.

"The above are personal reasons for disavowing my oath in the Invisible Empire.

"Further, and of more importance, however, are reasons which affect the very foundation of our nation and our system of government, and which are vital to certain groups of our citizenry, namely, the Jews, the Catholics and all foreign born citizens, whose very existence in America is threatened by the nation wide spread of your secret and sinister teachings.

"I was persuaded to become a member in February, 1921, seven months ago. At first I was unaware of the true purposes of the order. Gradually I became enlightened, first through the lectures and instructions of Grand Goblin Hooper preaching bitter animosity against the Jews, the Catholics and all foreign-born citizens.

"An Organization for Evil."

"I became aware that the Invisible Empire was an organization for evil.

"If successful in its pretentions it would force all Jews and foreign-born citizens out of America and give the choice to Catholics of renouncing their faith and joining hands with the documents and preachings of the Ku Klux Klan, or being banished with the Jews and foreign-born.

"Not until after reaching Atlanta and remaining there in an official capacity for a month did I learn that the plan to g further, and if possible gradually obtain, through the use of secret ballot, or, if necessary, more stringent methods, control not only of State Governments, but of the National Government itself.

"It became unmistakably apparent to me that the Ku Klux Klan was on paper, a wonderful patriotic fraternal order, but in truth a scheming, unscrupulous organization, run by bigoted people, some of whom are dishonest, planning to overthrow our present constitutional form of government and substitute its own damnable and treasonable monarchy—invisible, secret and hidden—using the night robe and dagger to enforce your mandate as self-acclaimed Emperor and Wizard.

"Yours Very Truly,

"C. ANDERSON WRIGHT,

"King KlEagle of the Invisible Empire, assigned as Chief of Staff Knights of the Air."

El Paso City Council Forbids Meetings of Masked Persons.

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 16.—The City Council adopted on first reading yesterday an ordinance forbidding public gatherings or demonstrations of masked persons. Permits from the Police Chief are necessary for masked balls or carnivals. Supporters of the ordinance say it is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan.

Civil War Regiment Holds Reunion.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 16.—The Twenty-fifth Illinois Volunteer Infantry of the Civil War assembled here today at the National Soldiers' home. The regiment was formed in June, 1861, and assembled from time to time by companies in St. Louis, where, on Aug. 4, 1861, it was mustered into the Federal service under Col. Williams and hustled away to Southwest Missouri. The regiment lost heavily at the battle of Pea Ridge. Companies A, B and D were recruited from Danville and the surrounding country and the remainder of the regiment was from Decatur and Mattoon.

Enquirer-Sun of Columbus Thinks Names of Members of "Klan" Will Be Interesting News.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 16. — The Enquirer-Sun prints an editorial on the Ku Klux Klan today, which is in part as follows:

"The Enquirer-Sun begins today publication of a very remarkable series of articles—an expose of the sinister Ku Klux Klan from its inception, five years ago, down to date.

"This exposure of the so-called Invisible Empire is being made by the Post-Dispatch and New York World in the interest of society and of orderly government, and months have been consumed by special staff reporters in searching out and verifying the facts connected with this dark-lantern organization.

"In our opinion, the Post-Dispatch and World are entitled to all the support that other newspapers throughout the country can give them in making these facts known in every nook and corner of these United States.

"With this, and this only, in mind, the Enquirer-Sun determined on Friday last to join in this expose of the Klan; a decision which it reached four days after the Ku Klux articles began to appear in the Post-Dispatch and World, and which was made only because no other daily newspaper in Georgia seemed willing to run the risk or make the sacrifice of bearding this 'tar-and-feather fraternity' in its 'home den.'

"It may be noted, too, that the Enquirer-Sun waited to publish this exposure of the Klan until its 'Imperial Wizard,' or 'Supreme Klea-Gle' or some other grand grafter of the order, had threatened to sue for libel every newspaper that dared to publish this series of articles.

"While other newspapers of the United States are doing what they can, and running the risk of libel suits—if there be any risk in exposing a fraud of this character—it might seem to be a rather serious omission for no Georgia newspaper to join in the exposure; particularly when the venomous thing was chartered and first raised its hooded head in this State.

"Again, it seemed to us, that, since these 'libel' suits are to come—$10,000,000 worth of them, so one of the Klan's great 'Hob-Goblins' declares—it would be doubly out of place not to have at least one of these suits tried right here in Georgia, where the original membership list and all the other membership lists are kept, or are supposed to be kept.

"As we have remarked before, we want to bring those sacred and guarded membership lists into court, and we know of no better way to do it than to stand suit for 'libel'—as if anybody could libel anything that hides its face behind a mask and works in the dark.

"There will be something of a revelation in Georgia when this happens; there will be something of a revelation right here in Columbus—for some of these names are going to look mighty funny in print when we see in cold type for the first time just who are these '100 per cent Americans' that are trying to 'save the nation.'"

DIDN'T KNOW GUN WAS LOADED, NEGRO GIRL SAYS OF SHOOTING

Four White Girls Were Fussing With Her and She Meant to Scare Them, She Declares.

By the Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 16.—Jewel Clipper, 8-year-old negro girl, who was responsible for the race riot at Montlake, Wednesday night, after she had wounded four white girls, declared in jail last night that she did not know the gun was loaded.

"No sir, I didn't know that there gun was loaded; them white girls was fussin' with me, and I just aimed to scare them," the girl said.

Some of the negro families who were driven from the village by enraged miners are still camped along the road at the foot of the mountain, and others are said to be hiding in the cliffs.

Edna Barnett, one victim of Jewel Clipper's shotgun, is in a critical condition at a local hospital; while members of the negro girl's family are still held in jail for their own protection.

WOMAN HIT BY BULLET WHEN IN AISLE OF HI-POINTE AIRDOME

Police Unable to Learn Source of Shot That Slightly Wounds Mrs. Edmond Manahan.

Mrs. Edmond Manahan of 6732 Oakland avenue was shot through the left breast by a stray bullet as she was going down the aisle of the Hi-Point Airdome, 6900 Clayton avenue, at 8:30 last night. She was accompanied by her husband and son, James.

Policemen could not learn the source of the bullet. One theory was that boys shooting birds fired it. The bullet passed out near the point of ingress and the wound was of a minor nature. Mrs. Manahan went home after treatment by a physician.

$20,000 Alienation Suit Filed.

John C. Losch, auditor for the Standard Oil Co., yesterday filed suit for $20,000 damages against John Friede, proprietor of a welding company at 3127 Pine street, alleging alienation of the affections of his wife, Mrs. Mary Losch. S. M. Bass, attorney for Losch, said that the latter recently left his home at 3021A Allen avenue. Friede was a boarder in the Losch home and claimed to be the owner of the property, the lawyer said.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—Today will probably be the biggest day in Mexico's celebration of the 100th anniversary of its independence from the rule of Spain, Sept. 16 being Mexico's most important national holiday. A huge parade of the military and civic bodies planned for today will be reviewed by President Obregon from the balcony of the National Palace. There will be a diplomatic reception and 70,000 children who have been trained in different parts of Mexico City for several weeks will sing en masse a national hymn composed especially for the occasion.

Throughout the republic, especially in Mexico City, numerous projects commemorating national independence have been planned to continue until the middle of October.

President Obregon has announced that the celebration is to be more for the great masses of peasant population than for society folks. Free entertainment, partaking of carnival and fiesta, is to be provided; the usual quotas of band concerts will be increased; theaters and motion-picture houses have been requested to reduce their prices to a minimum, and everywhere it is the intention of Federal authorities to make September and October months of happiness wherein the dark days of past revolutions will be forgotten.

Handicapped by lack of recognition by the gerat Powers of the world, the numerous public spectacles planned for the national capital will not be the occasion for splendid diplomatic parades.

Special Envoys Designated.

Numerous countries, however, have designated special envoys to represent them, including Argentina, Chile, Peru, Brazil, Spain, Germany, Holland, China, Japan and Italy. The United States will not be officially represented at any of the functions, according to present plans. Representatives of other nations have arrived at intervals during the past month and have been extended lavish hospitality by the Mexican Government.

The Centennial is to be made the occasion for numerous other events. A season of grand opera with Martinelli, Stracciari, Tito Schipa, Claudia Muzio, Julia Clausen and Lazzari among the singers has been inaugurated. The lawyers of the republic will hold a convention to discuss legal reforms and the first good roads congress ever held in the republic will meet in Mexico City. A convention of physicians looking toward better hygienic conditions, especially child welfare, will be held, and numerous social organizations have called sessions to meet at this time.

Excursion to Pyramids.

Gen. Antonio Villareal, Secretary of Agriculture, has announced that one day will be given over to an excursion to the pyramids and excavations at San Juan de Tectihuacan, when President Obregon and all the centennial guests of the nation will be shown over the ruins. The usual number of banquets, receptions and balls to fill in any chance vacant hours has been provided.

In order to add to the happiness which he hopes will be nation-wide during the month, President Obregon has used his influence to secure the release of all prisoners who have served material portions of their sentences. He has also directed that amnesty shall be granted political prisoners, including those in exile from former revolutions.

The various foreign colonies in Mexico City are co-operating to make the celebration a success and have presented to the Government substantial gifts as evidence of their good will. Monuments and tablets have been the most popular presents, but the American colony took a more practical view and has provided four public playgrounds for Mexico City children.

An industrial exposition is to be held in conjunction with the Centennial, although not under Government sponsorship. The legislative palace, begun by Porfirio Diaz but never completed, has been utilized for the exhibits.

FRAUDULENT SOLICITORS OUT

Red Cross Officers Hear of Collections Taken by Imposters.

It has been brought to the attention of the Red Cross, St. Louis Chapter officers announce, that recently several individuals have been soliciting funds and selling articles in the name of the Red Cross. Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the Red Cross, has issued the following statement:

"The Red Cross makes but one appeal each year to the public for funds, which is at the time of its annual roll call. No individual or organization is allowed to solicit or accept money in behalf of the Red Cross at any other time without official authorization. Persons representing themselves as collecting money, selling articles or in any manner obtaining funds in the name of the Red Cross without official sanction, are imposters and should be turned over to the police. This statement has been made necessary by instances above referred to."

LET NO CORN SPOIL AN HOUR

Any Corn Can Be Stopped Now, Any Moment, by a Touch.

Science has solved the corn problem. One can now stop a corn ache instantly, and shortly remove the whole corn.

The method is gentle, scientific, sure. A famous chemist invented it. A surgical dressing house of world-wide fame produces it.

It is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. A touch applies it. The pain stops at once. Soon the whole corn, however ancient, loosens and comes out.

It makes harsh treatments unnecessary. It makes paring ridiculous. It makes every corn ache a folly.

Your druggist has Blue-jay. Let it end your corn—tonight.

Even more beautiful by day!

Cleopatra's method

Cleopatra knew this secret. She observed a daily ceremonious cleansing, as the ruins of her sumptuous marble bath testify. The cleansers she used were the same you may have today, palm and olive oils.

For these beautifying oils are scientifically blended in famous Palmolive Soap. They give it mildness, wonderful soothing qualities, profuse, creamy and refreshing lather.

Cleansing with Palmolive is a beauty treatment in itself with no danger of roughness or irritation. No woman should say her skin is too sensitive to use soap until she tries Palmolive.

While evening with its flattering lights is kindest to those whose beauty is artificial, the girl whose complexion is radiant with natural beauty is prettier by day. For the all-revealing sunlight only enhances the charm of a clear, fresh skin. It emphasizes its freedom from all imperfections.

Best of all, every girl can have such a skin. The secret is simple, as you will see when you read what we tell you here.

Stimulate your skin

The tiny pores and cells which compose the surface of your skin must be kept active, or dangerous sluggishness soon results. Accumulations of oil, perspiration, combine with dirt to clog the skin. Then blackheads and blemishes result.

Powder, cold cream or rouge may help conceal this condition but they will not eliminate the trouble. A thorough cleansing every day is the remedy. It will start your skin to working again and help it do its own beautifying. Smoothness and a charming natural color will soon reward you.

After you have washed your face is the time to use cold cream. Then it is very beneficial. Powder and rouge are perfectly harmless if removed before you sleep.

Popularity reduces price

To use Palmolive is not an extravagance, as is that of many modern luxuries. The millions who are using it have helped us reduce the price because they keep Palmolive factories working day and night. This allows us to buy oils in vast volume—another economy.

Wherever you are or wherever you go you can buy Palmolive for 10 cents a cake. The attractive green cake, the natural color of the oils, is within the reach of everyone who appreciates that cleanliness is the greatest beautifier.

ARGUMENTS OF VOLIVA THAT EARTH IS FLAT

Overseer of Zion City Declares There Is No Proof That It Is Spherical.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The story of "The Village that Voted the Earth Is Flat" has an earnest adherent in Wilbur Glenn Voliva, Overseer of Zion, the religious community that Alexander Dowie founded at Zion City, a little north of Chicago.

Declaring that there is no proof whatsoever of the sphericity of the earth or that the earth has any motion, Overseer Voliva says he is "prepared to refute modern astronomy, scientifically as well as from the standpoint of the Bible." Here are some of the points he advances:

"All standing water is level. Let any one disprove it if he can. They cannot disprove it. This is conclusive evidence that the old Pythagorean-Copernican system of the sphericity of the earth is false.

Tower Seen 82 Miles Away.

"A man stood at Kingston, Jamaica, and saw the lighthouse at Havana Harbor 82 miles distant, which is another conclusive proof that the sphericity of the earth is a fake.

"The midnight sun has been seen hundreds of times, but it would be absolutely impossible to see it on a sphere. You would have to look through hundreds of miles of earth and rock.

"There is a railroad in South America 2000 miles long which is almost perfectly level. The Suez Canal is 100 miles long without locks and with scarcely any rise at all. Where is your curvature of the earth? There is none.

"No wonder higher critics and modern believers in the Copernican system of astronomy laugh at the flood and say that such a thing as a flood could not occur on a globe or a spherical earth—and I agree with them. They are perfectly right. That is what the devil intended when he invented the modern astronomical theory—to destroy the Word of God.

"They say that eclipses are caused by the earth passing between the moon and the sun, causing the shadow; but how can you have an eclipse with both the sun and the moon above the horizon? It is a matter of record that there have been a number of eclipses with both the moon and the sun above the horizon. No one knows what causes eclipses.

Laughs at Sun's Distance.

"They tell you that the sun is 92,000,000 miles away. I laugh at that, not only as a mathematician but also as a student of God Almighty's Word.

"Did God Almighty create the earth and then create a light to light it up and put it 92,000,000 miles distant and make it a million times larger than the earth? What kind of a fool would build a house up in Kenosha and erect a light a hundred miles from it to light up the parlor?

"They say that science is not speculation; but if science is true, then there can be no conflict between it and the Word of God—but when it comes to the Word of God, they have not a leg to stand on. I will take the Word of God and down any modern astronomer on the face of the earth and dispose of him in less than 30 minutes."

GERMAN HOUSEWIVES ASK FOR RECOGNITION AS LABOR UNION

Husbands Expected to Be Asked to Put Wives on Salary and Share in Housework.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN Sept. 16.—The National Association of German Housewives has asked the Prussian Parliament to recognize it formally as a labor union, but the request was denied when it was learned the organization's constitution had failed to specify whether the housewives were employers or employes.

The rejection of the request disclosed differences of opinion among members of the various branches. Some asserted that women who did their own work were employes, while housewives having maids or other hired help were employers.

Objections particularly by peasant members, to classifying married women whose household duties were performed by servants as "professional wives," brought about an attempt to evade the issue by the use of the words "professional callings" instead of laborers, in the constitution.

Explaining denial of the application which would have given the organization official privileges enjoyed by labor unions, the Parliamentary spokesman said:

"An organization must justify under the statutes by its activities the right to be designated as composed of professionals."

In connection with the association's activities, which extend virtually to all towns and hamlets, with thousands of members, there is much discussion as to whether an attempt will be made to enforce the demands by strikes, lockouts or arbitration. It is even suggested that the ultra-radicals supersede the present conservative officials. There is a probability that husbands will be asked to put their wives on a salary and recognize woman's equality by sharing in the work of cooking, washing and caring for the children.

SEVERAL KANSAS BANK WRECKS DUE TO SPECULATION

More Closed in State in Last Few Months Because of Defalcations of Officers Than in 10 Years.

TWO OR THREE MORE UNDER SURVEILLANCE

Money Found to Have Been Lost in Some Wild Scheme in Each Case, the Commissioner States.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 16.—A serious "crime wave" is developing in the Kansas banks and the State Banking Department is doing a good deal of worrying about conditions which have come to light in the last few months. Following the great wave of prosperity in the wake of the war period the idea seems to have struck numerous young men that they were invincible. They felt that they could gamble and speculate to their hearts' content with other people's money and would be able to make big profits for themselves and return the money to the bank vaults when necessary.

In the last few months there have been more banks closed because of defalcations of officers in Kansas than during the last 10 years. There are numerous banks under close surveillance by the State Banking Department because of suspicious conditions found in the institutions by the bank examiners.

List of Wrecked Banks.

Here is a list of the bank wrecks in Kansas of a short time:

Kansas State Bank at Salina; H. J. Lefferdink, cashier, missing. losses may aggregate half a million dollars.

Hanover State Bank, Hanover; August Jaedicke, president, a fugitive for several months, later returned and was punished. Losses aggregated $200,000.

People's State Bank, Salina; Earl McChesney, cashier, under arrest for making false entries in the bank books.

People's State Bank, Coffeyville; Newman brothers both in the Kansas penitentiary for embezzlement. Losses aggregate $200,000.

Aulne State Bank, Aulne; V. O. Johnson, cashier, under arrest for embezzlement.

Viola State Bank, Viola; Orville O. Spitlet, cashier, charged with the embezzlement of $20,000 worth of Liberty Bonds.

People's State Bank, Spring Hill; Irvin Williams, cashier, under arrest for embezzlement. Losses may go above $50,000.

State Bank at La Cygne; F. W. Pollman, cashier, under arrest for embezzlement. Losses exceeded $50,000.

Few Bank Robberies Now.

A few years ago the Kansas Banking Department was fighting bank robbers with all the forces at its command. There were two gangs of these robbers and after more than a year both bangs were cleaned out and most of the members put into prison. For the last two years Kansas has not been seriously disturbed by bank robbers, except around Kansas City, where highwaymen would make raids into the small towns and get away with whatever cash the bank happened to have on hand at the time.

But the most serious form of bank robbery is really that within the bank itself, when the cashier or other officer undertakes to make a "killing" of some kind. In the investigations of every one of the banks listed above it was developed that the officers involved had indulged in wild speculative enterprises. One had purchased a New Mexico ranch. Another had invested thousands of dollars in German marks. Another had purchased and was building a model stock farm. Others were trading in grain and stocks, and some were just careless.

"With things going along on a boom it was easy for these men to carry on their operations," said F. H. Foster, State Bank Commissioner. "It is almost a physical impossibility to catch a smart man juggling the books until there comes a squeeze of some kind. The bank examiners were fooled by the proper entries and the proper notes and everything looked all right. But when the speculative furore was over, then came the crash. They found that their securities were not of as great value as they were. Their cattle was not as good security as formerly and the pinch came and the men decided to face the music and gave up.

Failures Not Unexpected.

"While the number of bank failures in Kansas has been unusually high, it is not unexpected. All of the failures came as the result of improper manipulations of the officers. In one case this was enhanced by bad judgment in the handling of the business. It also is not so unusual that we have a wave of bank wrecks by defalcations following a high speculative trend. That is what has happened in Kansas this year. There may be two or three other banks which must be closed and the officers prosecuted for mishandling bank funds before the situation is completely cleaned up."

Bill Brennan Says That While Hugh May Be a Walker, He Doesn't Know What It Is to Run

Bobby Jones' Brilliant Golf Features Country Club Play

Atlanta Youth Delights Gallery of 300 With His Deadly Mashie Niblic Pitches to the Pin—Scores 73 From Back Tees, and, Paired With Armour, Defeats Guilford and Ouimet.

By Roy Stockton.

The interest that the public is taking in the National Amateur Golf Championship, which will be held at the St. Louis Country Club beginning tomorrow morning was demonstrated yesterday afternoon when about 300 persons trudged over the 18 hole course to watch Bobby Jones of Atlanta and Tommy Armour, former amateur champion of Scotland, defeat Jesse Guilford and Francis Ouimet of Boston in a best ball match. Several hundred more followed other practice foursomes.

For the first time during the practice rounds, the championship tees were used. Despite this added distance, which made the course far more hazardous, Jones turned in a medal score of 73. Only twice did Bobby fail to putt out. On the fifth hole he had a three-foot putt for a four and when Armour already had gone down in four to halve the hole, Bobby carelessly tapped his ball toward the cup. It did not drop in, but he was given a four. The other instance was on the ninth hole, where Armour already had holed his fifth. This time a four-foot putt was conceded to the brilliant youth from the South.

Jones Sets a Fast Pace.

Jones played by far the best golf in the foursome. He and Ouimet were the only ones able to go 18 holes without picking up. Guilford had a bad round going out, picking up his ball when in trouble on the second and fifth holes. Armour picked up on the eleventh hole, after hooking into the trees.

Jones went out in 37 and came back in 36. He showed especial skill with the mashie niblic. Time and again he pitched high into the air and dropped within a few feet of the pin. On the twelfth hole he drew prolonged applause from the gallery. His midiron from the tee was pulled a bit and lodged in the rough ground to the left of the green. He pitched high into the air, the ball dropped three feet beyond the pin and kicked back an inch or too, so excellently was the backspin applied. The uncertainty of putting was illustrated here when after Guilford and Ouimet had each gone down in three and Armour had missed his third, Jones missed the short three-foot putt.

Bobby Takes a Chance.

Bobby displayed a daring spirit on the eighth hole. Guilford, Ouimet and Armour chose to shoot well to the left on this hole, which is shot from a high tee. Tall trees, the tops of which are just a bit higher than the tee, border the fairway, which bends sharply to the right. Jones did not hesitate. He shot straight over the trees and landed far over them, well beyond a ditch which would have caught the shot had it been a trifle short. His mashie niblic dropped the ball dead to the pin and he won the hole with a "birdie" three.

Armour and Guilford attracted much attention during previous practice rounds because of their great distance from the tee. Jones, however, though only in his 'teens, was even or beyond both on virtually every hole. His approach shots were far more accurate than those of any other member of the foursome and his putting was as good. If he should meet any other member of the foursome in a tournament match he would be a favorite with the great majority of the gallery which followed the play.

One of Game's Best Stylists.

Jones, who learned golf under the teachings of Stewart Maiden, now professional at the Country Club, is considered one of the game's best stylists. His swing with wooden club and iron is all that could be desired in rythym. He instantly chooses the right club and not once yesterday did he "underclub" himself. On the putting green he wastes not a second. He walks up to the ball and hits it without any of the preliminary wagging of his putter or sighting for pay seeds which characterizes the putting of nine out of ten golfers.

Jones is sure to be a popular favorite with the galleries. He is a pleasant mannered youth. He loses his temper occasionally, but he gets mad at himself. He maintained a smile and pleasant word for everybody yesterday, even for members of the gallery who almost knocked him down in their rush to gain a vantage point from which to watch the play.

Jones' record of yesterday follows:

Out ....5 4 3 5 4 4 4 3 5—37
In ......4 4 4 4 4 5 3 4 4—36—73

Bockenkamp Shoots an 80.

Richard Bockenkamp, considered one of the St. Louis hopes in the tournament, took his first practice in a week over the title course. He played in the morning and took an 80, goin gout in 38 and back in 42. He said he preferred to avoid the mistake of playing himself into a weakened condition by too much practice.

The gallery had many high-class matches to watch. Bob Gardner of Chicago, who went to the final of the British amateur championship in 1920, losing to Cyril Tolley, played 18 holes in the morning. He picked up on several holes, he said, and did not keep a score carefully. He said he was in the upper seventies. There were many who watched him play yesterday who thought it would be a good idea to place a wager that he would reach the final. But there are many stars who look like they will be hard to beat.

Jess Sweetser, who as a boy learned golf at Normandie, played in the afternoon with Lawson Watts and Ralph McKittrick. He now lives in New York and represents the Siwanoy Club. Chick Evans, national amateur champion, will arrive today.

WRAY'S COLUMN

About Bobby Jones.

ONE of the question marks of the United States golf championship tournament which begins tomorrow, at the Country Club links, is Robert T. Jones of Atlanta, a pupil of Stewart Maiden, the local club's golf professional.

While instructor at Atlanta, Maiden developed Jones when Bobby was in short trousers. He was 15 when he played in his first United States tourney. He is hardly of age today, although for four or five years he has figured prominently in national championships and even in international play. He was a member of the "big ten" team that represented this country last summer in the British amateur and open championships.

Bobby is one of the great players of the country. In the open tournaments it has taken top professionals to beat him. In the recent event for the national open championship Jones had three wonderful rounds, with a 73 high; but in the third round he soared and ruined his title chance with a card of over 80.

Missed Chance at Pittsburg.

MANY times he has "come close"; several times he has been finalist or semifinalist in important tournaments. At Pittsburg against David Herron he figured to have his best chance to win in the final.

But he lost.

Thus far it has appeared as if something always intervenes at the crucial moment to defeat his hopes and his wonderful playing. He has knocked at the door of many high honors, but always he has fallen short.

Tomorrow his hour may begin. Certainly he is one of those expected on all sides to reach the semifinals and possibly the deciding round. He has one weakness that stands in his way—lack of poise. He has little patience with himself, when he makes a slip. If he has through experience conquered this, the British, American and Canadian champions, all of whom are contestants in tomorrow's qualifying round, and the five or six former U. S. champions entered will know they have "been to the races."

Jones' wonderful playing at Washington is still fresh in the minds of many, who see in him a player certain to conquer his weakness and rise to the top.

The "Long Ball" Champion.

GOLF tournaments are not won from the tee; nevertheless the player who probably will come in for as much attention among the Country Club visitors during the coming week as any player outside of the semifinalists is Jesse Guilford, the Bostonian. Guilford is the "Bambino" of the golf world. When his driver connects the gallery sucks in its breath and then explodes in uncontrolled "Ahs!" For when Guilford hits the ball it goes for a championship "ride."

When Guilford limbered up at the Country Club the first day after his arrival here, he was the sensation of the little gallery that watched him at work. A leading local player who followed him said:

"I never saw such driving in my life as Guilford showed both morning and afternoon. On the 575-yard thirteenth hole, for example, on which none reaches the green under three, Guilford made a two-shot hole of it. I never saw such a terrific drive as he made in the afternoon. It was so good that it made up for an indifferent second shot. Guilford ought to negotiate this green with a drive and an iron effort regularly. I think he is the longest hitter, amateur or professional, I ever saw.

"He stands fairly close to the ball, contrary to the usual case with long hitters, most of whom get as far away as their club lengths permit. His stance is fairly upright and his swing the same. He takes a fairly fast back swing. His length, while it may not win tournaments, puts him on the green in two on certain holes that force the average golfer to take three strokes."

The long driver is the envy of all other golfers. Like Babe Ruth, his average may not be so good as some of his rivals, but the caliber of his artillery wins the applause of the fans.

Featherweights Ready for Bout

Kilbane to Defend Title in 12-Round Bout Against Frush Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16.—The day before the 12-round bout for the featherweight championship of the world between Johnny Kilbane, titleholder, and Danny Frush of Baltimore, challenger, found an air of confidence at both training camps over the outcome.

Andy Chaney, featherweight, who won the Tex Rickard elimination tournament at Madison Square Garden last winter by defeating Charley Beecher, Sammy Sieger and Tommy Noble, has sent word that he will be at the ringside to challenge the winner. Seat reservations also have been made for three champions—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight; Benny Leonard, lightweight, and Jack Britton, welterweight.

Fair weather is predicted for tomorrow afternoon by Weather Forecaster Emery, who declared he sees no storm in sight to interfere with the bout.

MUNICIPAL BICYCLE CHAMPIONSHIP RACES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

A series of five bicycle races make up the program for the seventh annual municipal championship meet, which will be held tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting, at Fairground Park. The first event is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30 p. m.

Besides the mile-and-a-quarter juvenile and city championship sprints, the card will include the two-and-a-half and 10-mile handicaps and a special mile-and-a-quarter race for boys under 12 years of age as a preliminary.

This year's city championship sprint promises to produce some keen competition for the crown held for five years by James B. Freeman.

In picking the winner, Nelson of the Centurys will undoubtedly be the choice, as he holds a mark, made last May, a fifth of a second faster than Freeman's best time for the Fairground course. If he can repeat this form, Layton and Martin will have to step at a lively clip to land the championship.

The course will be the west end of the Park driveway, and will be blocked from traffic during the meet. Oliver F. Hassemer, local N. C. A. representative, will be in charge, and entries can be filed as late as race time Saturday.

Loughlin Beats Reilly.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 16.—K. O. Loughlin of South Bethlehem successfully defended his title as welterweight champion of Pennsylvania by defeating Johnny Reilly of this city in every round of a 10-round bout. Reilly was knocked down four times.

Brennan Batters Walker, But Fails As Title Prospect

Big Chicagoan, With 30 Pounds Weight Margin, Has No Trouble Winning.

By John E. Wray.

Hugh Walker of Kansas City, heavyweight boxer, either has a subnormal nervous structure or he is the gamest boxer that has stepped into a ring in this vicinity in many days. Outweighed 30 pounds by Bill Brennan of Chicago and outclassed in ring experience and craft by his ponderous foe, severely damaged as early as the second round, Walker not only hung on to the end of the 12-round engagement at the Coliseum last night, but he made trouble for the "second best boxer in the world," at times. At the end of the bout his face had been battered until it resembled a gargoyle; but he still had spirit enough to receive Referee Harry Sharpe's verdict against him with a contortion of his swollen features intended for a grin.

The bout, which followed a whirlwind program of four interesting contests, was by comparison slow, and the 3000 spectators present found little to cheer except the courage and gameness of Walker.

From the beginning it was evident that Brennan was the master. Doing most of his damage with savage little hooks and jabs, close in, Brennan opened a cut over Walker's right eye and another under his left eye in the second round, that did not add to the Kansas Cityan's plight. A big "mouse" was added underneath the right optic in the third and as the rounds progressed new landscape alterations were added to the Walker map. In the third row ringside a woman fainted, presumably at his aspect.

Walker Proves Tough.

Brennan was 10 or 15 pounds overweight and was boxing with deliberation. He was eager to put Walker away, but the latter, walking in behind a barricade of crossed forearms and gloves, left openings for only short tearing jabs that were responsible for his facial appearance.

In vain Brennan appealed to Referee Sharpe to make Walker "step back." Walker knew that his salvation was in keeping close, and there he stuck to the close of the bout, damaged superficially, but apparently not seriously hurt.

Brennan did not appeal to the crowd as being "the next best man to Dempsey." However, his overweight handicapped him and Walker's "covering" tactics prevented him from getting a clean smash at his foe. Brennan did not seem to fear Walker's artillery and took several hard blows nonchalantly.

After the bout the thought most frequently expressed was: "How in the world did Brennan last 12 rounds with Dempsey?"

The contest, of its kind, was interesting enough and was obviously the best that both men had to give under the conditions.

Kerns Earns Referee's Penalty.

The battle of the evening saw the spectators shocked almost into spasms when Referee Walter Heisner raised George Butch's hand awarding that boxer the verdict over Jimmy Kerns of East St. Louis in the 8-round semi-windup. Although Butch had floored Kerns in the first round for a count of nine, Kerns had punished Butch seriously in the later periods, had knocked him down and had scored the most points. Referee Heisner explained after the contest that, despite warnings, Kerns had continued to hold Butch after each lead and, therefore, had been penalized.

Harry Webb, formerly of the 13th and Harry Ritzer interchanged wallops to the great delight of the spectators for five rounds, with Webb flooring Ritzer twice in the fifth round. In the sixth a terrific smash to the jaw sent Ritzer down and as he rose his lower jaw hung down. He appeared at the mercy of Webb and Referee Shea, at the request of Ritzer, stopped the bout. It was learned later that Ritzer's jaw was either fractured or dislocated and he was put under the care of a doctor.

The show was intended as a benefit for the disabled veterans' fund but the Enlisted Men's Club, which had been hoping for a good profit, was disappointed. It was estimated last night that the house would not be much over $5000, although checking had not been completed.

Many Women Present.

About 300 women were present and 14 of the boxes contained women spectators.

Spectators were seated by girl ushers under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson. The details of the show were directed by the five members of the boxing committee who sat at the ringside. The event was perfectly handled from every standpoint.

The net profits of the show will form the nucleus of a fund to be augmented by subsequent entertainments and dispensed by a committee consisting of Maj. Horace Rumsey, Col. John H. Parker of Jefferson Barracks, Mayor Kiel and W. C. Connett.

MLLE. LENGLEN SAYS FEAR OF DEFEAT DID NOT CAUSE BREAKDOWN

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Suzanne Lenglen scoffed today at stories that have been going the rounds here to the effect that she had been fearing defeat for years and that the reversal she recently experienced in a match at Forest Hills with Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory caused her to suffer the extreme nervousness that marked her conduct in subsequent court appearances.

The French girl declared that she was not afraid to play any woman in the world and that she was not afraid of defeat. There is no disgrace in defeat, she said, when the player has put forth his best effort. She aded that she would, if able, go to the courts tomorrow against any opponent selected.

A. R. de Joanis, vice president of the French Lawn Tennis Federation, who accompanied Mlle. Lenglen to America, said that Mlle. Lenglen really had been and still is sick.

Giants Win, 5-0, in First Game at Pittsburg

Pop Bottle Hits Umpire McCormick on Head Late in Game.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 16.—New York took an early lead in the first game of the most important series of the National League opening here today. Five runs were scored in the third inning on a series of six hits for a total of 10 bases. Hamilton, who began the pitching for Pittsburg, was replaced by Glazner after four of the runs had been scored.

These were the only scores of the game.

Toney, pitching for New York, contributed one of the singles after Rawlings had singled and Snyder doubled. Bancroft then made a triple, Frisch a double and Kelly a single.

The Giants are leading the league for the championship by two and one-half games and have 12 games to play, while the Pirates have 15. It is generally expected that this three-game series ending Monday will decide the race.

The game opened under cloudy skies. There were 25,000 persons in the stands.

Late in the game the fans protested a decision at second-base by Umpire McCormick. They threw many pop bottles from the stands, one striking the umpire in the head. He was not seriously hurt. A detail of 25 policemen escorted him from the field when the game was over.

CARPENTIER READY TO FIGHT TOM GIBBONS BY FEBRUARY, RICKARD SAYS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Georges Carpentier will meet Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for the world's light heavyweight boxing championship next February at Madison Square Garden.

Tex Rickard, promoter, received today a radio message from Manager Descamps, in which the latter stated that Carpentier would be ready and fit by that time to defend the title he won from Battling Levinsky.

"I had no doubt that the French idol would return here and meet Gibbons, according to the contract I have with him," said Rickard. "Carpentier never enters the ring unless he is fit, and he wanted plenty of time to rest the injured hand he hurt in the Dempsey bout. I have no date set for the match, but will likely stage it the first week in February."

The bout originally was to have been held Oct. 12, at Jersey City.

Kenosha, Wis.—The first gridiron accident of the season occurred when Edward Forkin, high school player, sustained a double fracture of the left leg.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Ted Drewes and Fred Josties will play Kamman and Schwarz in the remaining semifinal match in the district doubles. Josties and Drewes should win this match and enter the finals.

TRADE IRREGULAR AND LESS ACTIVE ON STOCK MARKET

Early Strength, Especially in Steels, Results in Gains of 1 to 3 Points, but Upturns Not All Held—Rails Are Little Changed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review, says:

"The behavior of today's markets was consistent with the recent apparent tendency toward a slackening in the intensity of speculative activity. Stocks were traded in somewhat less actively and displayed a certain amount of irregularity. Early strength, particularly apparent in steel stocks, resulted in numerous gains of 1 to 3 points, but during a slack afternoon session these advances were just about cut in half. Oil stocks were reactionary and rails were little changed. Call money opened at 5 per cent, but was again lowered to 4½ shortly after noon.

"Cotton again showed a tendency to settle back moderately. Good weather, a reaction at Liverpool and less favorable trade reports were factors in the movement. It is apparent, however, that this market was considerably over-bought last week, so that a quieting down with sagging prices is a perfectly natural development. December showed a loss of 42 points at a late price of 19.10 cents. Trading in wheat was less active and prices fluctuated uncertainly. Early weakness carried December down to $1.26½, but a good rally subsequently put in back to $1.29½ for a 1-cent gain. This market is now sensitive to variations among the foreign exchanges and to such factors as reports of rains in Argentina."

Exchange Market Firmer.

"With business less active, a firmer tone appeared among the foreign exchanges. German marks rallied sharply from last night's close of 0.92¼ to 0.97 of a cent. The supply previously in evidence apparently had dried up, so that active bidding resulted in a rapid recovery. The circumstances suggest that this particular wave of German settling, which it is understood to have been entered on for the purpose of paying off short term loans secured in connection with the recent reparations payment, is ended. Most of the other European exchanges held steady. Sterling was unchanged at $3.70½, while French francs were off 1 point at 7.03½ cents. The weak spots were Polish marks and Greek drachmas. The former recorded a new low of 0.02¼ a cent and the latter fell to 5¼ cents, which is a half cent less than its recent value. Greek operations against Turkey probably are exerting a general influence in the matter, but London more specifically mentions the failure of a Greek attempt to obtain a loan in that market.

Reserve Ratio Improves.

"The latest Federal Reserve statement abundantly proves that the previous week's reaction in reserve ratio was nothing more than a temporary incident associated with Labor day demands for currency. With a fresh gain of $31,000,000 in reserves and substantial reductions in the note circulation and deposits, the ratio for the 12 banks has jumped up 1.3 per cent to 67.5 per cent. The previous reaction was, in other words, much more than made up. Most of the regional banks shared in the improvement, the only considerable exceptions being those at Kansas City and Atlanta. The latter bank found it necessary to borrow another $3,000,000 from those at Boston and Cleveland, as a result of which the total amount of interbank accommodation increased slightly to $71,000,000. This figure, however, is still far short of that reached last fall and winter. The Dallas and Minneapolis banks, on the other hand, continued their improvement, and each was able to reduce the amount of its borrowings from sister institutions. It would appear, accordingly, that the heavy gold imports and liquidation of frozen credits continue to offset demands incidental to the new crops, and this, with something to spare. Any serious tightening of the money market this fall, therefore, becomes increasingly unlikely."

Germany Regulates Bourse.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—The Bourse Committee has decided that from Oct. 1 the Bourse shall open half an hour earlier and close half an hour later than at the present time. Dealings in dividend-bearing stocks will be permitted only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. No dealings will be permitted before 11 o'clock in the morning. Listed stocks will be increased with a view to counteracting wild speculation in unlisted stocks.

The Vorwaerts, discussing the financial situation, points out that while Germany's financial position has steadily become worse, the economic situation has materially improved.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Unfinished cotton goods and yarns yesterday were steady. Prices were advanced on branded lines of cottons to a parity with gray goods and raw cotton. Raw silk was firm, with slight advances in China grades. Burlaps were firm with heavy weights scarce and higher. Knit goods advanced moderately on fair buying.

German Mark Issue.

By the Associated Press.

BERIN, Sept. 16.—The official Reichsanzeiger says that on Aug. 31 there were issued 10,915,500,000 marks (Reichsdarlehenkassen scheink) backed by the Government, of which 7,798,284,000 marks are in circulation.

The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany for the week ended Sept. 7 showed that in addition to the Reichsbank's notes there were 10,947,600,000 marks paper in loan bank bills in circulation which did not figure in the bank statement, but passed an equal footing with currency. They represent advances made by the Government to loan banks and are covered partly by stocks of merchandise. The bank statement showed that the Imperial Bank had a gold reserve of 1,023,708,000 marks and a note circulation of 80,727,526,000 marks, or roughly only one mark in gold to over 80 marks in paper, not taking into account the new issue of Aug. 31.

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The three most important episodes in the financial situation today were a still easier drift in the money market, following the further improvement in the Federal Reserve Bank ratio, the instant success of the $25,000,000 offering of Canadian National Railway bonds, which proved a stimulus to the entire bond market, and the leadership assumed on the Stock Exchange by the Steel shares.

It was not that money and discount rates were actually changed, but there was an increasing pressure on the part of lenders to do business at the minimum quotations reached recently. The commercial paper market was more definitely established than it has been so far upon a basis where buyers were anxious to pay 6 per cent, while sellers of the better class of names were holding off for 5⅞. Along with this went larger offerings of bankers' acceptances and a ready supply of call funds at 4½ per cent.

The principal significance attaching to the Canadian bond issue was that a smaller return was offered to subscribers than in the case of any new security flotations so far.

That these bonds were promptly oversubscribed on a 6½ per cent basis was a very striking bit of testimony to the upward tendency of the investment market. It was immediately reflected, as it was bound to be, in greater activity and strength throughout the general bond list.

Steel common, going through its previous high for the present movement, and drawing along the other steel shares, was the feature of the day in stocks.

Under the lead of the steels the general market rallied, although the inspiration for the upward movement still came from pools and professional operators. With Steel common, Bethlehem B, Republic Iron and the rest pushing ahead, there was considerable shifting of speculative accounts into them from other accounts.

Such recent favorites as Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker and the Tobaccos manifestly felt the effect of this diversion of interest. They lagged behind, while the Steels were moving up, and when later the upward movement in the Steels slackened, these former leaders were inclined to sag off. Railway shares were neglected throughout. The dullest part of the session was the late afternoon.

* * *

The Bond Market.

Today's bond market generally was active and strong, influenced on the one hand by the easing money market and on the other by the unabated appetite shown for new security offerings. Books were closed on the $25,000,000 Canadian National Railways loan as soon as they were opened this morning, and it was announced that the issue had been heavily oversubscribed, despite the fact that it was offered to investors on a 6½ per cent basis, the lowest rate at which any railroad has tried to float its securities this year.

Liberty Bonds were all higher, helped by the great success attending the recent $600,000,000 issue of 5½ per cent Treasury certificates. These notes were taken nearly two and a half times over, and today commanded a premium of a quarter per cent. There was no particular feature in the foreign Government sections. Norway 8s were strong, around their high figures. French 8s, while up from their recent low, were still hanging fire. The French 7½s were similarly heavy, and so were the Japanese issues. Canadian 5s of 1926 were fractionally lower, while United Kingdom 5½s of 1937, Chile 8s and Belgian 7½s were all steady. City of Copenhagen 5½s were strong, around 82.

In the railway group Chicago, Burlington & Quincy joint 6½s were in demand around top figures. Big Four 6s were a feature getting into new high ground above 94. These bonds are up over 6 points in less than a month. Erie general 4s gained a point, at 43, and Baltimore & Ohio 6s were up to a new high of 93½. Local traction bonds were somewhat easier, but Hudson & Manhattan incomes were heavily dealt in and struck a new high level of 45. Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s were also strong.

PROFIT-TAKING AFTER FIRM START ON CURB

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A sharp falling off in dealings was a feature of the curb market today. There were intervals of several minutes between transactions on the ticket at times. At the start the tone was steady to firm, but with few exceptions the higher prices brought out profit-taking sales, causing recessions from the highest.

Commission houses again reported sales of stocks on balance, but some of the larger sellers of stocks were reported purchasers of bonds, indicating that customers were exchanging speculative issues for investments. The professional operators were less active and pool manipulation was on a smaller scale than earlier in the week.

McAndrews and Forbes common continued the strong feature, moderate buying orders on the increased dividend causing an advance to another new high record for the present movement. Offerings were scarce in the stock, and selling orders were only attracted at advancing prices. R. J. Reynolds displayed firmness. The low priced tobaccos responded only moderately. Philip Morris, Tobacco Products, and United Retail Candy, which is classed in this group, were little more than steady. Glen Alden was moderately higher, but Denver & Rio Grande preferred and Amalgamated Leather were easier.

Southern Petroleum and Refining reached another new high mark, and Maracaibo had a fractional upturn, but the other recent active issues, including Cities Service common, Standard Oil of Indiana, Skelly Oil, International Petroleum and Carib Syndicate, were slightly easier.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—At the wool auction sales yesterday 9827 bales were offered. The smaller selections met with a steady sale, however, and the auction closed with prices firm.

Compared with the July closing prices the figures of the present sale showed that superior scoured merinos and fine medium crossbreds were up an average of 15 per cent and inferior merinos and coarse crossbreds up 10 per cent. The home trade bought 70,000 bales, the Continent [illegible] and 5750 bales were held over.

Fairly Good Wool Business.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "There has been a fairly good business accomplished in wool this week, although the trade has not been very evenly distributed. Prices have firm, and low grades are inclined to strengthen slightly. A better tone also is reported in the goods markets. The foreign markets are all strong."

IRREGULAR PRICE RANGE TO WHEAT ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Bears had an advantage in the wheat market today owing to sterling exchange depression. Complete ending of the Argentine drouth tended also to weaken the market. Commission houses led the selling, and there was an absence of any aggressive support. Initial quotations, which varied from ⅛c to 1¼c lower, with December $1.27¾ to $1.28 and May $1.31 to $1.32½, were followed by a decided further setback, and then something of a rally.

Subsequently the market scored an advance owing largely to an upturn in foreign exchange and to reports of damage by rain northwest. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅝c higher, with December $1.29 to $1.29¼ and May $1.33 to $1.33¼.

Corn was easier with wheat, opening unchanged to ⅜c lower, December 53⅜c to 53⅝c, and then sagging all around.

In the later dealings, corn hardened in response to the wheat rally. Corn closed unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c lower, with December at 53½c to 53⅝c.

Talk of better export call in prospect tended somewhat to steady oats. After starting unchanged to ⅜c off, the market declined a little more, and then recovered in full.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

BOTH CATTLE AND HOGS SELL AT LOWER PRICES

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., Sept. 16.—Today's estimated receipts: Cattle and calves, 2000; hogs, 7500; sheep, 1200; horses and mules, none.

CATTLE—The light run of cattle here today consisted principally of western offerings, market for which ruled steady to 15c to 25c lower in spots. The few native steers available were near steady and butcher stock, cows excepted, also in line with yesterday. Cows were again slightly lower in spots. Stockers and feeders were about steady, veal calves like yesterday, top on best lights registering at $13.50.

HOGS—Hog market opened 15c to 20c lower, but later developed further weakness and closed 25@35c lower. Early top was $8.70 and later $8.50. Bulk of hogs for the day inclusive of offerings weighing 230 pounds sold from $8.50@8.60. Hogs weighing 270 to 300 pounds sold from $8@8.25 and extremely heavies weighing 375 to 400 and better at $7. Pigs brought $8.40@8.50 early, but later went at $8.25, or about a quarter lower. Sows at $6.25 and stags at $5.25, showed 25c lower than for the preceding day. The day's receipts were estimated at 7000.

SHEEP—A supply of 1200 sheep and lambs proved too many for the trade and prices on lambs declined 25@50c, the best natives selling from $8.50@8.75, although one load of choice Kentucky lambs went as high as $9. Culls sold at $5 and fat sheep at $3@4, the latter class showing no change for the day.

HORSES AND MULES—Fresh receipts were negligible today and light trading was conducted. The horse market for the week proved a slow, draggy affair despite a material reduction in receipts. Mules held about steady on a moderate offering.

There was nothing new in the refined situation with the demand light at 5.60c to 5.65c for fine granulated. Refined futures were nominal.

Futures closed steady; approximate sales, 2300 tons; October, 2.62c; December, 2.38c; March, 2.33c; May, 2.38c.

IRREGULAR COURSE FOLLOWED BY COTTON AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—While moderately active, the cotton market was quiet as compared with its recent extreme activity, with prices showing a tendency to work lower during today's early trading. The earlier cables from Liverpool were better than due, but prices there sagged off just before the local opening and the market here started steady at a decline of 10 to 30 points. There was some Southern and Liverpool selling as well as scattered realizing, but the offerings were pretty well taken right after the call by trade buying. Some rebuying by traders who had taken profits on long contracts earlier in the week was also reported and the early fluctuations were irregular, with December working up from 19.15c to 19.35c, while January fluctuated between 19.10c and 19.30c, compared with 19.45c at the close yesterday. The weather map was considered favorable, but bullish spot advices from the Southwest helped to sustain the early market.

Rallies on bullish spot and rumors of low condition figures failed to attract any important buying and prices weakened later under increased liquidation and local pressure. A good deal of the selling was made in small lots, probably representing commission house accounts, but there was not much support and the break carried December off to 19.04c, while January sold at 18.87c, or 48 to 58 points net lower.

There were rallies of 15 to 20 points during the early afternoon, but the trading continued quiet and the market showed continued nervousness, with December ruling around 19.10 shortly after 2 o'clock, or about 42 points net lower.

Cotton futures closed easy: October, 18.67s; December, 19.00c; January, 18.85c; March, 18.80c; May, 18.65c.

KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRES

There are few more uncomfortable feelings than the sensation of skidding or the constant dread of it when sudden showers convert the dry asphalt pavements into dangerous highways. Once you have ridden on the new Kelly Kant-Slip Cord over slippery streets, you will experience a feeling of safety that will double the joy of motoring. And best of all this tire will deliver the great mileage you generally get from a Kelly.

The exhaustion of war-priced materials and the economies made possible in its great new plant have enabled the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. to reduce prices drastically.

Now you can buy Kellys for the same prices you will have to pay for other tires that have always sold for less.

The quality of Kelly products is better than ever. The only cut is in the price.

Keep Things in Their Proportions

THE man who gets a grouch because his golf score was bad yesterday has a bad perspective.

Even if golf were important, a bad score one day would make no difference. There are plenty of days to come.

Don't take things seriously unless they are serious.

If a man is impolite to you in a trolley car, forget it. Get angry and stay angry and your day will be upset, and your work will be of poor quality as a result.

If your friends or your relatives do not behave exactly as you think they ought to, remember that their lives are theirs, not yours.

You can't be responsible for the behavior of all the people in the world. Why get fussed because anybody in particular isn't acting exactly the way you would act in the same circumstances?

Your neighbor may not know how to raise his boy, but that needn't cause you to complain about his incompetence as a parent.

The chances are that the boy will turn out all right anyway. Most boys do.

If you find that the city officials you elected last year aren't competent, wait till next year and try to get a new ticket elected. Don't storm and rage and say the town is going to the dogs and there is no prospect of ever getting good men into office.

There is a great deal that is bad and unpleasant in the world. Doubtless you can help to better some of it, but don't try to better it all.

And don't be disappointed or annoyed when little things go wrong.

The writer has seen men throw their hats on the ground and stamp on them because they had missed a train, when another train would be along inside of an hour.

Their sense of proportion was out of trim.

We all worry too much over spilled milk; we all see too many storms in perfectly harmless clouds.

Keep your sense of proportion—which is really your sense of humor.

It may not add any years to your life, but it will make those allotted to you much pleasanter and happier.

The Rospigliosi Coupe—Benvenuto Cellini.

ONE of the greatest treasures in the Metropolitan Museum, New York, is a cup called the Rospigliosi Coupe, in the Altman collection. This cup, a salt cellar of gold and enamel, brings home strikingly the almost unbelievable value commanded these days by antiques. True, it is a large salt cellar, perhaps six inches wide by eight inches long, but even so, it seems incredible that Benjamin Altman paid $250,000 for it, as much as the French nation paid Bartholdi for the wonderful Statue of Liberty.

Why was that price paid for it? Because the man who fashioned it was Benvenuto Cellini. This may not mean much to the layman, but to the collector the name is a magic [illegible], spelling perfection in the goldsmith's art.

Benvenuto Cellini, goldsmith, jeweler, sculptor, pampered by Popes and Princes, ranks as the equal of Raphael, Titian, Da Vinci, among the great Italian artists of the Renaissance, and the Rospigliosi Cup is a masterpiece worthy of him. The cup, a beautiful ornamented shell of gold, rests on a dragon, and has a turtle for a pedestal. Upon the shell is a sphinx upon which Cellini has lavished the utmost resources of his art and has produced a masterpiece. In the Rospigliosi Cup America certainly possesses one of the finest works by the old master.

A Detective Story in Five Daily Installments.

(Copyright, 1921).

FIFTH INSTALLMENT.

"How can you say so? I am keeping all the glory for you. Glory on ice. All ready for Inspector Mordan. So gather your roses while you may. Talking of roses, what do you think of the hybrid Austrian briers?" He explained what he thought of them to a silent audience, sliding gracefully into an appreciation of salmon eaten at Waterford, at Exeter and at Berwick. Few are the men who will not talk about food. The detectives produced much valuable experience of bourgeois cookery, and the dinner went merrily. In its later stages Reggie became silent and watched the clock. He seemed to grudge Inspector Mordan his cheese, and as soon as it was swallowed made a move.

"Well, doctor, I did think we should have had some coffee," the Inspector chuckled.

But Reggie was already making for the door. By the door stood his chauffeur looking for him. Reggie beckoned impatiently to the detectives and followed the chauffeur out. He led them to the main line departure platforms. It was near the time of the Harwich boat-train. A dark, wiry man was registering some luggage for Amsterdam. By his side stood a veiled woman of full figure. Both he and she carried suit cases. As the man turned round he bumped into Reggie, who was looking the other way, and seemed to have some difficulty in disentangling himself. He glared at Reggie and hurried away. The woman was ahead of him.

Reggie grabbed Supt. Bell. "See that pair. Take them both. Picking my pocket. Get the bags."

Bell and Mordan hurried after the pair. Bell tapped the man's shoulder and he jumped round.

"I thought so. You'll come with me to the station, my man," said Supt. Bell, with admirable calm.

"What is it?" the man cried. His accent was slightly foreign. "What station? What do you mean?"

"You know all right," said the superintendent. "I am Supt. Bell of Scotland Yard."

"I do not know at all," the man protested. "What do you want with me?"

The woman saw Reggie. She hissed something to the man in a foreign argot, and turned to run. The superintendent laid hold of her. Inspector Mordan closed with the man. The Inspector was large and brawny, but at the end of a moment he was on his back and the man making off. Reggie dived for his legs in the manner of Rugby football, and they went down together.

The railway police came on the scene. The man was handcuffed, and he and the woman and the two detectives packed into a cab. Reggie and Gordon followed in another to the police station in Old Jewry.

When they arrived, the two prisoners were already in the charge-room and the woman was protesting vehemently, to the great edification of the uniformed inspector at the desk and a plain-clothes friend of his, and the embarrassment of Superintendent Bell and Inspector Mordan. It was an outrage. Why did they assault her and her husband? Why? They were respectable people. She would not endure it.

"Oh, Flora, Flora!" Reggie shook his head at her.

The woman whirled round on him. "You! Ah, it is you, then, the doctor. You are a traitor. You are a wicked villain. I spit upon you." And she did. The man said something to her in the strange foreign argot they seemed to use between themselves, and she was silent.

The plain-clothes man came forward grinning. "Why, Bunco! It is my dear old pal, Bunco! What have they got you for now, old thing?" The man scowled. Dusty and bruised from the scuffle and in the ignominy of handcuffs, he had still a certain arrogant dignity. He was well made for all his slightness, and the strength which had upset Mordan showed in his poise. It was a dark, aquiline face with a good brow, but passionate and cruel.

"What is the charge, doctor?" said Superintendent Bell.

"Oh. On the seventh instant—murder of Wilhelmina, otherwise Birdie Bolton," Reggie drawled. "Better search them."

"It is a lie!" Flora screamed; and continued to scream.

Reggie and Gordon were smoking in another room when Bell and Mordan came back with the results of the search. A suitcase was put on the table, opened, and seemed to be full of light, a mass of jewels.

"Can you identify, gentlemen?" Mordan said.

Superintendent Bell laid on the table a sheath knife. An unusual knife, rather long, rather narrow, rather stiff. "I'll identify that," Reggie said, and took it up. "That's the thing that killed her!"

"Coo!" said Mr. Gordon. "You've got a real head, doctor. This is Birdie's bunch all right. Swear to those rubies anywhere."

"Who's the man?" said Reggie.

Superintendent Bell sat down with a bump. "He asks me that." He appealed to the company. "I put it to you. He asks me that! The woman—she's Miss Bolton's maid, of course. But the man"——

"Oh, he's Ford's chauffeur. I told you to watch Ford. But you only sat on the steps of his flat. You've given me a lot of trouble, you know. I was up all last night. Chauffeur doesn't sleep in, of course. But who is he?"

"We call him Bunco in the force," said the Superintendent meekly. "He's a jewel thief. Quite in the front of the profession. American-Austrian, I think. I believe Nastitch is his name—Alexander Nastitch or Supilo."

"Croat, I think," Reggie said. "This knife—they use 'em down that way."

"Coo! Tell us something we don't know," said the little Jew.

Reggie laughed. You may have noticed that he had his vanities. He passed his cigar case round. "Where will I begin?" said he.

"At the beginning, please," Mordan grinned.

"The inspector touches the spot as ever. Well, it hasn't been quite fair. I had the start of you. On the day before the murder Birdie Bolton consulted me. She hadn't been sleeping well. Heard noises at night. Now you see your way, don't you? No? Dear, dear. And I showed you that broken rose! Well, well. These two beauties, Flora and Nastitch, I suppose they got their situations to have a go for the jewels. Nastitch, as Ford's chauffeur, would have an excuse for hanging round the house and a car to use. He's had the car out of the garage till the small hours several times. I think he got in by the window last week—more than once, perhaps. And each time poor Birdie stirred. Better for her if she hadn't, poor girl. But they didn't mean murder, bless 'em. So they chose to drug her. There was morphia in that coffee. As you heard today, Birdie didn't drink hers. Another rotten chance. So May Weston went to sleep while Birdie was storming at her. Birdie raged off to her room. Whether she got out that will and tore it, we'll never know. It may have been Flora's little game. Nastitch came in, reckoning she was sure to be sound, and Flora was with him, I think. Birdie was very wide awake. There was a struggle and he stabbed her. He's a hot-tempered devil, as you saw today."

"This is all very pretty, doctor, but it ain't all evidence," Mordan said.

"You're so hasty. When she was dead they took her into the boudoir where the Weston girl was asleep. They laid her on the couch and stabbed at her with her scissors and the bodkin. Filthy trick. That was what May Weston saw in the opium dream. Then I suppose they cleared the safe, and Nastitch went off. Flora annexed the emerald ring. Her perquisite, I suppose. Now, you shall have your evidence. When I came to the body I saw those scissors never did the business. Ever tried killing anybody with scissors, Inspector? Poor game. No. We wanted something like this." He fingered the knife affectionately. "Just like this. Also somebody had left his mark on Birdie—a queer hand—a hand that wasn't quite all there—long fingers with no top joint. Did you notice Mr. Nastitch's left hand?"

The detectives looked at each other.

"That was in a burglary in New York," said the Superintendent. "He escaped out of a window, and a Constable smashed his hand on the sill."

"So I photographed the wound and the bruise. Well, when I saw Weston I saw she had really been drugged. Contracted pupils, bluish pallor. Morphia. Same symptoms in Ford. Why should they drug themselves and not drug Birdie? That ruled them out. Also, I surprised Flora in Birdie's bedroom doing something by the bed. When I browsed round afterwards I found a wet bloodstain under a clean rug. When Flora knew the Weston girl was arrested and the jewels had been missed she chucked the ring into Weston's room. While you were searching the house I drifted into Miss Flora's room. Several medicine bottles about. One of 'em empty. That had carried a strong solution of morphia. So I set my chauffeur to watch for Flora. And that night she went off to the lodgings of Nastitch. She's been buzzing round ever since. Well?"

"Well, sir, it's a good thing you didn't take to crime," said Supt. Bell.

"Oh, that's much harder," said Reggie.

MAXIMS —OF A— Modern Maid

Marguerite Mooers Marshall

MARRYING a naughty boy to reform him is taking a long chance, but marrying a "mother's boy" with the same end in view is having no chance at all.

Women admire the beauty of women as keenly as connoisseurs admire an "old master," and, like connoisseurs, they detect, resent and expose imitations.

One reason for the present unpopularity of crying among women is that some of them have found man's emotional safety valve, swearing, just as much of a relief and without unbecoming after effects.

A man likes to think that he asks his wife's opinion on investments because he is so broad-minded, but the real reason is that he wants somebody to blame when they go wrong.

Of all "womanly virtues" patience is the most overestimated. It is another name for procrastination, weakness or sheer laziness.

Since no man was ever known to pick up anything, to put anything away or to leave a room as neat as he finds it, even the most devoted wife thanks her domestic gods that her husband isn't around all the time.

The real trouble with marrying a man for his money is that payment so often is deferred.

What to Do Until the Doctor Comes

By Charlotte C. West, M. D.

Snake Bite.

VACATIONISTS and excursionists should prepare themselves for every emergency. There are many different species of poisonous snakes in the United States, and some persons are far more susceptible to snake venom than others. Also the majority of persons are exceedingly ignorant on the subject of venomous and harmless snakes.

Poisonous snakes are thicker in proportion to their length than harmless snakes. Their skin is rougher, their heads are broad and flat, while their tails are club-shaped. Harmless snakes are as a rule slender, with long narrow heads and pointed tails. The pupil of the eye of a venomous snake is vertical, whereas that of a harmless snake is round.

The symptoms of every kind of poisonous snake bite are the same. Pain in the wound with swelling and discoloration of the tissues, which are rapidly destroyed. The effect of the poison is upon the centers in the brain that control the heart and lungs. These are paralyzed, so that breathing becomes very difficult and the action of the heart very labored.

What is the first thing to do? Prevent the poison from entering the blood stream. Do this by cutting off the circulation above the wound or between the wounded part and the heart with anything you have on hand, a handkerchief, a strap, a strip of clothing, anything you can tie around the limb and improvise a tourniquet. Loosen this in 15 minutes. Meanwhile enlarge the wound and make it bleed. Cut a slit—if you have no lance use a fine penknife blade—through the wound lengthwise of the limb, two inches long and half an inch deep. Squeeze the tissues to force out the poison with the blood.

Next wash out the wound with a fresh solution of chloride of lime—1 part to 60 parts of water. If a hyperdermic needle is at hand inject permanganate of potash—30 minims of a solution of 5 grains to 2 ounces of water—into the patient's body at three different points, also pour a solution of permanganate into the wound, or, better still, use the pure crystals. It is positively established that permanganate of potash will destroy nearly its own weight in every class of snake venom.

In sending for a doctor, mention the trouble, so that he comes prepared to administer anti-venomous serum. Do not give whisky if the serum treatment can be had—otherwise support the patient with a tablespoonful of whisky in a half cup of hot water every hour and keep him moving around to keep his nerve centers alive.

OLD ENGLISH PICKLES

A VERY old recipe for mustard pickles calls for four cups of sliced cucumbers, four cups of midget cucumbers, four cups of diced green tomatoes, four cups of small white onions, four large green peppers diced and one large cauliflower broken into small pieces; do not chop the above but cut in even sized dice. Cover with a brine made of half a cup of salt to eight cups of water and let stand 24 hours. After 24 hours bring to a boil in the brine, and then drain off all the brine. Mix to a paste six tablespoons of dry mustard, one cup of floor, one tablespoon of turmeric, one cup of sugar and one cup of vinegar and mix smooth. Place on the stove seven cups of mild vinegar, stirring constantly. Mix with the drained vegetables and place in clean jars, seal tight and store in a cool dark place.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Striped Chipmunk Makes a Change.

Don't put off. You're tempting fate;
By and by may be too late.
—Striped Chipmunk.

IT is provoking to have to change a thing which you have thought just suited you. Don't you think so? Most folks do. Striped Chipmunk did. He almost lost his temper over it.

That little round doorway that quite by accident he had made in the middle of the path along one side of the Old Orchard had suited him so well that he had decided to keep it. It was where no one would think of looking for it, and for this reason Striped Chipmunk felt that it was safer than one hidden in the kind of place that an enemy would be likely to search.

But now Black Pussy had found it. How she had done so Striped Chipmunk didn't know, and he didn't waste any time in wondering. It was enough for him that she had. It had so nearly cost him his life that he shivered to think of it. Never had he had a more narrow escape. He had popped out of that little round doorway without first looking to see if all was safe, and he had popped almost into the very claws of Black Pussy. All that had saved Striped Chipmunk had been the falling of a certain little apple right on Black Pussy's head just as she started to jump.

"I know that Cat," said Striped Chipmunk, talking to himself as he sat on the old stone wall looking over toward that new doorway. "She'll be back. I know her. Something has frightened her away now, but she'll be back. She'll spend half her time watching that doorway of mine. When I am out I can always tell when it is safe to go in, but when I am in I can never tell when it is safe to go out. I would rather have had that doorway found by almost anybody excepting Shadow the Weasel than by Black Pussy. It isn't safe any more. No, sir; it isn't safe. I've got to give it up and make a new doorway. Oh, dear, what a bother!"

Having made up his mind that there is work to do Striped Chipmunk wastes no time. There isn't a lazy bone in him. Also he believes thoroughly that when a thing must be done the sooner it is done the better. So now he looked this way and looked that way and looked the other way to make sure that no one was watching him. Then he scurried through the grass over to his little round doorway in the middle of the path. Close beside it he sat up for a look around. He must decide where to make a new doorway.

About four feet away and between the path and the old stone wall was growing a big mullein plant. It was growing close to a stone that long, long ago had been a part of the old wall. Striped Chipmunk scampered over there. His eyes sparkled. He chuckled. Then without saying a word he whisked over to the old stone wall and close to it began to dig.

"I know that cat," said Striped Chipmunk, talking to himself.

My, how Striped Chipmunk made the sand fly! Whatever he does he does with all his might. He was soon out of sight in the new tunnel he was digging. The sand he pushed out at the entrance. It made a constantly growing little heap between two stones of the old wall. Once in a while Striped Chipmunk came out for a hasty look to see that all was going right.

After a lot of hard work he popped out where do you think? Why right between that big mullein plant and that stone. You might have walked past it a thousand times and not seen that little hole, for the leaves of the mullein hung over it and there was no tell-tale sand. All that had been taken out the other way. Striped Chipmunk rested a few minutes, then went to work again. From this new doorway he made a tunnel to join the tunnel to the doorway in the path. Then he carefully plugged up that tunnel from the point where it turned up to the entrance in the path to the place where it joined he new tunnel. Afterward he plugged up the entrance where he had thrown out the sand close to the old stone wall. Then he scampered down to his bedroom for a rest.

Child Training at Home

This Is One of a Series of Articles Issued by the National Kindergarten Association.

TEACHING THROUGH PLAY.

By MRS. C. W. SAVAGE.

IS there a kindergarten in your community?

No? Then why not practice kindergarten principles in your own home? I do not mean by this that you must sit down and devote every second for three hours to your children. But teach your child while you are about your work. Teach him through play.

Today play is considered a great factor in education. "Play is the expression of awakening instincts." Watch your little girl with her doll. The doll is her baby and she is its mother. Through this play she is developing the instinct of mother love. Watch your little boy playing store or fireman. He, too, is preparing for future manhood. Let us then teach through play.

It is an acknowledge fact that the kindergarten gives a child certain advantages, by cultivating self-confidence, the power of observation, originality of thought and other qualities.

Let us see if it is not possible for the mother to develop similar characteristics at home.

1. Self-confidence: If the child asks to help with the dishes, make the bed, or perform other little tasks, do not be too busy to listen to the request. Accept the offer of assistance with thanks, even if the work takes longer or needs to be done over. Remember this is one of the ways of developing self-confidence and helpfulness. Discouragement will not cultivate self-confidence.

2. Ability to memorize and think: Children love anything rhythmic, whether the words are understood or not. Repeat or sing nursery rhymes and jingles to the children. Soon they will be repeating and singing them after you. Find the time during the day to read or tell them stories. Every child loves a story, especially if acted out.

3. Love of nature: When out for walks teach the children about the trees, flowers and birds. Nature can be known and loved in the parks of the city, as well as in the woods and fields of the country. And reading nature stories supplements the first-hand knowledge the children are gaining, thus adding to their interest and appreciation.

4. Observation: This can be cultivated by giving a child magazines, calling his attention to the different pictures and pointing out every detail. Then as he studies for himself, not one thing in a picture, no matter how small, will escape his eye. And he will become observant not only of pictures, but of everything else about him.

5. Originality: With blocks, the sandpile or plasticine (the latter can be purchased at stores carrying school supplies), a child can be instructed in the making of various objects. Soon he will branch out for himself, doing really creative work.

6. Cleanliness and orderliness: A child should be commended for picking up his toys when he has finished his play, having it impressed upon him that these toys are his responsibility. If notice is taken of his clean face and hands before and after meals, then constant reminding will not be necessary. Kind and gentle appreciation is an inspiration. Fretful criticism disheartens.

Stories Told by the Great Teacher

By Rev. Thomas B. Gregory

The Children of the Market Place.

THE story of the "Children in the Market-Place"—Luke, vii: 31, 35—is full of the sharpest sarcasm, nor is the sarcasm a grain the less effective for the wit with which the shafts are tipped.

The story proves beyond a doubt that the Great Teacher was not devoid of HUMOR and could appreciate a FUNNY situation as well as the next one.

Children are the same the world over and the ages through, and in Palestine, 2000 years ago, the little folk were just what they are today in America—great imitators of the older folk, and in their playing very serious and matter-of-fact. To the children their playing is not playing, but is as real as the doings of the grown-ups are to them.

And so one day the Great Teacher noticed a bevy of children playing "Wedding" and "Funeral" in the Market Place. Things did not go as the musicians thought they ought to, and they cried out to the audience, "We piped to you and you forgot to dance; and then we wailed to you, and you forgot to weep."

Taking the action of the children as His text the Master applied it to the equally ridiculous actions of His adult contemporaries, even the men and women who stood before Him.

"John the Baptist comes eating no bread nor drinking wine, and you say he hath a devil. The Son of Man is come eating and drinking, and you say, 'Behold! a gluttonous man and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners.'"

In brief, you are like the children in the Market Place. You are without judgment and without seriousness. Most of the time you are triflers, and when you try to be serious it turns out that you are either unfit or unwilling to determine the right from the wrong, the true from the false.

And the situation today is no better than it was when our story was told. It is just as true today as it was then, that "all the world's a stage, and all the Men and Women merely PLAYERS."

The "men and women" are but "children of a larger growth," either unable to reason or quite indifferent to the truths that reasoning helps us to; the almost hopeless slaves of prejudice, shouting now for this and now for that, according to the passing whim or prejudice.

To be real serious for just a week, and for that week to sincerely and earnestly search for the truth, would inevitably result in the smashing of most of our Thought Systems, together with the practices that have grown out of them.

The thing we call History is largely the story of the children PLAYING in the Market Place.

Few and far between are the ADULTS that have figured in History, and nearly all of those who came were killed off.

But now and then one survived to do a little real thinking and to hand over the result of his thinking to his isolated successors; and in this way there has come about the slight improvement in human Society which may some day be coextensive with Humanity.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

ANTIQUES.

Our table's legs are somewhat bowed,
It's run down at the heels,
It droops and sags beneath its load
When friends drop in for meals.
It waves and wobbles to and fro,
With many a groan and creak,
And yet it's comforting to know
That it is an antique.

The sideboard's been restored—with glue
It's seven panels shy,
The drawers and cupboards are askew
The cover is awry.
The worms have gnawed at its inside,
It's carpeted with mould,
And yet we look on it with pride
It's ninety-eight years old.

Whenever there are callers here
We sit in grim despair
The awful evening through for fear
They'll sit in our arm chair.
If fat men come we never cease
To shudder in our shoes,
For Heppelwhite designed that piece
To look at, not to use.

Some day, when we are rich enough
The simple life to lead,
When we don't have to run a bluff
We'll buy the things we need.
When we can drop all forms of bunk
And feel that we're secure,
We'll scrap this second-handed junk
And get some furniture!

EASILY SATISFIED.

The curious thing about Congressmen is that they never ask to have their terms shortened for good behavior.

IMPOSSIBLE.

What a fine thing it would be if we could build a battleship so quickly that it wouldn't be out of date by the time it is ready for launching.

AND SUCH BOOKS!

It was not Mr. Wilson who said: "Oh that mine enemy would write a book!" But all of 'em have!

GOING TOO FAR.

Religious people will hardly approve of popularizing churches by having their decorations compete with the comic supplements.

HE'LL NEED IT SOON.

We hope the New York trolley company that used to employ Trotzky is holding his place open for him.

A WAVE OF REMORSE.

The world is getting better. A billion grasshoppers, after ravaging Canada, became conscience stricken and drowned themselves in the St. Lawrence.

ALWAYS SOMETHING.

Now there is plenty of coal it is the cost of storing the surplus that has put up the price.

THERE'LL COME A TIME.

To Mr. Dempsey, who mourns because there is no one capable of giving him a battle, we would say, "Sorrow endureth but for a night; joy cometh in the morning."

SAME THING.

Some people wear out their cars, others have it done in garages.

HARD LUCK.

Crooked ball players couldn't get back into the game, and both the burgling and pickpocket professions are already overcrowded.

BUT THEY WON'T.

It is to be hoped that the Washington hotel keepers will temper their charges to the representatives of debt burdened Europe.
